HICKMAN WAITS CALL OF DEATH

Slayer Asks for Flowers in Condemned Cell

Last Letter from Mother Read Eagerly

Will Meet Fate Like Man, He Writes Beitzel

morbid followers of crime and criminals; some defamatory, others laudatory.

One, according to the warden, was from his mother and seemingly blasted all hope of another meeting between the two. It was the only one upon which Warden Holohan would comment.

READS IT EAGERLY

"The letter from his mother was read eagerly," he said. "He seemed to receive the greatest consolation from it. Mrs. Hickman wrote words of comfort to her son and expressed her regret at not being able to bid him farewell. He read it several times."

One of the letters Hickman wrote was to Russell St. Clair Beitzel, Los Angeles murderer, who shared Hickman's cell during his last week of life.

"I'm very comfortable up here, Russ," wrote one killer to the other. "I'm not a bit frightened either. Tomorrow I'm going to walk up like a man. Say good-by to all my friends for me and tell them I'll see them soon."

He breakfasted on fruit, scrambled eggs, coffee and rolls. Some described it as a hearty meal, others as a light meal. If prison report regarding his usual capacity for food while on death row is correct, it was less than his average meal.

ASKS FOR FLOWERS

Informed that any reasonable request would be granted in accordance with regulations governing the condemned, he asked first for the phonograph and then for a bouquet of flowers. Both pleas were granted.

At luncheon he ate slowly of sliced peaches with cream, bread and butter.

Father Fleming of St. Raphael Church visited with him for a spiritual conference from 6 to 9 p.m., the priest sitting just outside the death cage in the larger, steel-sheiled room on the third floor of the old shops building.

The pastor from the parish in San Rafael will be the first and last visitor Hickman has in the morning prior to the coming of the guards for the gallows march. Hickman will be given the last rites of the faith he has embraced as the priest stands alongside him on the scaffold platform.

HICKMAN WRITES REGRETS TO TWO OREGON CAPTORS

PENDLETON (Or.) Oct. 18. (AP)—William Edward Hickman, condemned slayer of Marion Parker, in a letter penned in his cell last Sunday and received today by Tom Gurdane and "Buck Lieuallen, his captors, said:

"I am most sorry to have pretended insanity in your jail."

Hickman, who was caught near here last December while fleeing from Los Angeles, referred to an outburst he indulged in just after the arrival of Los Angeles officers. Continuing, he said: "That was as great a sin as killing the little child, for which I am also heartily sorry."

VOICE OF PAST TO GO ON AIR

First Phonograph Record Slated for Broadcast as Edison Tribute

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP) Radio listeners may hear the first human voice ever to be recorded on a phonographic instrument at the ceremonies Saturday night at West Orange, N. J., when Thomas A. Edison will receive a medal awarded him by Congress.

The British charge d'affaires, Ronald I. Campbell, is to formally return to Mr. Edison, on behalf of the British government, the first phonograph and the first record produced by the inventor. After a brief response to addresses by President Coolidge, delivered from Washington over the radio, by Secretary Mellon, who will present the medal, and others, an attempt will be made to broadcast a record from the machine.

facturing corporations, as well as different types of mercantile companies, probably will share in this relief to some extent.

Agricultural, water and publishing corporations are granted no concessions other than the rebate on Federal income taxes paid.

No figures are available upon the amount the State will receive from the new income tax in the light of these recent concessions. It has been stated that only $1,000,000 additional is desired from the mercantile, manufacturing and business corporations of the State to make up the loss from the revised bank taxes, inasmuch as the finance companies are expected to contribute $2,000,000 of the loss.

Noted Singer's Son Convicted of Grand Theft

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 18. (AP)—Henry Schumann Heink, son of Mme. Ernestine Schumann Heink, noted contralto, was declared guilty of grand theft by a jury this afternoon. He was accused of having taken securities deposited with his stock and bond firm and using them as security for a personal loan.

Date for sentence was set for next Monday. Bail of $10,000 under which Schumann Heink had been at liberty was increased to $15,000.

Notice of application for a new trial was given by the broker's attorneys.

against 233,555 former Democrats who now are for Hoover.

"The shift of former Republicans, several authorities agree, means merely that Democrats who voted for Coolidge in 1924 are now returning to their home camp, but the fact remains, of course, that there has been a switch since 1924."

"DIGEST" EDITOR DEFENDS POLL ACCURACY

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (Exclusive) William Seaver Woods, editor of the Literary Digest, came to the defense of the Digest's Presidential poll in a statement today, following an attack upon the 1924 figures by Prof. Fabian Franklin.

Mr. Woods pointed out that the 1924 poll forecast exactly the number of States for Coolidge, Davis and La Follette, with the exception of the States which contrarily went Democratic and Republican instead of as predicted. The editor said that Prof. Franklin selected five States where the poll was more or less out of the way, but that the final results showed that in three States the poll came within 1 per cent of forecasting the actual vote for Coolidge and six States in which it forecast as accurately for Davis and La Follette.

Mr. Woods cited States in which the error was less than 3 per cent and said that the 1924 poll was close in many Southern and Northwestern States now considered doubtful.

He denied that the poll was "grossly unrepresentative" and asserted that though Mr. Davis polled a larger vote than the poll indicated it should be recalled that in the closing weeks of the 1924 campaign there was a large shift from La Follette to Davis.

"If Gov. Smith enjoys the same increase," he said, "it is then argued that he will carry some half-dozen of the large Eastern States and win the election. This is, of course, perfectly possible.

"It is entirely likely that many thousands who marked straw votes for La Follette cast their votes for Davis. If there should be evidence of any such wholesale shift from camp to camp this year, readers should take it into account and modify their reckoning from our poll figures accordingly."

BORAH ACCEPTS ROBINSON GAGE

Senator Fires Questions at Democratic Nominee

Dry Stand, Tariff and Power Attitude Challenged

Idahoan Asks if Arkansan Believes Smith Speeches

CHATTANOOGA (Tenn.) Oct. 18. (AP)—Senator Borah of Idaho tonight accepted the gage of political battle thrown down by Senator Robinson, the Democratic Vice-Presidential candidate.

Taking up the challenge of the Democratic nominee, made in a campaign speech at Boise, Idaho, to compare their respective records in the Senate with their positions in the present campaign, Senator Borah in a speech at the Chattanooga Memorial Auditorium charged Senator Robinson with having taken opposite positions in his Congressional career on water power, prohibition and the tariff to the stands of his party's standard bearer, Gov. Smith.

ROBINSON CHALLENGED

"One thing is absolutely certain," Senator Borah declared, "that he (Robinson) either has reversed himself completely upon every important question in this campaign or that he is in open opposition to things he is really talking."

The Idaho Senator said that the Democratic Vice-Presidential nominee had "voted for the defeat of the Walsh power trust investigation resolution" in the last Congress, while he (Borah) was paired in favor of it. Gov. Smith in his Denver and Nashville speeches denounced the "power trust," he added, and had advocated public ownership of electrical power.

Senator Robinson also opposed the protective tariff system, the Idahoa ncontinued, and in the passage of the 1921 emergency tariff bill voted against "placing duties upon farm products and was opposed to giving the farmers any protection whatever."

Gov. Smith, Borah declared, "in his Louisville speech, denounced those who he said had failed to extend protection to the American farmer under the protective tariff system."

DRY STAND QUERY

"Gov. Smith is for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment," Senator Borah said, "and for public ownership of the liquor traffic—of the manufacture and sale of liquor by the States. I ask Senator Robinson to tell the country whether he is in favor of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and the public manufacture, sale and transportation of intoxicating liquor by the States.

"I ask him to tell the country, if he is elected Vice-President, will he use the influence of his position and his influence as a leader in his party to assist Gov. Smith in bringing about the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and his plan of public ownership; or will he oppose it.

REMEDIES OUTLINED

"In other words, what is the present position of the second candidate on the Democratic ticket with reference to the investigation of the 'power trust,' with reference to the public ownership of power plants; with reference to free trade for the farmer; with reference to the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment; with reference to public ownership and control of the liquor traffic."

Besides his reply to Senator Robinson the Idaho Senator discussed in his speech here the prohibition and immigration views of Gov. Smith and outlined Hoover's proposed remedies for the nation's farming problems.

Senator Borah left after the address for Louisville, Ky., where he will deliver tomorrow night his fifth address of this campaign trip, probably replying to Gov. Smith's tariff position. The Democratic Presidential nominee discussed the tariff at the Kentucky city last Saturday.

McADOO AIDE ACTIVE

At tonight's meeting Senator Borah was introduced by George Fort Milton, editor of the Chattanooga News, who was manager for William G. McAdoo in the 1924 Democratic preconvention campaign.

Declaring that "for many Democrats, myself among the number, this present campaign has not been a happy one," Mr. Milton said. "It is not vastly unlike a campaign of Manhattan Island versus the United States."

The first heckling during Senator Borah's campaign trip through the South occurred while Milton excoriated Tammany Hall as "a sinister political force."

"Play fair, never mind the mud," the heckler cried, when Milton said the late Champ Clark failed to get the 1912 Democratic Presidential nomination because of his Tammany support.

"This year is not sixteen years ago," the heckler continued.

HECKLER EJECTED

"Put him out," rose from nearly every section of the hall and the heckler was ejected, although Mr. Milton said: "Let him have his say."

Milton assailed Gov. Smith for his "repudiation" of the Houston convention prohibition plank and for the selection of John J. Raskob as head of the Democratic National Committee.

He declared that Hoover and Senator Borah are more sympathetic and closer to the interests of the South than the "heirs" of Tammany Hall "graft."

"I do not profess to regularity," Senator Borah said at the outset of his speech in answering charges by local Democratic organizations.

"But I am regular at this time because of the presence of Tammany Hall in this campaign," he added.

WALSH'S NAME APPLAUDED

In an attack on Senator Robinson's opposition to the power investigation, Senator Borah's mention of the name of Senator Walsh of Montana brought applause from the audience.

"You do well to cheer him (Walsh)" said Borah.

Following his reply to the Democratic Vice-Presidential nominee, the Senator replied to a number of questions submitted by the Hamilton county Democratic campaign committee.

He declared that a query, "why is Hoover wet in the East and dry in the South", was a "falsehood."

"Wherever the American flag flies in this land," he added, "Hoover will stand to the last against the repeal of the prohibition amendment and will do his utmost to enforce the law."

He said that Hoover knew there were "evils in the enforcement," but "everyone knows most of them are in New York."

Senator Borah assailed Tammany Hall and Gov. Smith's affiliation with the organization. The Idahoan declared that Tammany Hall had "debauched New York with its rule of that city."

"To move Tammany Hall from New York to Washington," he added, "would be a national disaster."

RUM CONTROL DISCUSSED

The Senator declared that liquor control by States had not proven successful. He cited his own State of Idaho, which was dry before national prohibition but "was pestered by its neighboring wet States."

The Senator also said that the Canadian system of liquor control "had not led to sobriety and temperance."

"The sixth of November will record the view of the American people," he concluded, "in a referendum on the liquor issue in the Presidential contest. If Hoover is defeated, the control of the liquor traffic will be set back a quarter-century."

"The American people, however," he said, "will do as three great Presidents have done and select him to administer their affairs for the next four years."

BORAH ADDS DATE TO SPEAKING TOUR

CHATTANOOGA (Tenn.) Oct. 18. (AP)—Senator William E. Borah, who is campaigning for Herbert Hoover, announced today that he had added another speaking engagement to his present trip at Joplin, Mo., on the 24th inst. He will go to Joplin after he concludes his address at Dallas, Tex., Monday night.

SLAYER OF TWO FASCISTI DIES

Rites of Church Refused by Communist

Military Procedure Marks End of Killer

Penalty of Death First Exacted Since 1860

LUCCA (Italy) Oct. 18. (AP)—Michele Della Maggiore, a Communist convicted of assassinating two Fascisti, was executed this morning behind the Ponte Buggianese Cemetery.

Maggiore is the first person to be condemned to death in Italy since 1860. His execution was in the form usually reserved for military offenders or war-time traitors.

Della Maggiore was bound to a chair. A platoon of twelve Fascist militiamen fired and killed him outright.

To the end the condemned man refused the last rites of the church which a priest stood ready to administer.

The Communist had confessed to the special tribunal for the defense of the state that he killed the Fascists because of their politics.

Della Maggiore was awakened at 4:30 a.m. and told to dress. He appeared to be unimpressed by the order, although he knew what the summons meant.

Two automobiles filled with carbinieri appeared at 5 a.m. and took the condemned man and his guards to Ponte Buggianese. There 600 men of the Ninety-fourth Fascist Legion, which is known as "the faithful," were drawn up under command of Consul Carlo Pirelli.

The chief of the carbinieri turned over the prisoner to the Consul, who had him blindfolded and bound to a chair.

The condemned man did not utter a word during his trip to the place of execution. When the command to fire was given at 6:25 a.m. he shouted something, but the volley drowned it out.

Runnymede EGGS

in Ever-Increasing Popularity!

The demand for Runnymede eggs is growing daily, and they command top market prices. Housewives prefer them on account of their freshness and fine quality. Dealers like to handle them because they sell readily.

Runnymede eggs are the product of the world's largest poultry farm and reach the dealers fresh and wholesome. They are produced by individually owned flocks of hens, housed in the big Runnymede central plant, and each owner profits from his own flock without work or worry. The eggs are sold for cash and owners receive profits monthly as earned.

The success of the Runnymede Income Plan is attributed to its basic principle of land ownership, for there is a substantial estate back of every dollar invested by Runnymede owners. The Runnymede purpose is to provide security that shows steady appreciation and a constant increase in your capital.

Advancing Values

Year by year, your Runnymede investment is backed by increasing land values; land that is situated in the very heart of the fertile San Fernando Valley, where the second million of Los Angeles' population will live, and where industry is maintaining a firm stand. Furthermore, land values at Runnymede are insured by a legal reserve insurance company, thus affording additional unique protection to the investor.

Hundreds of satisfied Runnymeders are making money on their investments and creating a heritage for posterity through their Runnymede holdings. This same profit opportunity is open to you.

Visit Runnymede and see more than 150,000 White Leghorn hens at work for their owners, or mail the coupon and receive handsome illustrated folder, giving full details of the Runnymede Income plan, all to be sent you.

Dirigible Hopes to Take to Air Early Next Week

Many Midwest Towns Bid for Visit of Giant Craft

Conference on Trans-Atlantic Air-Line Dream Held

LAKEHURST (N. J.) Oct. 18. (AP) Repairs were being rushed on the damaged fin of the trans-Atlantic dirigible Graf Zeppelin today so that the great ship may take the air early next week for a two-day flight into the Middle West.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the dirigible, spent the day here and received many letters from Midwest cities requesting that the ship fly above them.

Hans Von Schiller, navigator of the Zeppelin, answered these letters, saying that the itinerary of the trip had not been definitely determined, but that the ship would pass over as many cities as possible, to enable the greatest possible number of people to see it.

MAY TIE UP AT FORD'S MAST

It is fairly definite that the ship will pass over Akron, O., home of the Goodyear-Zeppelin Company, American representatives of the German Zeppelin Works, and Detroit, where it is likely the ship will tie up at the Ford airport mooring mast. The flight may continue as far west as Chicago.

There was a conference here today of persons it was understood might be interested in Dr. Eckener's dream of a $14,000,000 trans-Atlantic airship service, but Dr. Eckener himself did not attend it, being represented by Hugh Allen of the Goodyear-Zeppelin Company.

Tonight's program for the visiting airmen called for a dinner tendered by the city of Philadelphia, and tomorrow there will be a trip to Washington.

After the Midwest flight the ship will be refueled and start back for Germany, probably at the end of next week, carrying an as yet unannounced number of passengers.

The greatest secrecy was maintained as to the identity of the men who came here today with Dr. Eckener to inspect the Graf Zeppelin and who later held a conference behind closed doors, but it is learned that one of them is William B. Mayo, chief engineer of the Ford Motor Company. Mr. Mayo's presence was revealed by J. B. Hunsacher, vice-president of the Goodyear-Zeppelin Company, who, however, declined to say who the other men were.

Mr. Hunsacher said the meeting was "purely social." He added that when the Zeppelin leaves for the Midwest next week it will carry only invited passengers who will pay no fare.

Dr. Eckener said today that if it still looks tomorrow as if the repairs to the dirigible will take until Monday or Tuesday, as some officers here believe, he will go from Washington to Chicago by train after being received by President Coolidge.

SHORT-WAVE AIR TEST CALLED SUCCESS

BERLIN, Oct. 18. (AP)—The Federal aeronautics testing station at Adlershof, near Berlin, announced today that radio experiments on a short wave length with the Graf Zeppelin proved eminently successful.

Long after the giant dirigible was out of reach of the German long-wave station Adlershof still was able to communicate with the dirigible. It is stated that the short wave appears especially desirable as a protection in case of a mishap, as it is possible to supply a short-wave transmitter with dry batteries.

The Adlershof station said that it recognizes that for years to come the long-wave apparatus must be used chiefly, since airships must communicate with small islands and steamship stations for weather reports and other information, but in case of trouble the short-wave apparatus can immediately communicate with large stations which then can relay the necessary information to steamers and small stations.

succeed, Mr. Thelen had prepared the papers necessary to perfect an appeal and these were filed this afternoon with the Court of Appeals, which may take the case up any time after the constitutional thirty-day period allowed opposing counsel to file briefs. The Court of Appeals is made up of Chief Justice George E. Martin, and Associate Justices Charles H. Robb and Josiah T. Van Orsdel.

In lending his co-operation to the move to expedite the case, Justice Hitz told attorneys at the counsel table that in his opinion the Court of Appeals will act early enough so that the case may be taken to the United States Supreme Court the same time as the case now pending in the California Supreme Court and representing another attempt of the California Railroad Commission to compel the railroads to obey its order for construction of the union terminal.

It is the hope of attorneys for the city of Los Angeles and the Interstate Commerce Commission that the two cases will reach the Supreme Court at about the same time so that the court may consider them jointly. The California case is set for argument at an early date

STEPHENS SAYS WAY CLEAR TO HASTEN FINAL DECISION

City Attorney Stephens yesterday received a telegram from Washington from Max Thelen, the city's special assistant to the City Attorney, expressing satisfaction over the failure of the railroads to obtain permission to intervene in the Plaza union depot case in the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

City Attorney Stephens expressed satisfaction over the rapidity with which the Plaza case proceedings are moving in Washington and also with the court's decision against the railroads being permitted to intervene in the city's case.

"The Washington decision," said the City Attorney, "leaves the city in a most advantageous position. We are left alone without the interference of the railroads on the affirmative side of this depot proposition and are in a position to press our case for an early hearing and decision by the Supreme Court."

BANKER DEAD IN AIR CRASH

Seven Others Injured in Eastern Plane Mishap; Five Delegates to Financiers' Meeting

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 18. (AP)—W. O. Chanute of Bosworth, Chanute & Louchridge, bankers of Denver, died in a hospital here tonight of injuries suffered in an airplane crash this afternoon. Seven others were injured.

Five of them were delegates to the Investment Bankers' Association convention here.

The plane, a sister ship of the trans-Atlantic monoplane Bremen, was piloted by George King, who had brought it down from a flying field on Long Island. It had sped back and forth over the city and turned westward toward the mainland over a broad stretch of meadow when the crash came.

A railroad freight train was commandeered to take the men to the station here, where ambulances conveyed them to the hospital. The only conscious man was Alden H. Little of Chicago, executive vice-president of the Investment Bankers' Association of America.

STORY OF CRASH

Mr. Little said that with his associates he had gone on a flight to view the resort from the air and after flying about over the city the plane suddenly went into a nose-dive, crashing to the ground. Because of the inaccessibility of the spot where it crashed, aid was delayed in reaching the men. The plane was wrecked, its nose buried in the ground.

Those injured are:

Thomas M. Dysart of Knight, Dysart and Gamble, St. Louis, one of the backers of Col. Lindbergh's trans-Atlantic flight, fractured right rib and shock.

Alden H. Little, executive vice-president, Investment Bankers' Association of America, Chicago, shock.

PILOTS VICTIMS

veering strongly toward the Hoover column.

"While our people have been generous to Gov. Smith as a local administrator we appreciate probably more than any other State in the Union the wide difference between the Governorship of a single State and the Presidency of the United States," he said.

"It is no reflection on Mr. Smith as Governor of New York to say that Mr. Hoover is so far better qualified by his national and world-wide experience to administer the office of President than Gov. Smith that there should be little difficulty on the part of any citizen to determine his course in this election," he added.

The group from the Steuben Society told the nominee that since a committee from that organization was reported to have recommended the candidacy of the New York Governor, "We have felt it our duty as members of this society to come here and say to you that we believe that this action in no sense represents the feeling of a vast majority of our members."

"You and your advisers have already been informed of the circumstances attending the origin of this pronouncement," they added. "We have received by telegrams, letters and telephone numerous repudiations of and protests against the declaration purporting to appear on behalf of the general membership of the Steuben Society. We know that the members of the Steuben Society are profoundly grateful for the great relief work you did for Germany and Austria and their starving women and children after the signing of the armistice, and we are glad of this opportunity personally to assure you of the deep appreciation of your fellow-citizens of German race and antecedents and trust that you will receive the indorsement of the nation on November 6."

Tomorrow the nominee will be visited by officers of the Grap Zeppelin after their breakfast at the White House. Among these callers will be Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the craft; Albert Grasinsky, Prussian Minister of Interior; Count Brandenstein Zeppelin, son-in-law of the late Count Zeppelin; Capt. Ernst Lehmann, first officer of the Graf Zeppelin; Dr. Rudolph Benkendorf, chief of the aeronautics division of the German republic, and Knute Eckener, son of the commander.

THE HISTORY OF TAMMANY

the city's expense. He was as dignified in his bearing as an undertaker, as well dressed as the Prince of Wales—but the popular nickname for him was "Red Mike." Nor did this nickname betoken affection, for it was given derisively. But because he did Hearst's and Murphy's bidding to the end the boss was for him for a third term.

But Charles Francis Murphy died in 1924; Gov. Smith became the dominant factor in Tammany Hall and Hylan was ignominiously ousted.

Smith in 1922 had taken the gubernatorial nomination again largely to keep Hearst from being nominated, and also had kept Hearst off the ticket as a candidate for Senator by telling every delegate to the Democratic State convention with whom he came in contact that he "would not run on the same ticket with a ——." This is said to have secretly delighted Murphy, who had been anxious to break with Hearst, but feared to do so.

PALESTINE OUTRAGES BRING MOURNING DAY

JERUSALEM, Oct. 18. (AP) — The chief rabbi of Palestine, Abraham Hakchen Kock, proclaims for next Monday a period of general fasting and mourning by the Jews on account of the "outrages" which occurred on the day of atonement at the wailing wall, the holiest place in the world of Jewry. On that day Anglo-Arab police interfered with the observances and attacked the Jews.

HOW 603 OLD MEN LOOK UPON "RE-JUVENATION"

Freedom From Suffering Their Chief Aim

Dr. Clayton E. Wheeler

During the past year a special record of this group—603 men 60 years of age and upward—it is interesting to note that less than 10% wished to live to an age of 100 without the assurance of more energy and vitality than anyone ever is known to have shown at that age in modern times.

Their chief desire was a guarantee to be free of the diseases common in "old age;" to spend their closing days in physical peace and comfort.

DR. WHEELER'S POSITION MADE CLEAR

Dr. Wheeler in his many articles and treatises has stated that "rejuvenation" in his opinion is the fullest degree of health consistent at the age of the individual, be it 21 or 100 years of age. That this is only possible when the ductless glands of the human organism are functioning normally. That his more than 15,000 gland operations during the past several years have demonstrated this beyond question.

Indiana Anti-Saloon League Official to Serve Term

Court Fight Against Sixty Days' Sentence Dropped

Insufficient Funds Cause Change in Plans

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 12. (AP)—Dr. W. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League, today abandoned his efforts to escape the sixty-day sentence on the State penal farm imposed on him for contempt of the Indiana Supreme Court.

Ethan A. Miles and James Bingham, attorneys for Dr. Shumaker, presented to the Supreme Court a withdrawal of their motion for a new trial on the motion for a rehearing of the case. The Supreme Court granted the withdrawal, thus sweeping away all legal technicalities and paving the way for the immediate issuance of commitment papers which would authorize Mr. Shumaker to begin serving his sentence immediately.

The Anti-Saloon League superintendent awaited in his office the arrival of the Sheriff with the commitment papers.

ALSO FINED

In addition to the penal farm sentence Dr. Shumaker was fined $200 on the contempt charge. The contempt case was brought by Arthur Gilliom, Attorney-General of Indiana, and was based on statements in the annual report of the Anti-Saloon League charging that certain justices of the Supreme Court were prejudiced in their decisions on liquor cases.

Dr. Shumaker previously had indicated that an appeal would be taken to the United States Supreme Court, but the action today apparently put an end to that plan.

Insufficient funds, a statement issued by the headquarters committee of the Anti-Saloon League said, motivated in part the decision to discontinue the fight against the sentence. Doubt was also expressed as to whether the United States Supreme Court would accept the case. The statement continued:

FIGHT FOR HOME

"This is not our cause alone nor is it Dr. Shumaker's cause. It is the cause of the people. The fight is for decency, sobriety and law enforcement. It is a fight for home, church and country. Surely those who believe in the principles for which Mr. Shumaker has given the best years of his life will not allow this cause to suffer.

"We cannot close this statement without expressing our conviction that a gross injustice, not to say cruelty, has been inflicted on an innocent man."

The statement was signed by Rev. C. H. Winders, chairman; E. B. Hostetter, secretary, and the six other members of the headquarters committee.

In finding Dr. Shumaker guilty the Supreme Court divided three to two.

Dr. Shumaker cleared his desk and completed his preparations for departure. He said he would take only a few personal belongings, including his well-worn Bible that for years has had a place in his office.

Atlantic Flyer Finishes Long Tour to Tokio

TOKIO, Oct. 12. (AP)—Reaching the goal of his flight from Berlin toda, Baron von Huenefeld, the German trans-Atlantic flyer, was compelled to make a forced landing a little distance out of Tokio. He had made a nonstop flight from Shanghai as the last leg of his long trip.

The flyer encountered a driving rain in the Tokio district which obliterated landmarks. He was unable to locate the Tatrhikawa army airfield, twenty miles to the west of Tokio, where he was expected.

After flying over the capital and facing a fuel shortage, he landed at 2:30 p.m. near Kawasaki, ten miles to the south of Tokio.

The local police, who constituted the only reception committee, said that the machine came down out of control and that its occupants had a lucky escape from serious injury.

Californian Gets Norway Honors

OSLO (Norway) Oct. 12. (AP)—King Haakon of Norway today conferred the Chevalier Cross of the Order of St. Olav upon Miss Louise Boyd of San Rafael, Cal., who several months ago placed the whaler Hobby, which she had engaged for a hunting trip, at the disposal of the search expedition for Roald Amundsen. Miss Boyd personally participated in the search.

The King at a luncheon in Miss Boyd's honor made a short speech praising her act. The guests included Premier Mowinckel, Laurits S. Swenson, American Minister to Norway, and the Norwegian airmen who assisted in the fruitless search.

The junior championship went to King Bessie Ormsby Pietertje, 18 months of age, also the property of Elmwood farm.

STORM DRIVES HALIBUT FLEET BACK TO PORT

SEWARD (Alaska) Oct. 12. (AP)—A southeast storm that swept the seas from the mouth of Resurrection Bay to the westward of Kodiak has driven practically all the halibut fleet from the banks and nearly brought disaster to several, it was learned today, when two crippled vessels limped into port.

VERACITY URGED IN BOND TITLES

Investment Bankers Fight Misleading Names

Renewed Faith in Farm Loan Board Predicted

Treasury Praised in Work on Liberty Loan

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 12. (AP)—The Investment Bankers' Association of America, in convention here, today went on record as being opposed to the use of any form of title for an issue of bonds or notes which carried any misleading inference or suggestion as to the character, lien or priority of the issue involved.

The same resolution authorized the appointment of committees "to take such action that may be practical to induce observance by members and others engaged in the issuance and sale of securities."

Restored confidence in the Farm Loan Board was predicted by Arthur H. Gilbert of Chicago, chairman of the government and farm-loan bonds committee.

ATTITUDE CONSTRUCTIVE

"Two things," he said, "have been emphasized during the last few years. First, that the Farm Loan Board is taking a much more constructive attitude toward the activities of the joint stock land banks. Secondly, the joint stock land banks thoroughly realize that they are to be judged only by their own management ability and its results.

"This leads us to conclude that the last year has effected such readjustment that the investing public soon will feel confident in the efficiency of the control of the Farm Loan Board."

According to Gilbert, the principal event in government finance during the last year has been the redemption of the Liberty Loan bonds.

TREASURY WORK PRAISED

"It seems wise," he said, "that the Treasury Department, in its issue of notes, has adopted a policy of accepting the money rates as dictated by the conditions of the country. It is better to have the Treasury adapt itself to the going rates for money, rather than to encourage operations by which the money rates are cut low in order to permit Treasury financing at cheaper interest rates."

In his report of the irrigation securities committee, Canton O'Donnell of Denver declared that there is probably no one class of securities in which so much loss and disaster has been experienced during the last five years as in irrigation district bonds. He explained, however, that a large part of the trouble is due "to the general unfavorable situation which appears to have affected agriculture throughout the country."

Only Toral and Nun to be Tried

EL PASO (Tex.) Oct. 12. (AP)—A dispatch to El Continental from Mexico City today quotes an announcement by Juan Correa Neito, general attorney for the Federal district, that he will prosecute only Jose De Leon Toral and Mother Concepcion De la Llata for the assassination of President-elect Alvaro Obregon.

This will be in accord with a resolution of the Supreme Court of Justice for the district, which ruled that only Toral and the nun should be held to answer for the crime, thus acquitting all the other defendants.

Toral will be given a public trial at one of the largest theaters in the Mexican capital next month.

New Riviera Spy Story Printed

NICE (France) Oct. 12. (AP)—Prominence is given to another Riviera spy story by the newspaper Le Petit Nicois, which asserts that the police have arrested two Italians, one of whom confessed to espionage in behalf of "a neighboring country." Incriminating papers are declared to have been discovered in the other's apartment.

The newspaper says that Ugo Montefiori, who was arrested at Marseilles the 8th inst., has made a full confession and that because of his statements an architect, Luigi Sandini, was taken into custody. Important papers were found in his home.

EPISCOPALIANS KEEP ARTICLES

Interpretation of Doctrine Won't Be Revised

House of Bishops Nullifies Move Begun in 1925

Repudiation of Temperance Society Sought

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—The thirty-nine articles of religion included in the book of common prayer of the Protestant Episcopal Church will remain an interpretation of church doctrine as the result of action taken today by the house of bishops of the church in general convention here.

On motion of Bishop Charles L. Slattery of Massachusetts, chairman of the joint commission of prayer-book revision, consideration of the articles was postponed indefinitely. This nullifies the action of the 1925 convention which recommended deletion of the articles, as a favorable vote on the proposal must have been taken by both bishops and deputies in two successive conventions to effect the change.

LANGUAGE IN DISPUTE

The articles, in the opinion of many church leaders, are couched by antiquated language and voice sentiments which many members of the church believe to be archaic.

A resolution bearing 33,000 signatures asking retention of the articles was presented to the convention by Bishop Eugene Seaman of North Texas last week. It was introduced by title only, and referred to the commission. Action postponing consideration of the subject prevented what was expected to have been one of the most spirited sessions of the convention.

A resolution that the church "should not as a corporate body enter into the political arena to promote by legislative actions, specific economic or partisan measures," introduced by George Zabriskie, lay delegate from New York City, was tabled in the House of Deputies.

MOTION TABLED

Mr. Zabriskie said the resolution was intended merely to put the church on record favoring separation of church and State, but Rev. Henry Hobson of the Western Massachusetts diocese said it "imputed to the House of Deputies the likelihood of an intention to do something which the House would not contemplate doing." His motion to table it was passed with a rising vote amid applause.

Repudiation of the Church Temperance Society was sought in a resolution introduced by Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, bishop of Washington, D. C. This society recently published a survey tending to show that a majority of the Episcopal clergy is opposed to the prohibition act.

Bishop Freeman's resolution, which was referred to the commission on social service, asked that the church term the body without "official standing" in the church.

BISHOPS GIVEN LEEWAY

The bishops passed a resolution reported by the committee on lectionary which allows ministers the liberty to choose their epistles and gospels on special occasions instead of following prescribed Scriptural lessons.

The Sunday of November 18 was set aside by the bishops as "Porto Rico-South Florida rebuilding day," and the clergy are asked to take an offering on this day to be used for rebuilding church property destroyed in the recent West Indies hurricane.

Rt. Rev. Charles B. Colmore, bishop of Porto Rico, reported that church buildings in Porto Rico, Florida and the Virgin Islands sustained damage of approximately $200,000.

Last Man's Club Now Reduced to Lone Survivor

ASHLAND (Wis.) Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—The famous Last Man's Club of Company C, Eighth Minnesota Infantry, now has thinned down to its last member. John Blake, 85 years of age, Civil War veteran, died today, leaving Horace Voligny of Stillwater, Minn., the sole survivor. Blake and Voligny drank a bottle of wine a year ago, which had been preserved by the company for the last two living veterans.

The bottle and the flag under which it was drunk now are in the Minnesota Historical Society quarters.

Fuel Tank Hints Disaster Clew

OSLO (Norway) Oct. 18. (AP)—Careful inspection of a fuel tank picked up by the motorboat Kelf at Waldersund has revealed two lines written in pencil. The writing, however, is almost illegible because of the action of the sea.

Only the words "Accie . . . 20x1" could be deciphered. It is believed that the word "Accie" might stand for the French equivalent for accident and that the figures might represent the position of the French Latham plane in which Roald Amundsen and five companions are thought to have perished.

The tank was dented, but otherwise was in good condition. It still held thirty litres of gasoline.

KANSAS GOVERNOR PAROLES RICHARDSON

TOPEKA (Kan.) Oct. 18. (AP)—John N. Richardson, former president of the American State Bank of Wichita, whose nine to forty-five-year sentence in connection with the bank's failure five years ago, was commuted to one to five years recently, today was paroled by Gov. Paulen. The former banker, who has been at liberty under a temporary parole since his sentence was commuted last July, was one of thirty-nine prisoners paroled today. Richardson entered the penitentiary in October, 1926, following an appeal to the State Supreme Court. He is 60 years of age.

LORD UPHOLDS SAVINGS CLAIM

Cites Record in Proof of "Coolidge Economy"

Dawes Tells How "Trifles" Conserved $250,000,000

Surpluses Total Billions; Public Debt Slashed

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—Gen. Herbert M. Lord, director of the Bureau of the Budget, declared tonight that the records "prove the absurdity" of any argument that "Coolidge economy is a myth"—this being the text expounded by Gov. Smith Tuesday in his speech at Sedalia, Mo.

No names were mentioned by Gen. Lord, whose discourse upon "The Nation's Business" was delivered at a banquet of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce at the Congress Hotel, a few floors below Gov. Smith's suite. But it took on something of the aspects of a rejoinder to Gov. Smith's onslaughts.

Both Gen. Lord and Vice-President Dawes, first director of the budget, who also spoke, appeared to glory in what they termed "microscopic economies" like the taking of the purple stripe out of mail sacks at which Gov. Smith poked fun at Sedalia.

ITEMS BULK LARGE

"When I was budget director," said Gen. Dawes, "Congress called on us to show what we were doing. We compiled a great list of items, among them things like the purple stripes in the mail bags. I even itemized a saving of 18 cents. We filled 100 pages with these itemized savings we had accomplished, and the sum total for one year was $250,000,000. There was a good deal of squawking in Congress. It lasted about two days, then died out—except in political campaigns."

Gen. Lord, plunging into his address, said, President Coolidge is for economy, "not because he wants to save money, but to save the people."

"The budget," he said, "is a means of telling your money where to go instead of wondering where it all went."

Gen. Lord declared the government faces a threatened deficit of about $100,000,000 by next June. He said the budget had a prospective surplus of $252,000,000 for the end of the fiscal year in June, but that new laws and revision of tax laws has caused it "to melt like an icicle in the sun."

"But today," he said, "a threatened deficit is a challenge and we accept it.

ENORMOUS TOTAL

"In 1919 we had a deficit of $13,370,637,568.80. That was the year we loaned our former allies $3,500,000,000.

"In 1920 we ended the year with a surplus of $212,475,197.67. From $13,000,000,000 in the red one year to $312,000,000 in the black the next. On the strength of that we reduced taxes.

"Next year, 1921, we demonstrated with a surplus of $86,000,000; the next year with a surplus of $313,000,000; next year with a surplus of $309,000,000; next year, 1924, with a surplus of $568,368,986.31. We distributed all that back to you.

"In 1925 a surplus was piled up of $960,505,238.33, and next year a surplus of $377,000,000. Taxes were again reduced. We ended the year 1927 with a surplus of $635,609,921.70 and 1928 with a surplus of more than $300,000,000.

PUBLIC DEBT SLASHED

"The total of these surpluses from 1920 to 1928 in a period of Democratic and Republican administration, was $3,091,000,000. Of this $2,000,000,000 is credited to budget control. That splendid total would have been absorbed in expenditures, unless controlled by the administration in charge through the budget."

Gen. Lord took up the reduction of the debt.

"The gross debt," he said, "was cut from $26,596,701,648.01 to $17,674,221,201.43. This was a reduction in a little less than nine years of $8,922,480,446.58. It was something over a billion dollars a year. It was one of the most extraordinary achievements in history.

"The government succeeded in reducing your debt at the rate of over a billion a year for nine years, and here you receive it with the same enthusiasm you would an appointment with your dentist."

ALAS, POOR NEANDERTHAL MAN, RIVAL CITIES KNEW HIM WELL

DUESSELDORF (Germany) Oct. 18. (AP)—The chief burgomasters of the two leading cities in the Rhineland Duesseldorf and Cologne, have solved the problem as to where the aboriginal Neanderthal man had his abode. He was a Duesseldorfian, but hailed from Cologne.

Duesseldorf and Cologne are bitter rivals for supremacy in the Rhineland. They are constantly watching each other in the hope of going the competitor one better.

When the League of German Municipalities met for its annual convention, Chief Burgomaster Lehr of Duesseldorf in an after-dinner speech enumerated all the claims to fame of his city, and said as a climax that where Duesseldorf now stands once was the habitation of the prehistoric Neanderthal man.

Chief Burgomaster Adenauer of Cologne followed. Politely he admitted the possible truth of his colleague's contention, but added, with a view to his home town's reputation, "Of course, the Neanderthal chap was a man from Cologne who got lost in the woods and settled down in Duesseldorf."

Everybody laughed at the sally, and looked to Mayor Lehr. After a few moments of fast and furious thinking, Lehr pulled himself out of the affair by saying, "Come to think of it, Dr. Adenauer of Cologne is right. An examination of the Neanderthal man's skeleton shows that nobody but a native of Cologne could have had such a big mouth."

Frear, Wisconsin Congressman, to Talk for Hoover

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—Representative Frear of Wisconsin today volunteered his services as a speaker in the East for the Hoover-Curtis campaign. He said at Republican headquarters that if the Republicans this year get a third of the votes cast for La Follette in 1924 Hoover will carry the State.

"Wisconsin is in a state of flux," he said. "It is futile to risk a prediction at this time. There is a strong Hoover sentiment in the country districts, but in the cities, especially in Milwaukee, the people think that if Gov. Smith is elected he will abrogate the Eighteenth Amendment and bring back beer."

Col. John Q. Tilson, chairman of the Republican Eastern Speakers' Bureau, announced that Mr. Frear will make fifteen speeches in the East during the campaign.

Students Form Al Smith Club

BERKELEY, Oct. 18. (AP)—A group of about 200 University of California students today organized a Smith-for-President Club, electing Janet E. Heitman of Berkeley as president.

Among members of the executive committee elected were: Charles C. Copping of Barstow, Cal.; Henry A. Dannenbrink of Etna, Cal.; Herbert G. Hollis of McLoud, Okla., and Mary Hickey, daughter of Thomas W. Hickey of San Francisco.

Pomerene Hurls Charge at G.O.P.

QUINCY (Ill.) Oct. 18. (AP)—Former Senator Pomerene of Ohio predicted that Indiana, Kentucky and Missouri will go to Gov. Smith by heavy majorities, in a talk tonight before a Democratic rally.

He charged the Republican administration with responsibility for the oil scandals and pleaded for a Democratic farm vote.

NEW SHOT AT SMITH BY W.C.T.U.

Proposal for Amendment to Dry Law Attacked and Attitude in Past Recalled

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (AP)—The Women's Christian Temperance Union issued a statement from its national headquarters at Evanston today attacking Gov. Smith's proposal for amendment of the Eighteenth Amendment.

"In view of Gov. Smith's proposal to amend the Constitution so that some States can remain dry while others can manufacture and sell liquor," said the statement, "it is interesting to note just where the Governor stood on the question of the shipment of liquor from wet to dry territory at a time when the liquor industry with its back to the wall fought desperately against any attempt to limit shipments into dry areas. That was fifteen years ago.

"Congress prohibited the shipment of liquor into dry States by passing over President Taft's veto the Kenyon-Webb bill, the most drastic antiliquor legislation adopted in Congress up to that time.

"At the same time Assemblyman Knight of the New York Legislature introduced a measure against knowingly delivering liquor in dry territory except to bona fide consignees. The Knight bill was intended to help keep liquor out of dry townships in New York State.

"Alfred E. Smith, then Speaker of the Assembly, was responsible for the failure of the bill to be reported. As Speaker he appointed the members of the excise committee, eight of the thirteen committeemen were New York City Tammany Democrats, two were up-State Democrats and three up-State Republicans. All the Democratic members of the committee and at least one of the Republican members were wet. No legislation considered as dry could get by this committee unless the Speaker so requested.

"The fact that the bills never again were heard of is evidence that the Speaker did nothing in their behalf."

Tariff Benefit to State Told by Shortridge

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—Speaking at the outstanding political rally of the Presidential campaign, Senator Shortridge tonight warned 2500 people that "the Democratic plan of free trade would prostrate California."

"There would not be a lemon tree in California worth planting except for the tariff that bars Sicilian lemons, for which the total cost at New York is no more than the cost of freight on lemons from California," Senator Shortridge said. "The same applies to rice, walnuts, almonds, oranges, grapefruit and other California products. The Republican tariff act of 1922 raised the duty on almonds, walnuts, wool and grapefruit and immensely benefited California.

"Republican protection aids California directly through California products and indirectly through the products of eastern States for the East is our market and upon its prosperity depends its demand for our products."

Good Denounces Card Attacking Smith's Religion

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (AP)—Western Republican campaign headquarters issued a statement late today from James W. Good, western campaign manager, denouncing the circulation in Chicago of an anonymous card which attacks Gov. Smith's candidacy on the score of his religious faith.

"I have seen a copy of the card headed, 'Al denounces dry law,' but devoted largely to an attack on Gov. Smith because of his religion," Good said. "It is not necessary to say that the Republican committee not only has nothing to do with this or any other similar attack on Mr. Smith, but it most strongly condemns such campaign methods and the resort to such argument. We have asked the full co-operation of the police department in locating the responsibility for this anonymous and unjustifiable attack."

Bomb Damages Catholic Church in Illinois Town

MARION (Ill.) Oct. 18. (AP)—The Catholic Church here was bombed tonight. The blast exploded on the steps leading to the basement, damaging that part of the building and shattering four windows. Police are at a loss to explain the bombing.

The church, dedicated only eleven months ago, was dark and had not been used since Sunday. The pastor, Rev. Leo Mondt, resides in Carbondale, coming here for services.

CAPITAL'S REMAKING PROMISED

Secretary Mellon Tells Plans for Beautifying of Pennsylvania Avenue

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18. (AP)—Plans for beautifying and developing the national capital, especially Pennsylvania avenue, which he said now presents a "distressing spectacle," were detailed here today by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in an address at founders' day exercises at Carnegie Institute.

"It is perhaps our most important street," the Secretary said in reference to Pennsylvania avenue. "It is the street over which great processions pass in triumph to the Capitol. Yet, never, in the days of either the ancient or modern world, has anyone seen before a great triumphal way bordered, throughout much of its length, by gasoline stations, lodging houses and Chinese laundries."

"This state of affairs, I am glad to say," Mr. Mellon continued, "will soon be remedied. Congress has determined that the Capitol shall be approached by an avenue commensurate in dignity with its importance."

At the conclusion of the founders' day exercises, the annual international exhibition of paintings was thrown open to the public, and tonight Secretary Mellon was the guest of the institute trustees at a dinner.

THREE TO HANG IN AFRICAN CASE

Sentence Imposed for Tribal Slaying of Twins

Mother, Her Sister and Man Slated for Noose

Crime in Question Committed Ten Years Ago

[Copyright, 1928, by the Chicago Tribune]

CAPETOWN (South Africa) Oct. 18. (Exclusive) — In an effort to stamp out the native custom of killing newly born twins, two native sisters and Louis Richards were sentenced to hang for a murder which they committed, ten years ago. The mother of the twins appeared in court with a baby on her back. She is a member of the Bawenda tribe.

One night in 1918 twins were born to her. She and her sister the next morning strangled the twins with fibrous creepers, placing the bodies in a pot and burying them.

The tribal chief, Sentimmois, testified it is a custom which originated when the tribal wars were frequent, as women with twins were greatly hindered when fleeing with children. He said it was unfair to discriminate against the killing of only one of the children, as both must die without bloodshed. Always the ordained mother killed them with the father's consent. If the twins lived with the parents they were ashamed to face the tribe. Chief Sentimmois said it was impossible to end the practice.

PLANE'S NOISE ROUTS NATIVES

Explorers Repel Cannibal by Starting Motor

New Sugar Cane Hunters Back From South Seas

Species Sought That Will Resist Pests

[Copyright, 1928, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—Except for a noisy seaplane motor, Dr. E. W. Brandes might have turned very abruptly from distinguished chief pathologist of the United States Department of Agriculture to an undoubtedly distinguished Hamburger steak.

And as for his companion, Richard K. Peck, an exceptionally capable aerial pilot, he might with equal abruptness have found himself reincarnated as prime spare ribs, garnished with whatever cannibals use for such purposes.

This developed with the arrival here on the liner Aorangi of both these gentlemen, still in the form in which they left America, but with a profound aversion to kettles and stew pots. And likewise cannibals!

MEET CANNIBALS

Dr. Brandes and Mr. Peck have just completed a 10,000-mile journey in Papua and New Guinea, a trip made by seaplane, by canoe and on sometimes very weary feet. The object of the expedition, frequently as dangerous as it was interesting and scientifically important, was to find new species of sugar cane, and varieties of cane immune from pests.

The encounter with the cannibals occurred in the middle of the Fly River district of Papua. Dr. Brandes and Mr. Peck, apparently unobserved, were busy with their seaplane when there came a sudden shout and a rush of natives from the bush.

They were armed with stone clubs and poisoned spears, which they waved threateningly.

"It was a tense moment," acknowledged Dr. Brandes. Mr. Peck nodded his head in swift agreement.

But the savages were checked in their rush by the sight of the plane. They paused, either in wonder or because the chief had forgotten the catsup.

And in that second the motor was shot into action with a clamorous roar which sent the cannibals crashing back into the bush in horror-stricken awe, appetites forgotten. And they were not seen again.

BRING MANY CURIOS

Here and there in New Guinea and Papua the doctor encountered other hostile natives, but fortunately with no mishaps. Twelve packing cases of weapons and strange curios were brought back by Dr. Brandes.

These included several preserved human heads. Some of the heads were ornamented with colored clay and others were in their natural state, although distorted.

Sugar-cane mosaic in particular has in recent years brought ruin to thousands of planters, and it was the ravages of this disease that provided the incentive for the expedition.

The undertaking was sponsored by the Department of Agriculture and various commercial organizations. Fuel bases for the Fairchild cabin seaplane were established in Sydney, the party arriving there in June. Food and fuel were dispatched to Everill Junction on the Fly River, on an auxiliary ketch. The craft also carried Ivan Champion and fourteen policemen detailed by the government to accompany the party to New Guinea and Papua.

Flying over the Kemp Welch River and Kikori River, the party reached Everill Junction in five and one-half hours, the trip requiring three weeks by boat.

VARIETIES OF CANE FOUND

By seaplane and double native canoes fitted with high-speed outboard motors, the party visited virtually the whole of Western Papua accessible by water, to a point more than 500 miles from the Gulf of Papua. Strickland, Alice and Palmer rivers, Lake Murray and numerous unnamed lakes were explored.

A sketch map was prepared, showing the contour and location of fourteen lakes in the vast valley of the Fly River, observed from elevations up to 14,000 feet.

During the latter part of August the explorers, with seventy-five native carriers, made a walking trip to the mountains back of Kappa Kappa and Hula.

Dr. Brandes flew to the Musa and Markham rivers and as far as the Sepik River, inspecting a number of native gardens. From Marienberg as a base, the Sepik River and its tributaries were explored.

One hundred and eighty-one varieties of sugar cane were collected and sent to Washington and Sydney, in duplicate. These included twenty varieties of wild cane and one new species tentatively named Saccharum Robustum, the tallest and most vigorous species yet discovered.

German Opposes Death Penalty

BERLIN, Oct. 18. (AP)—Opposition to capital punishment has been expressed by Dr. Erich Koch, Minister of Justice, who has advised a Reichstag commission, which is drafting a new penal code, that he is in favor of its abolition in Germany.

"Despite the ravages of the war, the revolution and the period of inflation, the German people are possessed of a high ethical and moral consciousness," the Minister told the members of the commission.

SARGENT GUEST OF COOLIDGE AT LUNCH

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—President Coolidge today invited to luncheon Atty.-Gen. Sargent, Representative James M. Beck of Pennsylvania, Herbert Putnam, Librarian of Congress; Eldridge Johnson of Camden, N. J. and A. S. W. Rosenbach.

Moving the crops of California through statewide financing

CALIFORNIA'S vast crop movement—including fresh and dried fruits, vegetables, nuts, grains and cereals (as well as shipments of live stock, poultry and dairy products)—must be generously financed at the proper time, to protect the ranchers against loss that may result from delayed marketing. ❧ The Bank of Italy, with its great reservoir of loanable funds, furnishes to California agriculturists a service that is unequalled in financing the marketing and distribution of every type of farm product. ❧ Prosperity requires a statewide banking organization—large enough to meet every legitimate need of business, broad-minded enough to understand the problems of both the big and small grower, and with courage enough to back its judgment with dollars. The Bank of Italy supplies—and will continue to supply—the kind of financing that California needs.

Investors are now turning to Real Estate

Increased activity forecasts early rise in values. Consult a "Realtor"

"Invest in real estate now," authorities advise. There is sound reason for this. A substantial increase in real estate transfers is shown by Official Reports of the Recorder's Office. This indicates the beginning of another cycle of real estate activity.

With this increasing demand, the real estate you invest in now should enhance in value and bring you gratifying profit.

Here is where the "Realtor" can serve you. His experience, his specialized knowledge of market values and development trends, enable him to give you expert counsel on where and what to buy. He can give you the same advice in real estate matters that your attorney gives you in law.

The "Realtor" is an accredited member of the Los Angeles Realty Board. He has passed its rigid requirements, and pledged to its Code of Ethics. Be sure to look for his display of this title. It is your assurance of safe, conscientious counsel.

YOUNG DEMANDS NAVIGATION ACT

Commercial Flyers' Code Advocated

Development Body Backs Olympiad Issue

Garland Narrates Progress in Los Angeles

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—A recommendation that the State Legislature create a California Navigation Act to regulate commercial airplanes and an exposition of the functioning of various State departments by Gov. Young featured the annual joint meeting here today of the directorate and regional advisory councils of the California Development Association. Sessions will continue tomorrow, with approximately 300 in attendance.

The aeronautical legislative committee recommended the legislation for the regulation of aircraft. It met with the approval of the joint bodies. The proposal is for laws which would make it mandatory for pilots to operate planes licensed by the Department of Commerce and would require every pilot to have a Federal license.

FLYER SHERIFFS

The proposed act also provides for a deputy sheriff in charge of aeronautics in each county, the position to be filled only by an experienced flyer. Violations of any of the provisions of the act would be punishable by a fine of not more than $500 or a jail sentence of not more than six months, or both.

Support of the Olympic Games bond issue which will appear on the November 6 ballot and funds of which defray part of the expenses of the world-wide athletic meet in Los Angeles in 1932, was urged by G. Young and William May Garland, president of the California Tenth Olympiad association.

The proposition, as it will appear on the ballot, calls for ratification of a legislative act authorizing the sale of $1,000,000 in State bonds to aid the Olympiad enterprises. The Governor said the event would be an "unexcelled opportunity for California to show the world it knows how."

GARLAND'S PLEDGES

Garland told what has been done in preparation and said Los Angeles has built a Coliseum holding 80,000 persons and would, at its own expense, increase this seating capacity to 120,000 before the games.

R. E. Fisher, chairman of the association's aeronautical committee, gave a resume of the development association's activities. Graphs thrown on a screen assisted in visualization of the wide scope of endeavor to which trained men give their attention. Among the major activities he cited co-operation with the State and Federal departments of agriculture in improving crop-marketing conditions and in combatting the onslaughts of insect pests.

Judge Jackson of San Mateo suggested to the safety conference that a physician be assigned to the traffic department of each city and that all persons suspected of being intoxicated while driving an automobile should betaken before such physician immediately upon arrest.

The various committees and regional advisory councils are to meet tomorrow for final action on the various resolutions.

Jewish Students Beaten in Clash

BUDAPEST (Hungary) Oct. 18. (AP)—Jewish students at the technical college here were beaten severely today by Christians. Many bruised heads are reported. The clash followed distribution by Christian students of leaflets complaining that "there are too many Jews in Hungary."

There were several casualties also from attacks on Jewish students at the Commercial College, several being removed to a hospital in an unconscious condition.

CHAMBERLIN SHOWS WIFE LANDING PLACE

KOTTBUS (Germany) Oct. 18. (AP) Clarence D. Chamberlin today showed his wife the scene of his landing in June, 1927, after his successful flight over the ocean in the monoplane Columbia. In response to an invitation by the city of Kottbus, Chamberlin, with Mrs. Chamberlin, Thea Rasche and Maj. George E. A. Reinburg, American air attache, flew to Kottbus and arrived here shortly before noon. The party was greeted by city officials and cheering crowds.

KING WISHERS DENIED HALL

Civil Liberties Union to Work for Royalists and Communists in Dallas Row

DALLAS (Tex.) Oct. 18. (AP)—City fathers of Dallas almost were inclined to believe they were being "spoofed" tonight as the American Civil Liberties Union offered to help Royalists and Communists obtain "rights of free speech" in Dallas.

Tuesday, Benjamin Gitlow, Vice-Presidential candidate of the Workers' (Communist) party of America, was refused use of the auditorium. Wednesday, Richard Potts, who styles himself "secretary-general of the Royalist League of America," announced that he had obtained a permit to use the same hall for a Sunday meeting. Today the permit was canceled until the City Commission could consider it, and Street Commissioner Reinhart announced that the hall is not available for anyone who wishes to change the existing forms of government. "Soap boxes are all we have for them," he said.

Potts was indignant at the city's action and announced that he is accepting the aid of the Civil Liberties Union. He exhibited a telegram bearing the name, Forrest Bailey, who, he said, is secretary of the union.

"Will gladly help you if denied rights of free speech and assembly," the telegram read. "Will you join us in effort to extend same rights for Communists whose Vice-Presidential candidate was denied use of City Hall auditorium? Who is your candidate for king?"

Potts's answer, telegraphed tonight, read: "Will co-operate with you in obtaining hearing for Gitlow and Communists or even for Straton and fundamentalists, provided I do not have to hear the latter. American Legion wants Mussolini, but my personal candidate is George Bernard Shaw, with Will Rogers for vice-king."

MORE DELAYS ON NORTHCOTT

Riverside Charged With Bungling Extradition

Papers Said to be Filled Out Improperly

Both Mother and Son Sent Back to Jail for Week

BY JAMES M. KENDRICK
"Times" Staff Representative

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—Extradition of Gordon Stewart Northcott and his mother to California to answer to the Riverside (Cal.) chicken-farm murder charges again was indefinitely delayed today.

At Calgary, Alta., Mrs. Louisa Northcott was granted a remand until Friday of next week to allow her counsel additional time to study extradition documents, while Northcott was remanded another week when he appeared in court here this morning.

Assertions tantamount to a charge that Riverside county "bungled" the preparation of extradition papers and affidavits in the case, was made here this morning before County Judge Cayley by R. L. Maitland, representing Riverside, when he told the court affidavits from Riverside arrived improperly prepared.

MISTAKES POINTED OUT

"I am unable to proceed until these papers are returned here in proper shape," Maitland told Judge Cayley at Northcott's third hearing this morning. "I must return all the affidavits they have sent me and have each page initialed by the affiant as they should be," the barrister declared.

Maitland, at the same time, revealed to the court that the extradition papers received here so far contain only the assertion that Northcott murdered Walter Collins of Los Angeles after kidnaping the long-missing 9-year-old boy from the streets of that city.

There is nothing in the papers relative to the alleged murder of Louis and Nelson Winslow, or the unidentified Mexican youth, Maitland told the court. These latter sections of the papers, however, are expected shortly, Maitland said.

A bitter legal duel between Maitland and Frank Lyons, representing young Northcott was halted when Judge Cayley ordered Maitland to allow Lyons an opportunity to peruse the Riverside grand jury documents, "in Maitland's office."

Arguments by counsel over the question of license in reading other evidence into the case will be heard by the court at next week's appearance, Judge Cayley told the barristers.

WANTS NEWSPAPERS

Young Northcott, dressed in the dark blue suit, one of the two in his possession at the time of his arrest, a blue four-in-hand tie and black shoes, stood nervously in the witness box when court convened until he was told by Corporal Wallis Cruikshank of the provincial police, that he could be seated.

Throughout the proceedings Northcott's eyes shifted from the judge to the packed courtroom and then to his feet which he shuffled nervously. Twice the youth turned around and gazed at the young girls in the spectators' section, the first who have appeared at any of his hearings.

"What's the news of the world?" Northcott asked one of the police officers. "I wish they would lift this ban against my having newspapers."

"They are hanging Eddie Hickman in California in the morning," an officer told him.

"That doesn't interest me. He deserved hanging for the crime he committed," Northcott, who was said by his father to have been a close follower of the Hickman case, replied to the policeman.

Northcott scribbled a message on the back of an envelope and asked that it be wired to his mother in the Calgary jail. Police refused to make the missive public.

"My mother and I must not have any differences in this case. We are forced to stand side by side against these serious charges which are a frame-up against us and I want her to know that I am constantly with her in my mind," Northcott told officers.

FACES PHOTOGRAPHERS

Northcott's statement was believed based on the open breach between him and his mother over which of the two attorneys, Lyons or J. McKinley Cameron, will represent them in California.

Mrs. Northcott wants Cameron while Northcott wants Lyons.

As the youth left the Courthouse he removed his cap and made no attempt to cover his face as news cameras snapped.

While the still photographers rushed about him taking snapshots, Northcott's nervous twitching of his hands and biting of fingernails put him in an awkward position because of the manacles that hold him bound to Constable Rigby. As he approached the waiting automobile which was to convey him back to Oakalla prison, he forced a faint smile as he saw motion-picture news cameras grinding away at him. Shortly before leaving the private room where he was allowed to confer with his attorney, Northcott promised the latter he would make no attempt to conceal his face as he did at previous hearings.

EXTRADITION FUND SHORT

Northcott asked that information concerning his mother's hearing today be "brought to me immediately."

Today it appeared that the $3000 allowed by Riverside county will be far from sufficient to complete extradition of the accused.

All attorneys in the case are on a daily pay basis, while each sitting of the court adds another $50 to the total bill. It is possible that it will be thirty days before the pair are moved to California, officials here said after the two new remands today.

Investigators Quinn and Kelley of Riverside, now at Calgary, are expected here this week-end, to be on hand for the hearing of young Northcott next week, while Sheriff Sweeters will remain at Calgary for Mrs. Northcott's hearing. Provincial police officers here openly expressed their disgust at the failure of Riverside officers to prepare proper papers necessary for the hearing.

JESSIE CLARK REMAINS HIDDEN

Jessie Clark, sister of Sanford Clark, whose grewsome story of murder on a lonely Wineville chicken ranch caused the arrest of Gordon Stewart Northcott and the latter's mother, Mrs. Louise Northcott, in Canada, is in hiding somewhere in this vicinity, it was revealed last night.

Not only is the girl keeping away from the public gaze, but she will have nothing to say to the public until Monday, it was announced yesterday by Loyal C. Kelly, former District Attorney of Riverside county, and retained as counsel for the girl.

Today, however, she will give a detailed statement to District Attorney Ford, it was announced, and then will go back into seclusion until Monday, when she will grant an interview. Under an agreement between Kelly, Dist.-Atty. Ford and George K. Morton, wealthy Elsinore banker, who brought the girl to Southern California from Canada her statement today will not be made public until after the interview Monday.

The sister on that day will get her first glimpse of her 15-year-old brother since she fled in terror from the lonely ranch to tell her story to Canadian authorities and launched the investigation that resulted in murder charges against her uncle and grandmother. The boy has been kept in the Riverside County Hospital, where he is reported to have materially improved in health and attitude. The meeting will be in Riverside.

Miss Clark, according to Attorney Kelly, came to Los Angeles of her own accord to testify against Northcott and his mother. Kelly was retained, it was learned, by the Canadian authorities to watch her interests and represent her at every phase of the case.

In a brief conference with her attorney Wednesday night, the Clark girl gave him a brief outline of the statements she will make to Dist.-Atty. Ford today.

The girl is said to be suffering severely from strain of the trip and publicity accorded her since the case broke.

Church Obtains Tract to Build 'Modern Utopia'

SPRINGFIELD (Mo.) Oct. 18. (AP) Dr. Frederick M. Smith of Independence, Mo., president of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ, Latter Day Saints, announced here today that his denomination has purchased 11,000 acres of land south of Springfield in Taney county and will start a "modern Utopia" for members of the faith.

There will be no taxation and profits derived by the community will go to the general church. The raising of sheep and turkeys will be major industries.

Pick-and-Shovel Sentence Given Sixty Students

WILLIAMSTEAD (Island of Curacao) Oct. 18. (AP)—Sixty Venezuelan students, charged by the government with conducting political agitation, have been supplied with picks and shovels and put to work repairing roads near Caracas.

Trouble started several weeks ago when thirteen students were arrested for denouncing the action of Gen. Gomez's government in holding a group of their fellow-students in confinement. A long protest was prepared and signed by about sixty students demanding that the prisoners be released.

Gen. Gomez replied by rounding up all the signers with the terse comment:

"If these students can't keep their minds on their lessons, we'll show them what work means."

Why Palisades Del Rey is sure to win

OCEAN FRONT—

PALISADES DEL REY including the Unit Supreme is a three-mile stretch of the finest ocean front residential and income property in or near Los Angeles.

It is our sincere conviction that sales at Palisades Del Rey will break all local real estate selling records upon a careful investigation of this offering by the public. Already this property is among the fastest selling tracts in the United States. We fully expect the new UNIT SUPREME, shortly to be publicly offered, to be almost entirely sold shortly after announcement of public sale. If you are interested in restricted ocean front residential or income sites we urge a thorough investigation at once. This series of announcements is printed to help you. To make sure of seeing the whole story, write or phone to be put on the mailing list.

—THE WHITE SPOT—

LOS ANGELES is developing and expanding outward in a white spot, heretofore unused, extending from the city to the ocean at Palisades Del Rey. Fresh, new restricted development which is sweeping down this open channel presages unusual and steady increases in values.

—CLOSEST BEACH—

PALISADES DEL REY is the closest beach either to the heart of Los Angeles or the center of population. It is just 13 miles by air and less than 15 road miles from 7th and Broadway. An easy 35-minute drive by auto.

SUPPOSE you were a successful real estate man with some available cash looking for a likely tract to develop.

When it came to investing your own hard cash in a piece of ground you would make sure beforehand that it was going to turn out a winner—a good seller.

Yet you would consider yourself mighty lucky if you happened on a piece of property with 3 or 4 major advantages. Many a tract has gone over big with just one natural advantage—a good boulevard for instance. You can very well appreciate Dickinson and Gillespie's enthusiasm for their Palisades Del Rey project when you know that it has not just 3 or 4 natural advantages but no less than 12. Each in itself a guarantee of success. For the company. For the investors who acquire the building sites.

Palisades Del Rey (including the UNIT SUPREME shortly to be publicly offered) has all these unusual advantages:

1. It is marvelously situated by nature on gently sloping accessible palisades offering an unparalleled perpetual view on both the ocean and inland sides.
2. It is the last of the heretofore undeveloped Los Angeles ocean-front and beach property—the scarcest of all realty.
3. The closest beach to the heart of the city and center of population.
4. It is the finest 3-mile stretch of accessible residential ocean front property in the vicinity of Los Angeles.
5. The cleanest beach in this area—unspoiled by unfortunate and premature development.
6. It is the focal point of 6 major boulevards including the Roosevelt Coast Highway link.
7. It is the ocean front of a white spot down which expansion and development is sweeping from the city.
8. Intelligently zoned for residential and business purposes. Rigidly restricted for high-class development.
9. All the modern improvements of the city, including sewer, water, sidewalks, paving, electroliers and underground conduits.
10. It is beautifully landscaped, planted and boulevarded with winding streets.
11. Adequately served by direct rapid transit electric and bus transportation.
12. It has the $5,000,000 Loyola University now building in the Del Rey hills.

—IMPROVEMENTS—HOMES—

$4000000 worth of charming, architecturally correct homes have already been built in Palisades Del Rey where all the modern improvements of the congested city are found without the congestion.

—LAST BEACH—

THE available shore line of Greater Los Angeles measures 54.1 miles. 97% of this shore line has already been utilized for amusement centers, municipal areas, hotels, apartments and private interests. Palisades Del Rey is the last of the heretofore undeveloped, desirable beaches.

At Palisades Del Rey a million dollar improvement program is under way. Not in the shape of promises. But actual work, one-half completed. You can go out and see the marvels being worked to still further improve this seaside garden spot.

Development work was started at Palisades Del Rey in the summer of 1924. Several tracts, containing income property and residential sites, have been completed and put on the market. 5,000 families have purchased. Four million dollars' worth of beautiful homes have already been built. The surprising way values have increased in these first units is a matter of record. Facts not suppositions.

Palisades Del Rey, despite its many superiorities, is not priced to conform to other less advantageous but older ocean front communities. You can buy an income-property or residential site in the new UNIT SUPREME at prices which do not include pyramided profits that accrue when land is re-sold many times.

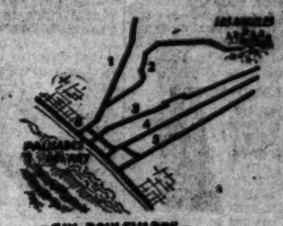
Because Palisades Del Rey has been held off the market and developed at this late date you are enabled to purchase this finest of ocean front property at prices which wouldn't pass even for down payments on less desirable sites in less desirable beach communities.

Come out to Palisades Del Rey now before the public offering of the UNIT SUPREME. Bring this announcement with you. Check it word for word with what you actually see. If we have even begun to tell the story of this marvelous new community, turn around and go home. And scratch us off your list. Dickinson and Gillespie men will be there to show you around if you want their help. You'll find them courteous, intelligent business men capable of helping you make a suitable selection.

Pre-sale reservations on the UNIT SUPREME are now being made. Dickinson & Gillespie unusually low terms prevail. 15% down and as long as five years on the balance.

—LANDSCAPING—PARKS—

PALISADES DEL REY has been artistically improved with landscaping, trees, planting and shrubbery in keeping with the natural beauty of this seaside setting. Considerable land has been dedicated to permanent parks, bridle paths, parkways and recreation centers.



—SIX BOULEVARDS—

PALISADES DEL REY is the focal point of 6 major boulevards in various stages of construction from initial legal proceedings to finished sections and when fully completed represent the greatest focal point of traffic on the Los Angeles seashore.

—LOYOLA UNIVERSITY—

THIS magnificent institution of learning to cost $5,000,000 is now under construction in the Del Rey hills. Palisades Del Rey is the logical seaside residential community for students and their families, furnishing the high type of environment and atmosphere demanded by the most particular.

HOW TO GET THERE:

By Auto—Drive West on Washington Boulevard—straight to the ocean. Then South two miles to Palisades Del Rey.

By Electric—Board P. E. Redondo Car (via Del Rey) at Subway Station between Fourth and Fifth on Hill St. —get off at Palisades Del Rey

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Mulholland and Lippincott Stress South's Aims

Southern California's water-supply problems were unfolded in detail yesterday by engineers and water experts at a hearing conducted by the joint legislative committee appointed by Gov. Young from the Forty-Seventh State legislature to study the State-wide situation. The meeting, held in the main dining room of the Chamber of Commerce was attended by the eight members of the committee and nearly a score more persons interested in water problems of the Southland.

Assemblyman Bradford S. Crittenden, chairman of the joint committee, presided over the meeting and officially opened it with an address on the water problems of the State. He discussed these from the standpoint of problems faced by the entire State rather than those pertinent to specific districts. His address followed an address of welcome by John C. Austin, second vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce.

HYATT SPEAKS

The water problems of Northern and Southern California from an engineer's viewpoint were outlined to the committee by State Engineer Edward Hyatt, Jr. He discussed the problems of water supply for cities as well as irrigation purposes and the engineering difficulties to be faced especially in the Southland, where water has to be carried for great distances from the sources of supply to the point of consumption. Dam construction problems also were touched upon.

Southern California needs, particularly, were brought before the committee by J. B. Lippincott, consulting engineer and an expert on water conservation.

"State aid is necessary, both by contribution and co-operation, to bring Colorado River water into Los Angeles," Mr. Lippincott said, adding that such water is needed in this district to meet the ever-increasing demand. Furthermore, he said, the conservation programs of the north and south need balancing to meet with successful solution of the State's water problems.

Questioned by members of the committee, Mr. Lippincott declared he believes a State bond issue will carry if the benefits to be received are properly distributed.

MULHOLLAND HEARD

He was followed by William Mulholland, chief engineer of the Los Angeles Bureau of Water Works and Supply, who stressed the pressing needs of Los Angeles consumers. The present supply is wholly inadequate, he said, and with continued growth the problem will become more and more serious to eventually become a source of constant menace.

Senator Ralph E. Swing spoke briefly on the water needs of Southern California, and steps that should be taken to eliminate the problems.

Following the adjournment the committee and others present attended a luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce and then left at 2.15 p.m. on an automobile inspection trip of dam sites in San Antonio Canyon and the vicinity of Cucamonga. From the latter place they went to San Bernardino, where a hearing was conducted last night.

Hecke Opposes Rodeo Bill as Farms Menace

George A. Hecke, State Director of Agriculture, at a meeting of the California Development Association yesterday declared Initiative Amendment No. 21 is a serious menace to agriculture in California. He said it will prohibit certain practices in the live-stock industry that are absolutely necessary on the ranch, and therefore urged that everyone interested in the development of the State vote "no" on this measure.

He pointed out that the measure is altogether too loosely drawn and urged that regardless of the voters' opinion of the rodeo, horse show and other animal exhibitions which this measure also affects, it should be defeated to avoid the detrimental effect it would have on agriculture activity.

Mr. Hecke's stand against No. 21 was reported to the headquarters of the Rodeo Educational Association last night in a wire from Fred S. McCarger at San Francisco.

Camp Fugitive Sent to Prison

A sentence of from one to fourteen years in San Quentin prison was imposed upon Edwin Beveridge, who ran away from the county road camp, by Superior Judge Fricke yesterday. Mary Kavanaugh, his sweetheart, was sentenced to three months in the County Jail for having provided the transportation for Beveridge in his flight from the prison camp.

Beveridge was in camp after pleading guilty to a charge of forgery.

AMERICA DECLARED JAPAN'S BEST FRIEND

"America is Japan's best friend and the Japanese realize it," said Victor Eubank yesterday on his arrival from San Francisco by airplane. Mr. Eubank has been correspondent for the Associated Press in Tokio for the last four years. "Japan knows that America is taking more of her silks and other products than any other four or five nations and I can only see a stronger alliance of trade interests and friendly relations as time goes on."

PROTEST POSTPONED

The City Council yesterday postponed until November 7 consideration of the protests against the proposed improvement of Preston Way in the Venice district from Walgrove avenue to Penmar avenue.

ACCUSES YOUTHS OF ATTACKING HER

CLARK-RICE CO-ED CASE POSTPONED

Two Youths Accused of Attack Given Respite; Damage Suit Filed

Preliminary hearing of William D. Clark, 600 Linden Drive, Beverly Hills, and Don Rice, 928 West Twenty-eighth street, said to be members of wealthy Los Angeles families, on charges of attacking Evelyn Jarvis, 1958 West Twenty-second street, University of Southern California co-ed, was postponed yesterday by Municipal Judge Russell until the 25th inst. at the request of the youthful defendants for more time to prepare their defense.

The girl charges that the two youths came to her home on September 7, last, and that, following several drinks of liquor, Rice went to the front of the house and acted as "lookout" while Clark attacked her.

The youths, in addition to the criminal charge, face a damage suit for $50,000 filed Wednesday in Superior Court by Mrs. Ina Jarvis, mother of Miss Jarvis. She declared that she found her daughter in a semiconscious condition when she arrived home, the two young men fleeing as she approached. The suit was filed by Attorney R. L. Heath.

Pair Stricken After Gin Bout

Frank Earle, 63 years of age, of 5826 Hollywood Boulevard, and Maurice Hart, 50, of the same address, had a few drinks of gin at a bootlegger's place early yesterday morning. Then they started to walk home. About half a block from the house Earle collapsed. His friend, stooping over to see what was the trouble with him, also slumped to the sidewalk. Both were unconscious when discovered by Police Officers Miller and Ransom, who rushed them to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where surgeons declared that they were probably victims of the poison-gin wave that has caused a half-dozen deaths in the city and suburbs during the past ten days.

Although both were unconscious at a late hour yesterday it was established that Earle and Hart are extras who have had considerable work in character parts in motion pictures.

Actress Sued for Alienation

Ruth King, actress, is charged with alienating the affections of George Sherwood in a suit filed by Mrs. Verda Sherwood yesterday in which she asks $200,000 damages. The actress was sued under her legal name of Ruth King Hamilton.

Last week Mrs. Sherwood sued for divorce, asserting that Sherwood had become infatuated with Miss King. According to the complaint Miss King, however, finally married Ward Hamilton.

PLANS FOR HIGHWAY REPORTED COMPLETE

Surveys and plans for a new highway from Castaic, west of Saugus and Newhall, to connect with San Fernando Road at Tunnel Station, have been completed, the City Council was notified yesterday by the California State Department of Public Works, Division of Highways. The communication said that the State will award the contract for the construction of the new road as soon as the city of Los Angeles assures the State Department that the city will provide additional road facilities to handle the increased traffic from Tunnel Station to the highways north of San Fernando. City Engineer Shaw was asked by the Council for a report.

EDISON WILL BE AWARDEDHONOR

Great Hook-up Will Assist Medal Ceremony

Anniversary Celebrates Notable Invention

Incandescent Lamps in Use Forty-nine Years

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

An interesting transcontinental program is scheduled over the network tomorrow night on the 6 o'clock hour, according to the management of KFI, which is the local station of the chain.

In tribute to the achievements of Thomas A. Edison, a medal from the Federal government will be presented to the inventive genius. Preliminary announcements of the broadcast state that President Coolidge, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, President John Grier Hibben of Princeton and Ronald Campbell, counselor charge d'affaires of the British Embassy, will take part in the event.

The transcontinental hook-up will be in recognition of the forty-ninth anniversary of the electrical wizard's invention of the incandescent lamp. Radio fans will recall the interesting program of four years ago when Mr. Edison was interviewed via radio over a tremendous broadcast line-up.

The National Broadcasting Company announced that the President would open the program from Washington whil emicrophones in Edison's laboratory at West Orange would then carry Mr. Mellin's presentation of the medal.

This was provided for by Congressional resolution on May 29 of last year, and was executed under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury by John R. Sinnock of Philadelphia.

Dr. Hibben is scheduled to be the next speaker and then, in the absence of the British Ambassador, Mr. Campbell will return to Mr. Edison his first phonograph. This has been in the South Kensington Museum in London for thirty-nine years.

The hour's program will be given over forty-eight United States and Canadian stations, while rebroadcasts will be made on short waves for the Great Britain chain of the British Broadcasting Company and for transmitters in Mexico, Argentina and Australia.

COURT RADIO DECISION IMPORTANT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—Decision of the Federal court in Chicago denying C. R. White and Emil Denemark, Inc., operators of radio stations WCRW and WEDC, a temporary injunction against the United States Attorney estopping him from prosecuting the two stations for failure to discontinue operation as ordered by the Federal Radio Commission, on grounds that the Radio Act of 1927 is constitutional is declared by Louis G. Caldwell, general counsel of the commission, to be important as upholding the action of the Federal Radio Commission recently in refusing to renew the licenses of a number of stations.

BROADCAST FOR BYRD PLANNED

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18. (AP)—Special broadcasts for the Byrd Antarctic expedition are being arranged.

Stations KDKA, Pittsburgh, WBZ, Springfield, Mass.; KYW and KFKX, Chicago, and WGZA, Boston, are to transmit messages to the explorers each Saturday night after 11 o'clock, eastern standard time. In addition special broadcasts are to be made from KDKA on Christmas night, and from KYW-KFKX on New Year's night. This service will start immediately after the last contingent of the expedition leaves.

Upon the finish of the winter schedule on February 23 messages will be sent out on an emergency schedule which calls for a stand-by every Saturday night at 11 o'clock.

'GOLD BOND' FILMS ISSUE IN LAWSUIT

Judge Must Decide What Constitutes Definition Involved in Actions

Just how good a motion picture must be in order to be in the "gold-bond" class is a problem facing Superior Judge Bishop in the lawsuit brought by the Film Booking Offices of America against Walter Jensen, theater owner and in the counter one brought by the latter against the booking concern.

Both cases went to trial yesterday. The plaintiff asserts that the defendant agreed to show thirty pictures during the present year paying $4500 for the privilege.

In his cross-complaint Jensen avers that the booking concern told him the pictures were "gold-bond" photoplays, equal to, if not better, than those handled by any other company. He further contends the pictures turned out poorly and asks $5000 asserting misrepresentation.

The plaintiff still insists the pictures were "gold-bond" productions so it is up to the court to decide just how good a photoplay must be to be classed as such.

SISTERS TO WED TOGETHER

Thelma and Georgia Saulter, sisters, decided that October would be a good month to get married. This was some months ago and, when October finally rolled around, they decided it would be much better if both were married at the same time and place.

As a result, there is going to be a double wedding tonight at 7 o'clock, when Thelma is to become the bride of Eddie Kaufman, employee at the Educational Studio, and Georgia the wife of Harry Edwards, film director.

The double wedding ceremony is to be performed by Judge Barrett at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Allan, 545 South Serrano street. Mr. Allan is president of the Educational Studio. According to Mrs. Allan, about fifty guests will be present for the ceremony. The Saulter sisters are the daughters of Mrs. George Saulter, 250 South Orange avenue.

Georgia met Edwards about three years ago, while the marriage of her sister culminates a romance of some two years. William Russell will serve as best man for Kaufman, and William Daily, assistant director, for Edwards. Margaret Shuman and Julie Taurog will be the bridesmaids.

Child Welfare Workers Back New Measures

The State Social Welfare Department yesterday instituted a program of informal semiannual meetings of its officials and superintendents and board presidents of the forty-four children's institutions in Southern California.

New rules of the department requiring the institutions to provide physical examinations for all employees and obtain trained social case workers to give careful study and consideration to the needs of each child were promulgated and discussed yesterday.

The consensus of the meeting, according to Mrs. Lavinia G. Timmons, member of the State Welfare Board, who presided, was that the rules are entirely acceptable and will prove of great value in solving changing social problems.

Harbor City Has Water Rate War

A water rate war broke out in Harbor City yesterday when the Harbor City Water Company filed with the State Railroad Commission new rates lower than the schedule of the Municipal Water Bureau for the same district.

According to commission officials, the Water Bureau recently laid mains parallel to the lines of the private utility and reduced rates. The water company retaliated yesterday with a schedule varying between 20 and 50 per cent lower than its old charges.

Between 500 and 600 consumers are affected by the rate reductions.

HEARING DOCKETED

Protests against the proposed improvement of Emelita street from Fair street to Lankershim Boulevard will be heard by the City Council on November 30. Councilman Randall said that the property owners desire an unpatented concrete paving instead of the patented paving provided for in the present proceedings.

KUNZ TO ADDRESS LIONS

Frank Kunz will be the principal speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Los Angeles Lions' Club in the music room of the Biltmore at noon today. He will speak on "Experience in India."

PATHE CHOOSES FIRST TALKER

Bryan Foy Directs Sketch Made in Three Languages; Colored Bootblack Gets Big Part With Vidor; Esther Ralston to Travel to New York

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Plans have been completed at the Pathe Culver City studios for the filming of that company's initial venture in the field of 100 per cent talking pictures, according to an announcement made yesterday by Benjamin Glazer, production manager of the sound division of that organization.

"The Missing Man," an international stage success written by John Posner, European playwright, collaborating with Glazer, has been decided upon as the first Pathe all-dialogue attraction. Actual production will be started within two weeks.

Some of the players already slated for parts in this attraction are Robert St. Angelo, George Barraud, Mary Forbes and Claude King. Announcement of the principals is expected within the next few days.

First Foreign-Language Film

It was just sure to happen—the making of films in foreign languages.

Now along comes Vitaphone with a picture repeated in three different tongues in as many different films. Bryan Foy directed it, with Anne Codee and Frank Orr in the principal roles. Both these players are expert linguists.

The story is called "Two Hundred and Fortieth Street," and languages used in the three different versions of the story are French, English and German.

While the foreign versions are practically useless for foreign consumption, due to the fact that European houses are not wired for talking pictures, they can be shown in cities in this country that have foreign populations who would enjoy hearing talkers in their native tongues.

The picture is a two-reeler.

Bootblack Gets Big Role

While Slickum, the colored bootblack, was shining your shoes down at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio, he was gazing into the bright reflection on your boot as into a fortune-teller's crystal, and great things he saw there for himself.

And they have all come true. Slickum, who receives his mail in the imposing name of Harold Allen Garrison, has just been given a fine part in King Vidor's all-negro picture, "Hallelujah." He will leave in a few days for the South to join Vidor, where he will play the heavy of the story. In addition he will act as second assistant director and aid in handling the colored actors.

Vidor chose Slickum for his post because of his familiarity with studio detail and the fact that many of the colored actors never before have been in front of a camera.

Acting isn't new to Slickum. He was in a vaudeville skit before he came to the studio, but found that the only available roles in pictures were bits. So he took charge of the studio bootblack stand and awaited his chance.

The new picture, Vidor's own original story, is a tale of negro life in the South, scenarized by Wanda Tuchock. It will be made with a colored cast including several stage players chosen in New York and Chicago, and some others chosen in Hollywood.

Olive Borden to Europe

Olive Borden is planning to go to Europe just as soon as she completes her present F.B.O. picture, "Love in the Desert," which George Melford is directing.

OLIVE BORDEN

Accompanied by her mother, Miss Borden proposes to spend two months in Paris, Berlin and London.

It is known that Miss Borden's acting services have been requested by British and German companies, and there is just a possibility she may take a flyer into foreign films before returning home.

Esther Ralston to Rest

Just as soon as ever Esther Ralston finishes "The Case of Lena Smith," which she is acting in under direction of Josef Von Sternberg, at Paramount studios, she will go to New York, according to present plans. She wants to see the new shows and take a little rest. Her husband, George Webb, will accompany her.

ESTHER RALSTON

In the meantime Miss Ralston is working most enthusiastically on her current picture. It has just come to light that Von Sternberg declared that notwithstanding the fact that Miss Ralston has never played anything except light comedy, he had so much faith in her that he would have no one else for the lead in his picture, which is heavy drama.

Ham Beall Hi-Hatter

At their annual election of officers, the Hi-Hatters, associated theatrical press representatives of Los Angeles, named Harry Hammond Beall to head the organization as Chief Hi-Hatter for the ensuing year. J. M. Loughborough is the new assistant Chief Hi-Hatter.

Knot Untied So It May be Tied Tighter

When Raymond A. Neal appeared before Superior Judge Bishop yesterday seeking an annulment of his marriage with Lillie May Starks, contracted at Visalia October 24, 1927, the defendant was in court to testify for him.

The annulment was granted. Now there will be a divorce and then Neal will marry Mrs. Starks again.

When Lillie May Starks married Neal she was of the opinion she was free. It seems, however, she wasn't, for she hadn't been divorced legally from John William Starks.

The annulment was obtained so that she can proceed to obtain a divorce from Starks after which she will rewed Neal.

Veronal Route to Death Proves Closed to Man

Jack Westlake, 43 years of age, lost his garage business some months ago and the loss caused a breakdown that placed him under the care of a physician. A few days ago he tired of life and its worries and so took fourteen tablets of veronal, then locked himself in the garage of his home by fastening the door from the inside with wire, and prepared to die.

He is not dead and surgeons at the Dickey & Cass Hospital declare that he will not die in spite of the fact that he has been in a state of coma since the 16th inst., when his wife discovered him in the garage and broke down the door to rescue him. Westlake and his wife reside at 859 North Wilton avenue.

Clash on Will of Late Jurist Again Flares

Litigation which started immediately following the death of Judge Summerfield of the Superior Court, and then apparently was settled, has been reopened.

Catherine Jane Summerfield, 16-year-old daughter of Judge Summerfield, appeared before Judge Stephens yesterday by Griffith Jones, her attorney, to ask that her father's sister, Mrs. Teresa Bouttier, be appointed her guardian in place of her stepmother.

A bitter contest over the appointment of a guardian for Catherine was opened shortly after Judge Summerfield's death. After several hearings the relatives agreed Mrs. Summerfield might serve. The pending petition, however, sets forth that Mrs. Bouttier is better qualified for the post.

Judge Stephens set the matter down for a hearing November 23. Miss Summerfield is principal beneficiary of an estate estimated to be worth $20,000.

SHAW GETS ORDERS

City Engineer Shaw was yesterday instructed by the City Council to start plans and proceedings for the paving of Alfred street from Rosewood avenue to Beverly Boulevard, the pavement to be 6-inch cement concrete.

Angeleno 'Gray' Awarded Honor

S. S. Simmons, commander of the Pacific Division United Confederate Veterans, with headquarters in Los Angeles has been appointed to the staff of the commander-in-chief of the general organization as assistant adjutant-general with rank of brigadier-general. The honor was conferred by Gen. A. T. Goodwin of Elmore Ala., chosen to head the Confederate Veterans at the vention last May in Little Rock.

S. S. SIMMONS.

Gen. Simmons, 85 years of age, despite his hard campaigning and imprisonment during the war, is an active and soldierly figure in affairs of the United Confederate Veterans. He is a Virginian by birth but has made Los Angeles his home for twenty years.

Legion Woman Indorses Fensch

Mrs. Agnes Walker, national committeewoman for the American Legion Auxiliary, and herself a veteran and member of Hollywood post, has indorsed the candidacy of Frank E. Fensch for election to the State Senate in District Thirty-seven. Mrs. Walker said:

"I have known Mr. and Mrs. Fensch for several years. I know their home life and their outlook on life, and it is very fine. Mr. Fensch's ability to serve the district and the State is beyond doubt. He is prepared to give as gallant services in the civil department of his country as he did when a lieutenant in the air service."

Suspect Held on Old Charge

Taken into custody for possession of liquor a man giving the name of Joseph Tint, 34 years of age, yesterday was "made" in the police record bureau as being wanted for escape from the Carson City (Nev.) penitentiary. The asserted jail break occurred in May, 1923, records showed.

Prison authorities were notified. Tint will be held on the more serious charge pending further advices from Nevada.

OFFICER SHOT IN LEG; OWN REVOLVER DID IT

Because Officer W. E. Vennik of Central Police Station was in a hurry yesterday morning he got shot in the left leg. He stated that as he started to run across Olive at First streets his revolver fell out of its holster, dropped on the pavement, and was discharged. The bullet shattered his leg bone.

NEAPOLITAN MAGICIAN IN CONCERT

Tito Schipa Casts Spell of Enchantment Over Audience at Auditorium

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Tito Schipa gave a Latin concert at the Auditorium last night. The songs were Italian, Spanish, French and English, but only an Italian with a God-given voice could have sung them as he did. Frederick Longas of Spain was the assisting pianist and a composition of his entitled "Sevilliana," gained especial favor from the audience. As usual Schipa's audience, which quite filled the auditorium, seemed afraid to take a deep breath for fear of losing some of his golden tones. The stillness with which he is honored in the concert room is perhaps the greatest compliment an artist can receive from an adoring public.

The tenor appeared also in the role of composer last evening, singing his own arrangement of a Spanish dance by Granados, and two charming numbers of his own as encores. The Granados number has hitherto been heard as a violin piece and none but a super tenor would dare attempt its intricacies.

Schipa seems equally at home in French, Italian and Spanish, and in each his enunciation is perfection.

Many favorite record numbers were added to the concert list and his listeners rejoiced. Schipa's singing is romantic in the extreme. The very quality of his voice conjures mind-pictures of love-making, of latticed windows, guitar-playing, moonlight in a gondola, walking in the shadows of the Doges palace, and all the fine ardour of grand opera. Long, luscious notes with no other significance than sheer beauty of sound, flyed the air. Neapolitan street songs, Spanish folksongs and the lighter English songs of romance delighted the crowd until a late hour.

"Sevilliana," by Longas, held the only modern touch, its unusual intervals mingling strangely with conventionalities which preceded it. Mr. Longas also played several popular piano soli, two of which were from his native Spain. His accompanying was particularly restrained.

Pictures Claim Longfellow for Jolson Theme

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow wrote the foreword for "The Singing Fool," Al Jolson's Vitaphone feature, which is doing terrific business at Warner Brothers Theater. The poet didn't know he was writing for pictures, but one of his verses suited the theme of the story so well that Joseph Jackson, the dialogue and title writer, chose it to start the film. The poem reads:

God sent his singers upon earth
With songs of sadness and of mirth
That they might touch the hearts of men
And bring them back to heaven again.

"There's one title, at least, in the picture that has merit," is Jackson's comment.

"The Singing Fool" is the story of a singing waiter who rises to the heights. It was directed by Lloyd Bacon from Graham Baker's scenario.

EXECUTIVE HONORED

Zanuck Climbs Ladder of Fame with Warner Brothers

Honors will be accorded one of the youngest associate executives in the films, in the person of Darryl Francis Zanuck, when the leaders of the motion-picture industry foregather to attend the world premiere of "Noah's Ark," Warner Brothers' Vitaphone production.

Screen folk will pay their respects to Zanuck, who is less than 30 years of age, both as the author of the story and the supervisor of the Vitaphone drama, the first "superproduction" in which the principals talk their lines.

When 14 years of age, Zanuck ran away from his home at Wahoo, Neb., and enlisted in the military service, serving in the Mexican uprisings and later in the World War as a private with the Thirty-seventh Division.

Winning some attention as an author of war stories, Zanuck in a few short years has climbed to an eminent position in the films. His first scenario work was done for William Russell at Fox and Viola Dana at the old Metro studios. This led to collaboration with H. C. Witwer on the famous "Fighting Blood" and "Telephone Girl" series of short subjects. This opened the field for him to sell many originals to various companies.

He came to Warner Brothers five years ago to write the first original story for Rin-Tin-Tin, which opened the way to a long-term contract and eventually to the position of an associate executive, in charge of all west coast productions. Among his better-known original stories are "Old San Francisco," "Seven Sinners," "The Better 'Ole," "Tenderloin," "The Limited Mail," "Good Time Charley," "The First Auto" and "Noah's Ark."

Among late productions he has supervised are "The Singing Fool," "The Lion and the Mouse," "Tenderloin," "On Trial," "The Terror," "Glorious Betsy," "Noah's Ark" and "My Man." He now is supervising "The Desert Song." He is the author of several novels, "Habit," "Mad Desire" and "Dark Horizon."

EVENING WILL BRING VEILLER CROOK PLAY

Tonight marks the opening of Bayard Veiller's "Within the Law," which the Lafayette Players, colored performers, are staging at the Lincoln Theater. Evelyn Preer is to essay the role of Mary Turner, which has been played by such stars of stage and screen as Jane Cowl and Norma Talmadge.

The cast will include, in addition to Evelyn Preer, such favorites of Lafayette group as Edward Thompson, Lawrence Criner, Cleo Desmond, Monte Hawley, Bebe Townsend, Charles Olden, Sidney Kirkpatrick and Laura Bowman.

"Within the Law" contains four acts and as many changes of settings.

"The Woman Disputed"

Norma Talmadge
Stars in the photodrama of love, war and sacrifice which is currently occupying the attention of spectators at the United Artists Theater.

HOOVER-SMITH FILM SEEN

With election day drawing near, the two Presidential candidates are becoming two headline features in the talking news weeklies on the screen.

Both Hoover and Al Smith are seen and heard again on the Movietone talking news issue opening today at Loew's State.

Billie Dove (in "The Night Watch") is the beautiful heroine of a story of mystery and clandestine love aboard a French warship. As the wife of the ship's captain, she reveals, at his court-martial for the murder of one of his officers, a strange story of stolen love and its consequences and the dramatic happenings in the stateroom of the ship while a sea battle raged on deck.

Rudy Wiedoeft, the only man, says a dispatch, who can play three distinct notes on one saxophone at the same time, is featured in Fanchon and Marco's "Saxophobia" idea, with Joe and Willie Hale and the saxophone beauties assisting and Al Lyons leading the band.

Chic Sale talks from the screen in another one of those Movietone sketches called "They're Coming to Get Me," in which the comedian portrays the experiences of an escaped lunatic.

Westward Ho! Call Heard by Gary Cooper

Gary Cooper, who is co-starred with Fay Wray in "The First Kiss," which opens at the Metropolitan Theater today for a one-week showing, has appeared in but ten pictures, but is already hailed as one of the most popular screen actors. Despite his somewhat limited experience, Cooper has rounded out into one of the leading screen figures of today.

The tall, lean, handsome youth is a true son of the West. He was born in Helena, Mont., and obtained his education there. In the summer he rode the range on his father's ranch, and is adept at cowpunching. While in college he took up the study of commercial advertising, and when graduated he struck out for California to win his laurels in the advertising art.

Landing in Los Angeles, he obtained a position as a salesman for an advertising agency, and followed that work for several months. Then, more in a spirit of youthful daring than anything else, he applied for an extra job in a western film. His ability to ride won him recognition and Paramount signed him for a Zane Grey picture. His rise to cinematic glory was rapid thereafter.

In "The First Kiss" also is Lane Chandler, whose experience is not unlike Cooper's. He also hails from the same town, Helena, and has been in pictures about the same length of time as his fellow-townsman. Chandler was "discovered" by a director while he was acting as a guide in Yellowstone Park.

TO LEARN ABOUT MOTHER

Monday evening, the current program at the Carthay Circle Theater, with "Mother Knows Best" as the feature, will be given as a benefit to the Post-War Service League for the World War veterans at Sawtelle. Mrs. E. E. Welrick, president of the league, has planned this benefit, and her committee consists of Mrs. H. B. Retticker, chairman; Mrs. H. H. Christie, Mrs. A. H. Honey, Mrs. Eugene Holmes, Mrs. George Grant Hunt, and Mrs. Creighton Brown.

STRAIGHT, NARROW PATH TROD AGAIN

Fan Bourke

Being a "bootlegger's bride" has its disadvantages. Fan Bourke, who plays "that woman upstairs" in the Gilbert Emery drama, "Tarnish," is going to lead an honest life after tomorrow night. The Dixie McCoy production will close its Music Box Theater engagement following the Saturday evening performance.

Dual Features Attract Notice

That the recently announced policy of musical comedy and a first-run feature picture will prove popular at the Broadway Palace Theater when it becomes effective November 2, is the confident belief of Gus Metzger, head of a theatrical syndicate which recently obtained control of the playhouse.

The initial double attraction will be the Ziegfeld musical comedy, "Sally," on the stage, and "The Matinee Idol," starring Bessie Love, on the screen. The inauguration of the new policy will be attendant upon the usual glamour incident to theatrical openings, it is stated, lights, cameras and persons of the stage and screen to be conspicuous.

The "Sally" chorus is rapidly being whipped into shape for the premiere by Leo LeBlanc, who recently arrived from the East to produce musical comedies for the Broadway Palace. This will be his first effort on the Pacific Coast.

The cast is headed by Nadine Wayne, who starred in the road show of "Hit the Deck," and Douglas Keaton, prominent in the "No No, Nanette" company that starred Nancy Welford.

Street Carnival Inspires Thrill

At the Boulevard Theater today ushers in the premiere of "The Sawdust Paradise," Esther Ralston's new starring vehicle, with Hobart Bosworth.

"The Sawdust Paradise" is described as a glamorous, colorful drama—the inside story of life in a traveling street carnival.

Miss Ralston is cast as a "ballyhoo" girl who acts as "barker" for the various concessions in the carnival. When the carnival tries to compete with a traveling evangelist across the street, interesting situations develop which end in a dramatic climax in which a fire among the carnival tents plays an important part.

On the stage are the "Spangle Girls" with Jimmie Hodges, Muriel Gardner and others.

BOTELER AS SERGEANT

Wade Boteler, popular feature player who is cast in Pathe's Photophone production, "The Leathernecks," seems to be adding to his list of film titles (which already includes purser, top sergeant, chief petty officer, and captain) for he is now a gunnery sergeant. Boteler is portraying the comedy character role in the marine picture, which is based on an Elliott Clawson story.

NEWMEYER'S PROBABILITIES

Following the completion of the direction of "Calamity" for the Fox organization, Fred Newmeyer will in all probability return to the Universal studios to direct another feature production. Several of Reginald Denny's box-office successes were directed by Newmeyer and only recently he guided Glenn Tryon through "It Can Be Done," which was made with sound.

"GREAT BROXOPP" GAY MILNE PIECE

Wistfulness Without Poignancy Characterizes Latest Pasadena Play

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

Another play, "The Great Broxopp," by that whimsical purveyor of the casual, A. A. Milne, is receiving interesting interpretation at Pasadena Community Playhouse.

While "The Great Broxopp" is perhaps not distinguished by so sprightly a wit as some of the plays from that delightfully facetious gentleman's pen, there is yet an animated gayety, an air of unreality midst the seeming realities of everyday life, which give it a fillip, a flavor. In this play, which was originally written as a one-act skit during the war, the author strikes a deeper note than usual. He seems at times not so much a playwright as an ebullient minstrel, whose light and delicate fancies clad in gossamer web scamper in piquant array across the stage. Mr. Milne refuses to take his characters or himself seriously. There is a wistfulness, a pathos as of life, but he never allows the note to become poignant.

In "The Great Broxopp" we have a sort of Anglicising of the rather boisterous "It Pays to Advertise," but tinged with a deeper significance. To the sophisticate, the play might be a bit bromidic. There are times when it moves slowly and, according to dramatic tradition, some of the speeches are too long. But Mr. Milne is a modern. He splits conventions into splinters and who shall gainsay him? At any rate his characters have a quality, a vitality which penetrates the imagination and leaves a subtle fragrance of gentle sentiment, and perchance its very irrationality convinces. A brave conceit, this, at any rate.

The settings, modern to a degree, reflect the moods and tenses of the play. Some are beautiful, others gently ironic in quality.

A competent cast gave a sympathetic reading of the opus. Gilmor Brown was a delightful fellow as the Great Broxopp, sublime egotist and dreamer of dreams, who was able to turn into cash the little ironies of life. There was a magnetic vigor in his depictment. The depth and quality of the Brown voice, its inflections and nuances, invariably captivate the senses.

As Nancy, the wife, Margaret Clark was as deft as usual, for she has a flair for Milne comedy. She was a very sympathetic and adoring wife. There is naturalness and a simplicity that convince about her work. Ralph Freud's characterization of Sir Robert Tinterden was an outstanding performance. Subtlety and a fine sense of values marked his splendid delineation. Louise Hooper and Ralph Urmy gave spirited and delightful portrayals of the young lovers.

First-Nighters Acclaim Drama

Acclaimed a triumph for producer, author, cast and director by the critical first-night audience at the Mayan Theater Wednesday night, "The Marriage Bed," Ernest Pascal's new play was placed on exhibition for the first time.

A packed house which stood and cheered the cast of players to the echo furnished noisy evidence that Felix Young's first west coast production won the approval of the opening-night audience.

MacDOWELL HEARD SATURDAY

Margaret Goetz will give a pictured MacDowell program at the Biltmore Saturday afternoon, at which the Ellis Club quartet will sing. Several resident artists will play and sing MacDowell music.

TRAGEDIENNE WILL STAR IN "MAGDA"

Virginia Fabregas

Virginia Fabregas, leading tragedienne of Mexico, will be honored by the local Spanish-speaking colony of Los Angeles this evening at the Philharmonic Auditorium. By special request she has consented to portray the leading role in Herman Sudermann's "Magda," which will be presented tonight.

Manuel Sanchez Navarro, son of the senora, has arranged a program of musical numbers to follow the presentation. Alma Real, Mexican dramatic soprano, will again delight the audience with operatic selections.

Among those who have signified their intention of attending are Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin, Ramon Novarro, Corinne Griffith, Florence Vidor, Antonio Moreno, Maria Alba, Raquel Torres and Gilbert Roland.

Los Angeles Is Hostess to Ranking Officer of United States A

Maj.-Gen. Charles P. Summerall, Chief of Staff and Ranking Officer of the United States Army, arrived here yesterday shortly before noon and immediately plunged into the program scheduled for him in connection with the tenth annual reunion of the First Division. The general arrived over the Southern Pacific at 11:55, attended a luncheon at the division headquarters, paid homage to Southern California's war dead by placing a wreath on each of Pershing Square memorials, and visited Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle before mid-afternoon. The general is pictured at left as he stepped off the train; the other photo above shows him with two A.E.F. disabled veterans, Thomas Bertolino (left) and Ferdinand Perret, and their nurse, Miss Cox, at Sawtelle. HIGH LIGHTS IN HISTORY 1163 The Story of American Industry. Mine Labor in the Old Days. by J. CARROLL MANS...

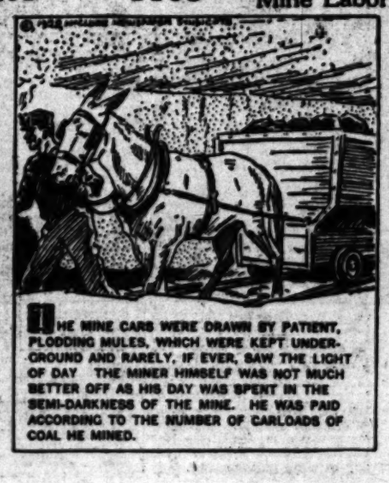
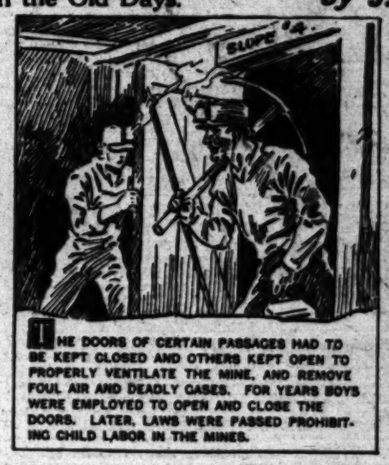
MAN AND LABOR PLAYED THE PRINCIPAL PART IN COAL MINING OPERATIONS IN THE OLD DAYS. SOME OF THE OLD METHODS PERSIST IN SOME OF THE SMALLER MINES OF TODAY. FAR UNDERGROUND THE MINER DUG THE COAL WITH PICK AND SHOVEL BY THE DIM LIGHT OF HIS FLICKERING OIL CAP LIGHT, AND LOADED THE COAL INTO CARS BY HAND. THE COAL WAS RAISED TO THE SURFACE ON LIFTS BY WINDLASSES OR WINCHES TURNED BY HORSES AND, LATER, BY STEAM.



THE MINE CARS WERE DRAWN BY PATIENT, PLODDING MULES, WHICH WERE KEPT UNDERGROUND AND RARELY, IF EVER, SAW THE LIGHT OF DAY. THE MINER HIMSELF WAS NOT MUCH BETTER OFF AS HIS DAY WAS SPENT IN THE SEMI-DARKNESS OF THE MINE. HE WAS PAID ACCORDING TO THE NUMBER OF CARLOADS OF COAL HE MINED.



THE DOORS OF CERTAIN PASSAGES HAD TO BE KEPT CLOSED AND OTHERS KEPT OPEN TO PROPERLY VENTILATE THE MINE, AND REMOVE FOUL AIR AND DEADLY GASES. FOR YEARS BOYS WERE EMPLOYED TO OPEN AND CLOSE THE DOORS. LATER, LAWS WERE PASSED PROHIBITING CHILD LABOR IN THE MINES.

IN THE OLD DAYS, BOYS WERE EMPLOYED TO PICK THE DUSTY "BREAKER" PORTION OF THE COAL AS IT POURED FROM THE MINE AND ASSORTING THE LUMPS OF COAL FOR THE MARKET. TODAY THIS WORK IS DONE BY THE COAL PASSING OVER REVOLVING SIEVES AND SCREENS.

BLAME LAID AT DOOR OF DEMOCRATS

K. of C. Director Declares Party Responsible for Religious Issue

BOSTON, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—The Democratic party has itself to blame for the injection of the religious issue into the Presidential campaign, Joseph Scott of Los Angeles, nationally known Knights of Columbus director, told a Republican mass meeting in the City Club here tonight.

Declaring that the Catholic Church, of which he is a member, "is showing restraint and a patience under most exasperating circumstances that might well be emulated by other denominations, notably by some of the clerical members thereof," and commending the pronouncements of both candidates on the religious issue as "clean as a hound's tooth" the speaker declared:

"Our Democratic friends started this dreadful thing in Madison Square Garden four years ago. Instead of these Democratic statesmen, after their experience, going back to their respective districts and educating their constituents, they are in the position of trying to attract recruits to their standards from the Republican ranks to make up for the congenital bigotry which was evidenced at Madison Square Garden within their party lines and has stayed there ever since.

"We must not forget that the Republican party derives its philosophy from Abraham Lincoln who uttered that immortal passage: 'With malice toward none and with charity for all.' That is Hoover's policy. In Lincoln's time he would have stood with him against the know-nothing movement. In the days of Roosevelt he would have carried on with him against the A.P.A. movement and today he stands telling his fellow citizens how utterly he deplores this religious controversy and that neither he nor the Republican party want support on that basis.'"

RITCHIE HITS AT TALK OF DOMINATION

Tammany Grip on Smith Scouted in Address by Maryland Governor

STAMFORD (Ct.) Oct. 18. (AP)—Gov. Ritchie of Maryland, speaking at a Democratic mass meeting here tonight, declared that "Tammany Hall no more dominates Alfred E. Smith than I do."

"If there is any dominating," he added, "Smith dominates Tammany."

Answering what he termed "this anti-Tammany stuff," Gov. Ritchie asserted that to say Gov. Smith would not make a good President because he is a member of Tammany Hall would be the equivalent of saying that no Democrat from the City of New York could be eligible for President, "because there are few New York City Democrats who are active party men who do not belong to Tammany."

"Tammany," he said, "is simply the historic name of the Democratic party organization in Manhattan. It has had its black sheep and its black and white days, as every party organization has had in every State, city and county of the Union. It would be just as reasonable to hold Hoover or Coolidge responsible for the notorious scandals of Grant's day, as to hold Smith responsible for the iniquities of Tweed or Croker."

Gov. Ritchie described as "an effrontery" any attack on Tammany "from a party which relies for its life and sustenance on the Vare machine in Philadelphia, the Mellon-Magee machine in Pittsburgh, the Crowe-Thompson machine in Chicago, the old Cox machine in Cincinnati, the Watson State machina in Indiana, and the Small State machine in Illinois."

Crocker Visions Hoover Triumph

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—William H. Crocker, Republican National Committeeman from California, who now is in Washington, predicts that Hoover will have the heaviest majority from California, Oregon and Washington ever given a Presidential candidate and is certain that what is true of the Pacific Coast is equally true in all of the western and northern States.

ROBINSON GIVES VIEWS ON TARIFF

Says He Would Maintain "Legitimate Business"

Criticises Republicans on Farm Relief

Candidate Slurs Curtis in Cheyenne Talk

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Oct. 18. (AP)—A tariff that will maintain legitimate business and "high and just standards of wages" but at the same time strike at monopolies, was promised by Senator Joe T. Robinson tonight in the event of a Democratic victory.

He attacked the Republican record on farm relief and particularly Senator Curtis, the Republican Vice-Presidential nominee, for voting to pass the McNary-Haugen bill and then casting his vote to sustain President Coolidge's veto. He declared that the Democratic party, if given control of the government would "solve the farm problem in six months as contrasted with the eight years which the Republicans have wasted."

TARIFF PROGRAM

The Democratic program for tariff legislation, Senator Robinson said, is based on their principles: Maintenance of legitimate business and high wages of laborers; increase of the purchasing power of wages by reducing "monopolistic and extortionate" tariff rates imposed in such cases "as that of the aluminum trust;" restoration of the Tariff Commission as an impartial fact-finding tribunal; safeguards against special tariff favors, and equitable distribution of tariff burdens and benefits.

Declaring that the Republican nominees are advocating higher tariff rates to relieve agriculture, Senator Robinson said that economists are generally agreed that the tariff would not maintain domestic prices of commodities produced in large surpluses and sold abroad.

"In order to accomplish agricultural relief," the nominee declared, "legislation analogous to the McNary-Haugen bill is necessary. That bill is the only comprehensive measure advocated by the Coolidge administration, of which Mr. Hoover has been the chief adviser. As everyone knows, it has been twice vetoed by President Coolidge with the approval of Secretary Hoover.

CRITICISES CURTIS

"Senator Curtis voted for the bill three times and at last voted to sustain the President's veto, thus accomplishing the final defeat of all legislation for adequate farm relief. Was he wrong when he voted for the bill? If not, why did he change his position and join with its enemies to make certain its defeat?

"As leader of the Republicans in the Senate, he easily could have secured the votes necessary for its passage over the veto. Is not the conclusion warranted that he preferred to take the chances of obtaining political advantage by reversing his attitude on the subject rather than to encounter the criticism to be anticipated from standing firmly in support of the measure which the farmers wanted?"

Hoover Indorsed by W.C.T.U. in Dixie Session

GADSDEN (Ala.) Oct. 18. (AP)—The Alabama Women's Christian Temperance Union, in annual convention here today, adopted a resolution indorsing Herbert Hoover for President.

The resolution recited that Gov. Smith, the Democratic nominee, has declared himself in favor of modifying the Eighteenth Amendment, and concluded with a plea to "prohibitionists of Alabama to vote for Hoover and Curtis."

Indians Wire Smith Greeting

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—A telegram to Gov. Smith from Indians of the Taos Pueblo, Northern New Mexico, was made public tonight at Democratic national headquarters.

"We knew President Lincoln and we understand you have the same things in mind that he had when he promised that our lands would not be taken away from us and that our freedom would be preserved," the telegram said. "There have been so many Presidents, but this is the first time since President Lincoln that we have heard things like you say. We thank you."

Hoover Praised by Wickersham

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—Former Atty.-Gen. George W. Wickersham, who called on Herbert Hoover today, said New York is veering strongly toward the Hoover column.

"It is no reflection on Mr. Smith as Governor of New York," Mr. Wickersham said, "to say that Mr. Hoover is so far better qualified by his national and world-wide experience to administer the office of President than Gov. Smith that there should be little difficulty on the part of any citizen to determine his course in this election."

Glass to Trail Borah in South

RICHMOND (Va.) Oct. 18. (AP)—Announcement that Senator Glass of Virginia will take the political-speaking trail of Senator Borah of Idaho was made here today by J. Murray Hooker, chairman of the Virginia State Democratic Committee.

Tentative plans call for addresses by Senator Glass at Charlotte, N. C. the 29th inst. at Chattanooga, Tenn., the 30th inst., and at Louisville, Ky., the 31st inst.

The Virginia Senator will have the same radio hook-up as Senator Borah, Hooker said.

STUDENTS WOULD FORCE VOTING

Undergraduates of Princeton Threaten Trade Boycott in Election Row

PRINCETON (N. J.) Oct. 18. (AP)—Nearly 2000 undergraduates at Princeton have threatened a trade boycott of the town, incensed at their inability to vote in the Presidential election next month. President John Grier Hibben and Dean Christian Gauss entered the lists today in behalf of the students and upheld their right to vote.

Salvation Army Shuns Politics

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—An order from Commander Evangeline C. Booth of the Salvation Army, last night halted plans of Lieutenant-Colonel Wallace Winchell, in charge of district headquarters on the Bowery, to deliver a lecture on Herbert Hoover.

Winchell had intended to lecture on "six months with Herbert Hoover in Belgian relief." Instead he read to his audience Commander Booth's order, which said the "Salvation Army is not in politics and neither our places of worship nor our officers are employed to take part in the election."

Winchell announced postponement of the lecture until after the election.

NOISY OVATION GREETS CURTIS

New Jerseyites Cheer as He Assails Gov. Smith

Vice-President Candidate Defends Budget Act

Can't Use Word "I" for It's Been Monopolized

CAMDEN (N. J.) Oct. 18. (AP)—New Jersey Republicans gave Senator Curtis, the Republican Vice-Presidential nominee, a noisy demonstration here tonight as he assailed Gov. Smith.

"He has changed his position so often," Curtis declared, "that I have worn out my shoes keeping up with him, but you needn't worry, he will never be elected.

"The other night the dear Governor criticised the budget. I doubt if he has ever read the Budget Act. I know he's never studied it. The budget helped us make the splendid fiscal record of the last seven and one-half years—the best made by any administration in the history of our government.

SURPLUS EVERY YEAR

"We have given the Treasury a surplus every year since we Republicans took charge. Within six months after we took over the government every government bond was at or above par."

Republicans of seven counties concentrated here tonight for the first appearance of the Republican Vice-President nominee in New Jersey and the mammoth convention hall resounded with cheers in the welcome and reception to him. An old-time torchlight parade preceded the mass meeting.

Women had taken an active part in the meeting and they occupied most of the platform.

Schoolgirls dressed in white uniforms gave organized yells and turned loose balloons and boys released bags full of Curtis badges which showered the large hall. Despite a rain, a parade of hundreds of automobiles was held.

SAYS WORD "I" MONOPOLIZED

Senator Curtis said that Gov. Smith had "left the impression" at Omaha that he indorsed the McNary-Haugen bill, but in Oklahoma he had told newspaper men he did not indorse the equalization-fee provision of that bill.

When one man yelled "and Curtis" after a yell for "Hoover" the Senator said: "I thank you, but I can't talk about Curtis because I would have to use the word I. Gov. Smith has monopolized that word."

The nominee was given another demonstration when he concluded his address with an appeal for the election of Herbert Hoover.

He referred to the record of Mr. Hoover in relief work and termed him "an executive without peer."

RED PLOT TRIAL CLOSES

BUCHAREST (Rumania) Oct. 18. (AP)—The big trial at Cluj of laborers accused of Bolshevik plotting closed today with thirty-three acquittals and thirty-six convictions. Sentences ranged from five days to ten years' imprisonment.

WOMEN GREET MRS. HOOVER

Two Receptions Tendered Wife of Nominee During Visit to Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18. (AP)—Hundreds of women greeted Mrs. Herbert Hoover, wife of the Republican Presidential nominee, here today, in two receptions planned by Republican women's organizations of the State. It was the second visit of Mrs. Hoover here during the campaign.

The first reception today was held at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel and followed a private luncheon. Here she met women of the Republican State Committee, Women's Republican Ways and Means Committee of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia Republican City Committee, Women's National Committee for Hoover, Pennsylvania division; and county committees throughout the State.

During the second reception, held at the Union League clubhouse, Mrs. Hoover greeted a long line of women unattached to any Republican organization, who had been gathering on the sidewalks about the clubhouse for several hours.

With Mrs. Hoover in the receiving line were Mrs. Charles F. Stauffer, vice-chairman of the Republican State Committee; Mrs. Worthington Scranton, Republican National Committee woman; Mrs. J. Willis Martin, chairman of the Pennsylvania division; Women's National Committee for Hoover; Mrs. Edward Martin, Washington, Pa., wife of the Republican State chairman, and Mrs. Henry Tatnall Brown, Jr., daughter of Gov. Fisher.

Before the luncheon, Mrs. Hoover was met at the hotel by a delegation from the Philadelphia Alumnae Association of Stanford University. Mrs. Hoover returned to Washington tonight.

DANIELS'S GUNS KEPT ON HOOVER

South Told Nominee of Republicans Doesn't Ring True on Prohibition

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) Oct. 18. (AP) Herbert Hoover was accused by Josephus Daniels in an address here tonight of having become "the spokesman of privilege," of failing to "ring true" on prohibition and of being obligated to the "Coolidge policies" regarding Muscle Shoals and power development.

Continuing his tour of the South in the interest of Gov. Smith, Daniels also charged that Hoover's influence in the fixing of wheat prices in 1919 cost the farmer $300,000,000.

"I cannot support Herbert Hoover because he does not ring true on prohibition," said Mr. Daniels. "He has not up to date said what he favors. . . . It was not until he was prodded that he even went so far as to declare, 'prohibition is a noble experiment,' meaning that it is a doubtful success; later he said he opposed the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment or any nullification.

"While I will continue to oppose Gov. Smith's suggestion for amending the law (knowing the prohibition law is safe beyond question,) I cannot as a dry Democrat go over to the support of his opponent whose chief advocates are as wet as the Atlantic Ocean; as wet even as the New York Democrats. . . . Confident that no changes can be made in the prohibition law, I prefer to accept the promise (of law enforcement) of Al Smith to the broken promises of Hoover's party."

EDISON REPORTS FOR SEPTEMBER

Southern California Utility Continues Gains

Increases in Net Earnings of $1,560,756 Shown

Nine Months' Total Well Up Over 1927 Period

September profits of the Southern California Edison Company increased substantially over September, 1927, and maintained the large gain in earnings since January, last, over corresponding periods last year, it was revealed in a statement issued yesterday by R. H. Ballard, president.

Net profits available for dividends and depreciation, after all other charges, amounted to $1,560,756.65 for the month of September, as against $1,367,470.42 for September, 1927, an increase of $193,286.23.

Gross earnings for the same period totaled $3,115,616.43, as compared with $2,877,549.15 last year, a gain of $438,067.28, or 16 per cent. Operating expenses and taxes increased $170,205.91, or approximately 20 per cent for the month, to $1,017,175.49. This leaves a net operating profit of $2,098,440.94, which compares with $1,830,579.67 in September, 1927, an increase of $267,-861.27, or 15 per cent.

Net profits available for dividends and depreciation, after all other charges for the first nine months of the year ended September 30, last, amounted to $13,447,108.66, as compared with $11,152,058.16 for the corresponding period of 1927, an increase of $2,295,050.50. The increased earnings over this period are applicable to a larger amount of capital stock outstanding.

Gross earnings for the same period aggregated $26,280,395.26, as against $23,049,997.26 for the same period last year, a gain of $3,230,-398, or 14 per cent.

Operating expenses and taxes for the nine months totaled $8,518,-941.19, as contrasted with $7,419,-135.82, an increase of $1,098,915.37, or about 15 per cent. The balance remaining as net operating profit before fixed charges totaled $17,-761,814.97, as compared with $15,-630,371.44 last year, a gain of $2,131,-442.62, or 14 per cent.

Giannini Denies Rumors Afoot

A. P. Giannini, chairman of the advisory committee of the Bank of Italy, issued a denial yesterday of rumors current in Los Angeles and San Francisco of impending changes in the executive staff of the bank. Mr. Giannini stated that no changes in the management are contemplated either here or in San Francisco.

In response to the unofficial report of the terms of exchange by which Bank of Italy will be converted into Trans-American Corporation, Bank of Italy sold up yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange to a high of 209½ and closed at 208. The last sale on the previous day was at 192.

Net Income of Otis Steel on Higher Plane

CLEVELAND, Oct. 18. (Exclusive) Net earnings of the Otis Steel Company for the third quarter amounted to $850,736, after depreciation and Federal taxes, which was the best showing for any quarter this year. This compares with $907,536 in the preceding quarter and with $348,186 in the corresponding period of 1927. Third-quarter earnings were equivalent to 92 cents a share on the common stock, against 6 cents a share earned for the like period a year ago.

Nine months' earnings of the company were $2,693,852, after depreciation and Federal taxes, compared with $1,178,720 in the first nine months of 1927. Earnings for the three quarters were equal to $2.58 a share on the common, against 76 cents reported for the corresponding period last year.

Production at the company's plants continues at capacity, while orders and shipments during the first half of October were up to the high level for the first two weeks of September.

Sales of Weber Showcase Gain

Sales of glass grinders, an exclusive product of Weber Showcase and Fixture Company, were in excess of $160,000 during September, A. C. Boesmiller, vice-president of the company, announced yesterday. Total sales of the grinder were eleven in number, four of which were purchased by Briggs Body Company, two by Hudson Motors, one by Durant Motors, one by Consolidated Plate Glass Company of Canada, one by Indestructo Glass Company and one by American Window Glass Company.

Weber's export trade is showing an increase, Mr. Boesmiller said. The company's office in Santiago, Chile, serving practically the whole of South America, is reported to be doing the best business since its opening. The agent for this office is conferring here with Weber officials at the present time.

Grain Exchange to Add Stocks

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—Directors of the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday voted to appropriate $100,000 for the opening of their own stock exchange.

The action virtually assures the establishment of a second important stock exchange in Chicago, and represents another departure of the Board of Trade men from the custom established in pioneer Chicago days of trading only in grains and produce. A few years ago a cotton pit was opened on the board.

Straus Bank in East Planned

Announcement has been made in Washington that the Comptroller of Currency has granted a charter for the establishment of the S. W. Straus National Bank and Trust Company of New York, it was reported here yesterday. S. W. Straus has been named president.

Financial structure of the bank will be represented by a capital of $2,000,000, a surplus of $500,000 and a contingency reserve of $100,000.

AVIATION RIVALRY GROWS

Bankers, Manufacturers and Transport Lines Fencing for Advantage; Struggle Predicted

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Intensive rivalry for strategic positions in the aviation industry is following the entrance into this new field of some of the strongest financial and business groups in the country. Those who are in close touch with developments even go so far as to predict within the next two or three years a period of rough-shod competition that will quickly eliminate the unfit and bring the stronger interests to close grips.

Under the surface there are signs to indicate that the powerful banking groups in the money centers are alive to the opportunities in aviation and are carefully investigating existing projects to determine the best course of action to take. One or two of the large investment banking houses have already become affiliated with aviation enterprises, and it would not be surprising to hear of others, as well as the large banks, making similar announcements soon.

SPARRING FOR POSITION

Manufacturers of airplanes and airplane equipment are also sparring for position. The important manufacturers, including Wright, Curtiss, Ford and Fokker, are maneuvering to line up with the transportation lines that are likely to show the best results. The Ford interests, which already operate several short passenger lines between eastern cities, and also are interested in the Maddux operations on the Pacific Coast, are believed to have laid plans calculated to lift the Ford influence to a place in aviation comparable to that held in the automobile industry.

Other manufacturers are fully cognizant of the power behind Ford competition. To offset this danger it is believed that alliances are brewing that will offer stiff opposition to the expansion of Ford activities in manufacturing and transportation.

Transportation lines also are working earnestly and quietly to effect the right alliances. Transcontinental Air, National Air Transport and Western Air Express occupy the center of attention, and there is considerable maneuvering among this group to enter strategic passenger and express territory. The managements are also concerned with tying up with the right financial and business interests in the new territories.

PURCHASERS FINANCED

As an indication of the keen interest the larger banks are taking in the industry, it is understood that one of the Chicago banks has established an aviation department for the purpose of financing airplane installment paper and making loans to manufacturers and air lines. The head of this department recently completed a tour of the important manufacturing plants of the country to obtain first-hand information of operations and financial standing.

This development undoubtedly forecasts the rise of finance companies interested chiefly in the financing of the private purchase of airplanes on the installment plan. If this plan proves as popular in the airplane business as it has in the automobile industry, the manufacturers are facing a prospective increase in business of major importance.

What one of the larger manufacturing companies thinks of the prospects is suggested by the report that a reorganization of its affairs is pending through which the entrance of new financial interests will substantially increase the scope of activities.

Oil Royalties Concern Given State License

Garner Royalties, Inc., which for several years has been dealing in oil royalties in Southern California and other fields, has been granted a permit by the State Corporation Department to recapitalize the company as a Delaware corporation with the same name and without change of personnel, it was announced yesterday.

The new company was granted a permit by Commissioner Friedlander under which it is authorized to dispose of 116,214 of its 1,000,000 preferred shares, 10,000,000 Class A common, and all of its 1,000,000 Class B common shares. The preferred has a par value of $5 per share and the Class A and Class B 1 mill per share. The preferred stock is 8 per cent cumulative and redeemable and preferred in case of liquidation.

Under the permit the company is authorized to sell and issue 116,114 preferred and 580,570 Class A common to the California corporation in exchange for the assignment of all the property and assets of that company subject to liabilities of not to exceed $30,000.

Century Ribbon Earnings Drop

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (Exclusive) Century Ribbon Mills, Inc., reports for the quarter ended September 30, last, net income of $10,180 after depreciation and Federal taxes, equal to 68 cents a share on the $1,499,500 7 per cent cumulation preferred stock outstanding. This compares with $14,859 or 59 cents on $1,518,500 preferred stock in the preceding quarter and $35,336, equal after preferred dividends to 7 cents a share on 100,000 common shares in the 1927 quarter.

Nine months' income totaled $105,972, equal after preferred dividends to 26 cents a share, against $198,490 or $1.12 on common in the 1927 period.

EX-RIGHTS SOON

Bancitaly Corporation and Bank of Italy stock will sell "ex-rights" Bank of America stock on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange the 31st inst., it was announced yesterday.

Anglo-Persian Oil Marketing Unit Launched

LONDON, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—Formation is announced here of a new company by the Anglo-Persian and Asiatic petroleum companies, which will take over the entire distributing organization of both companies in South and East Africa, Egypt, Sudan, Palestine, Syria, Red Sea and Ceylon territories.

The new concern will be called the Consolidated Petroleum Company, and the Anglo-Persian and the Asiatic will hold equal shares in it and have equal representation on the board of directors.

The Times is informed that there is no intention whatever of putting up the price of oil, as the companies are satisfied they can obtain substantial economies in distribution without asking the consumer to pay more.

Gibson Talks to Exchange Group

A. T. Gibson, president of the Lawrence Warehouse Company, with branches all over the United States, in an address before members of the Foreign Exchange Club of Los Angeles, last evening described and outlined the various types, uses and histories of the many kinds of warehouse receipts and their relation to present-day banking.

Mr. Gibson segregated warehouse receipts into two classes, negotiable and nonnegotiable. He explained that in approximately the past twelve years the revolution of the receipt into a medium of bank acceptance has been made. Legal safeguards thrown around the negotiable receipt were outlined by Mr. Gibson.

BANCORPORATION TO LIST ISSUE OF STOCK

Trading in capital stock of West Coast Bancorporation is expected to begin on the San Francisco Stock Exchange late this week, it was reported yesterday following application for listing. Application is made for 250,000 shares of Class A no-par stock, of which there is authorized 500,000 shares and outstanding 170,906 shares. The company was formed early this year to acquire control of banks in Oregon. Up to the present seven have been acquired, of which five are in Portland. The stock is currently selling at $34.

OIL-WELL SUPPLY GROUP IN PROTEST

Possibility of relieving stockholders of personal liability under the law as it now stands was vigorously opposed at a meeting yesterday of the oil well supply chapter of the Los Angeles Credit Men's Association at the Alexandria. The consensus of opinion of the group, which is composed of about twenty-five oil well supply companies, was forwarded to the Corporation Commissioner and other interested parties.

EARNINGS OF KRESGE STORES UP

Net Increase for Six Months on 1927 Period Reported as $60,712

NEW YORK, Oct. 18, (Exclusive) Consolidated net income of Kresge Department Stores and wholly owned subsidiaries for the six months ended July 31, last, after depreciation and Federal taxes, amounted to $196,820, equal to $5.56 a share on the $3,540,380 cumulative 6 per cent preferred stock outstanding, on which accumulated dividends amounted to 10 per cent on July 1.

Allowing for only regular preferred dividends, the balance is equivalent to 22 cents a share on the 243,524 no-par common shares, the majority of which is owned by Sebastian S. Kresge. Net income for the corresponding period of 1927 was $136,108, or $3.84 on the preferred stock.

These figures do not include the operating loss of Kresge Department Stores Corporation, which operates the Newark store, 50 per cent interest in which is owned by Kresge Department Stores, Inc.

The consolidated income account for the six months follows:

Net sales	$2,122,371	$2,171,534
Gross profit on sales	703,893	660,983
Other income	151,748	792,743
Total income	855,641	978,441
Expenses, depreciation, Federal tax, etc.	624,926	742,333
Net income	194,856	136,108

Estimated Net Earnings of Oil Concern Told

With production in the first thirteen days of the current month averaging about 18,856 barrels daily, officials of the Italo Petroleum Corporation of America yesterday estimated that the October gross earnings will run at a rate in excess of $450,000.

Earnings for July were officially reported at $354,182, with net after all charges totaling $265,000, which is equal to 28 per cent annually on the common stock, after provision for preferred dividends. While complete figures are not available as yet, officials announced that earnings during August ran at about the same level, while September gross income was approximately $390,000.

The following officers and directors were officially announced: William Lacey, president; A. G. Wilkes, vice-president; F. V. Gordon, vice-president; Robert McKeon, vice-president; John M. Peratis, Paul Masoni, secretary; G. Rolandelli, John B. De Maria, Oreste Mattucci, Harry L. Martini, Victor Pizzi, E. B. Siena, Adam Bianchi, F. B. Chapin, F. E. Keeler, Hugh F. Stewart, R. R. McLachlen, assistant secretary; George W. McNear and Maurice C. Myers.

Bank of Italy Deposits Gain

Deposits of the Bank of Italy National Trust and Savings Association increased $6,000,000 between June 30, last, and the 3rd inst., the date of the last call for condition issued by the Comptroller of Currency, according to an announcement made by the bank yesterday. The published report will show, the statement said, total deposits of $571,000,000, compared with $565,000,000 at the end of the half-year.

Reserves increased $2,000,000 to $57,000,000, advancing from $55,000,000 on June 30, last. The volume of letters of credit and acceptances increased from $14,000,000 to $20,000,000, public money dropped from $67,000,000 to $49,000,000 and government deposits from $34,000,000 to $11,000,000. Investment in United States bonds advanced $15,000,000 to $176,000,000 and loans stood at $400,000,000.

Net Earnings of Utility Increase

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—Net earnings of the Commonwealth Edison Company for the quarter ended September 30, last, amounted to $2,501,114, equal to $2.01 a share on 1,243,924 shares of capital stock outstanding, against $2,257,511, or $2.04 a share on 1,108,924 shares in the same quarter last year. Operating revenues were $17,607,054, against $16,314,516 in the 1927 quarter.

For twelve months to September 30, net income was $15,274,914, or $12.12 a share on the outstanding capital stock. Operating revenues were $75,656,369, compared with $70,439,616 in the same period a year ago.

M'FADDEN STIRS BANKERS

Congressman's Suggestion of Placing Broker Loan Control in Reserve Bank Opposed

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1928, in all Countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—When Congressman McFadden said last week before the bankers' meeting that "it might be necessary to place the future granting of brokers' loans under the supervision of the Federal reserve banks," he started something.

Henry R. Hayes, president of the Investment Bankers' Association of America, whose membership handles more than 90 per cent of the security offerings in the country, opposes Mr. McFadden's suggestion. Mr. Hayes, 49 years of age, Harvard graduate, vice-president of Stone & Webster & Blodgett, believes the Federal reserve is doing good work as a balance wheel against wide fluctuations in commodity prices.

"But," says Mr. Hayes, "it is a grave question whether it should also be called upon to determine as well the course of security prices levels."

"I do not believe the American people will stand very long for the passing over to a few men in a central bank the tremendous responsibility to determine in specific instances the purposes for which their credit should be used."

Roy A. Young, Federal Reserve Board governor, while not directly referring to the McFadden suggestion, did tell the bankers that it was not the purpose of the Federal Reserve to "ear-mark" credit.

Meantime, call money rates remain high and the stock market unusually active.

The most important body of organized American citizens today—one of the most important in the world—are the nine men who sit as the United States Supreme Court.

The decisions of this court, oftentimes involving hundreds of millions of dollars, is final. It requires no army or navy to enforce its decrees, and much of its work involves great issues of business.

In that court at this time sits the oldest man who has ever served in the Supreme Court of the United States. His father was a famous New England writer, author of "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table." The son is named for the father. He is Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, now in his eighty-eighth year. He has been on the bench for more than a quarter of a century, and is recognized as unusually able, keen, fearless and progressive.

The decisions written by Justice Holmes are considered masterpieces in thought and expression. While he often joins in the minority opinion, some one has said that these dissenting opinions "will be the law of the next generation if America moves forward."

Following closely upon the announcement of the opening of an airplane line to connect Montreal and New York comes announcement that soon there will be opened a new hard-surface concrete highway, the Arnold Trail, to connect Three Rivers, Quebec and Portland, Me. Only two miles remain to be completed on the Canadian side, and twenty-two miles on the American side.

This new highway will shorten by many miles the distance between Quebec and New England, and will be an ideal route for tourists entering Canada, for it will pass through one of the most beautiful parts of Canada and the United States.

Rumor of Suit on Rio Grande Titles Denied

Rumors that prompted a vicious selling drive in the stock of the Rio Grande Oil Company yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange were dismissed by Charles S. Jones, vice-president and treasurer, as wholly unfounded. The story freely circulated on the street was to the effect that litigation is pending that will question the legality of the Rio Grande-Barnsdall leases in the new Elwood field near Santa Barbara.

"There is not the slightest possibility," Mr. Jones said, "of any developments that would cloud our titles to the acreage in the Elwood field. I am at loss to explain the source of these rumors, and the company regrets exceedingly to see the stock fluctuating in such an erratic manner on the basis of such erroneous reports."

From a high of 170 7-8, Rio Grande broke quickly to a low of 151 in response to the circulation of the rumor. The close was at 156.

RUDE ON PROGRAM OF BUILDING-LOAN

C. A. Rude, vice-president of the Citizens National Trust and Savings Bank, will be the principal speaker at the October luncheon meeting of the Building-Loan Secretaries' Association, to be held at the Windsor Tea Room on the 19th inst., according to an announcement by Neill Davis, secretary. Rude is also a director of Robert Morris Associates, an association of bank-loaning officers of the country. A large attendance is expected from the 115 associations south of Santa Barbara represented by the Secretaries' Association.

PRICE OF EXCHANGE SEAT DROPS IN SALE

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—A stock exchange membership was sold today for $475,000, a drop of $5000 from the record price established earlier in the week. The price was a surprise to some Wall-street brokers, who predicted the next sale price would be $500,000. The sale prior to the $480,000 purchase was for $465,000.

High money continues.

During this period, securities with fixed returns are to be had at unusually favorable prices.

If bought now their yield will be increasingly gratifying as a normal money market returns. Or, a corresponding appreciation of principal may then be realized on.

METAL MARKET DEMAND STEADY

Some Relaxation in Inquiry Noted in Week

Volume of Sales Holding at Moderate Level

Price Situation Reported as Holding Strong

BY CHARLES F. WILLS
Editor the Mining Journal, Phoenix

As compared with the activity of the past several weeks there is a calm in the metal situation that makes it look very quiet, although sales are actually keeping up well. There has been no change in the metal prices, copper standing at 15.02 f.o.b refinery; lead at 6.50 f.o.b New York, and zinc at 6.25 f.o.b St. Louis.

Zinc remains quiet and uninteresting. The production curtailment in the tri-State district has had a little effect in reducing the stocks of ore, but it will take a number of months to make its effect felt. The western zinc producers are stated to be changing their contracts with the mines and calling for delivery of definite quantities of ore rather than "full output," as has been the case. This is probably only a precaution to protect against any undue production increases. In general, western mines can handle the metal at the present price and with a satisfactory margin of profit.

It is expected that the September statistics on zinc will show a somewhat improved condition. The buying policy has been such that all of the surplus is in the hands of the producer and very little with the consumer, and thus the stocks, while apparently large, are not excessive under a hand-to-mouth buying policy. It is expected that the figures will show lessened retort operations and less, if any, increase in stocks.

Lead still continues with a reasonably active market, and for over two months now the sales have been well above the normal figures. The same relative slowness as is expected in copper probably will not apply to lead, although the activity has been such as to indicate a lessened volume of sales and a more nearly normal condition.

There is still some talk about the Federal Trade Commission investigating the uniformity of the last copper advance. The fact is cited that there was quite a bit of opposition on the part of some producers to advance the price, yet it seemed to be advanced with unanimity. It is contended by those urging investigation that, were not some organized body of producing companies back of the movement, price movements would be irregular and that those who opposed the increase would continue selling at the old price.

The thing that the copper producers are most anxious about is to produce a stabilized price and market. The price must be such as to produce a fair profit and pay fair wages, it must be low enough to prevent the use of substitutes, to prevent the flooding of the market by high-cost producers, and to encourage an increased use of the metal. The producers do not want a runaway market with its instability and speculation.

The copper buying wave which sent the price of the metal up ended with the consumers fairly well bought ahead. October requirements are covered, November metal practically all covered and substantial orders on the books for December deliveries. It is now felt that the period of quiet buying may last until toward the end of the year, as it will not be the inclination to buy in excess of requirements and carry over the metal with January 1 inventories.

While copper producers are stated to be sold out for sixty days ahead, the fabricators are in somewhat the same position as they are generally sold out for their capacity production for the next two months' period. Activity in the electrical, automobile and building industries is running at a high rate and any alarm that the consumers had overbought does not seem to be justified.

A quiet copper market for a couple of months would be a normal condition, in view of the heavy August and September business and, even though sales may be off, deliveries will maintain at the high rate. It is stated that European purchases for November and December have not been made, but the volume will not be large enough to create a substantial buying movement.

Europe is gradually approaching its pre-war importance in copper consumption. Before the war Europe used more copper than did the United States, but the rapid industrial advance of this country since war times has made the United States the greatest consumer. Since 1922 the increase in copper consumption in Europe has been 97 per cent, while the increase in United States consumption has been 49 per cent.

It is expected that Europe will consume this year about 850,000 metric tons of copper, an amount which will place it in the lead and ahead of the United States. The improvement in the European copper situation has been greater during this past year than was generally anticipated and bids fair to continue on the same high level.

It is not expected to see any conditions during the balance of 1928 pected to hold firm at the present which will cause a further increase in the price of copper, but it is expected figure.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (Exclusive)—Operations on the local crude rubber market were on a smaller scale and there appeared to be disinclination on the part of both buyers and sellers to do business despite the improved tone of the foreign markets. Opening prices were 10 and 20 points above the previous finals and with two exceptions no price alterations occurred until the close, when slight declines took place.

The outside market was quiet and uninteresting and no change was made in spot price, which closed at 19c. London was up 1-16d to 8 5-16d.

A Paradox

THIS rising stock market is likely to make us forget the virtues of investment. Now, however, comes an opportunity to get back to a sound investment basis and yet enjoy a highly attractive speculative possibility.

A new issue of 5% bonds of that industrial giant, Cities Service Company, is available. The market value of the company's securities junior to this issue amounts to more than $4500 for each $1000 bond.

Attached to each bond is a stock purchase warrant through which the bond owner, for the next three years, has a "call" on 15 shares of Cities Service common stock at very attractive prices. The first "call," at $72, at which price the stock is now selling, justifies confidence in the speculative profits that may be made.

The price is 97½. Write us about these bonds with stock purchase warrants attached, or call at our offices.

Stock Purchase Warrants Are Attractive

THE tremendous recent profits in common stocks have emphasized the attractive character of bonds with conversion or stock purchase privileges. Such securities allow participation in future common stock appreciation and at the same time preserve principal and income intact in case of a general stock market decline.

A decidedly attractive issue offering these features is to be found in CITIES SERVICE COMPANY 5% Debentures due 1963, with common stock warrants attached. The Company is one of the largest and most firmly entrenched organizations of its kind in America and has established a record of unusually sound and profitable operations.

TRADING FEVER AT HIGH PITCH

top at 176 and then lost all but a fraction of its gain. Rossia Insurance jumped 15 1-4 points, American International 8 and Texas and Pacific 7, but they did not reach their previously established 192. highs.

General Motors moved up 4 points to a new top at 223½ on a turnover of more than 200,000 shares but lost half its gain. Nearly 230,000 shares of Studebaker changed hands, the stock closing 3 1-8 points higher at 45 3-8 after having duplicated the year's high of 86 1-4. Packard, Nash, Graham-Paige and Chrysler, lost ground.

Oil shares quieted down somewhat after their spirited advance earlier in the week, but Wall street is expecting formal announcement within a day or two of the results of the conference of oil executives seeking an agreement for a world-wide curtailment of crude oil production. Only a few rails participated in the up-swing.

Commodity markets were reactionary. Wheat futures dropped a fraction of a cent a bushel and cotton dropped 75 cents to $1.50 a bale. Coffee and sugar quotations showed an easier undertone.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Except for a jump of 18 points in Japanese yen to 46.56 cents there were no changes of consequence in the foreign exchange market. Sterling dables held steady around $4.85 1-32.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Crude Breaks Under Sudden Liquidation; Bank of Italy Jumps 17 Points

Rio Grande Oil proved a sensation in the trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. This issue, which has been the object of a demand seldom equaled in the oil stocks, developed weakness from the opening at 170½. Offerings increased by noon, a flood of selling orders developing and the stock broke 20 points to a low at 151. Demand failed to cause a rally of 13 points to 164, which quotations failing to a close at 156, off 9¾ net.

Union of California fell off a point and Union Associates, 1½ points to 52½ and 52 1-4, respectively. Signal A lost 7-8 to 49 5-8. Richfield eased off 3-8 to 49 5-8, while the warrants were maintained at 19½.

Interest in Richfield was stimulated after the close of the market on a report from the Semi-Tropic district in Kern county that favorable gas and oil showings had been encountered in the drilling of a wildcat well. Richfield has approximately 15,000 acres in this district.

Mascot was a strong spot among the lower-priced oil shares. This issue recovered from the slump of the previous session to jump $1 to $2.75. Liquidation caused a fall to $2.30 where the issue closed, up 25 cents net. Victor Oil soared 30 cents to $1. Bolsa Chica and Republic Petroleum held steady to $2.20 and $1.20, respectively.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—The small steer supply was cleaned up at about steady prices; however, the steers were in the majority, and sold slowly at 15@25c lower prices. Indications of fairly liberal receipts for Friday sustained buying somewhat. Other classes ruled steady.

Two cars of medium 1097-pound Central California steers topped at 12.25, while half a load of 942-pound weights brought 10.50. A car of 862-pound holdover Imperial Mexicans made 9.50. Other liberal sales were mostly common light Arizonas from 8.50@9.75, the latter price also taking a similar lot of 403-pound Arizonas for feeding purposes.

A load and a half of good 826-pound Idaho heifers topped at 10.65, while a load and a half of good 1176-pound Idaho cows made 10.50. A car of 881-pound cows and heifers realized 9.75. Other liberal sales turned from 9.25@9.50. Common and medium cows and heifers, including Texas, Arizonas, New Mexican, Utahs and other Californian, sold from 7.25@8.00, mostly 7.50@8.50. Cutters and low cutting steers largely from 6.00@6.75. A few good bulls sold from 9.00@9.30, with medium bulls from 8.00@8.75, and common bulls around 7.50.

CALVES—Good and choice calves and vealers, in limited supply, held steady, while plain and heavy calves, largely Arizonas and New Mexicos, in liberal supply and not very broad demand, sold slowly at 25@50c lower prices. Odd head of vealers sold around 15.00, while half a load of good and choice 238-pound Arizonas realized 14.00. The bulk of offerings, mostly 275 to 400-pound weights, sold from 10.50@13.25, with very thin kinds down to 8.00.

HOGS—Only two loads were offered and these sold readily at 10@15c higher prices. A car of 164-pound Nebraskas topped at $11.75, while a car of mixed 180-pound Californias realized 11.60, with 120-pound pigs at 10.00. A small lot of 179-pound trucked-in butchers made 11.70. California packing sows cashed for 9.50.

SHEEP—None. A deck and a half of lambs held over from Wednesday were still unsold. Medium to choice fall lambs were quoted from 11.00@13.00, with medium to choice yearling ewes from 5.00@7.00.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—A broad upward movement, carrying more than a score of issues to new highs, marked unusually heavy trading on the curb market today, total sales for the second successive day crossing the million mark.

The pace slackened up considerably toward the end of the session, however, and a number of issues passed as traders became apprehensive of the next big total of brokers' loans announced after the close. In the first two hours, sales approximated 600,000 shares, a new record for the exchange.

Oilesburgh Coulter Disc led the industrials with a gain of 12 points, which was reduced to 21 toward the close. In a small turnover, Monsanto Chemical soared 15 points. Kellogg Switchboard made an extreme gain of 10 points and Bliss & Co. of 8 points. Budd Manufacturing mounted 8 points to a new top in good demand.

Mines developed irregularity, Newmont made a 3-point gain, then fell back fractionally below yesterday's close. Bunker Hill and Phelps Dodge lost about 2 points each. United Verde Extension was again a strong point, gaining more than a point in further expectation of an extra dividend, and Andes Copper was firm.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

DAILY EASTERN CITRUS MARKETS

[By the Associated Press]

Carlot shipments of California citrus compiled from railroad passing reports by the California Fruit Growers' Exchange were announced yesterday as follows:

	Oranges.	Lemons.
SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA
October 17	86	18
Season to date	35,702	11,633
Last season to date	47,805	12,692
CENTRAL CALIFORNIA
Season to date	9,808	303
Last season to date	7,853	309
NORTHERN CALIFORNIA
Season to date	665	129
Last season to date	491	150

California citrus generally brought higher prices on eastern and middle western auctions yesterday, with a good demand apparent at most market centers. Valencia oranges, although weak to lower at some points, on the whole averaged steadily to strong and higher. Lemons, showing a good demand, were strong to higher mostly.

Analysis of yesterday's trading showed the following range per box:

SUGAR MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—The raw sugar market was firmer early today, with refiners showing more interest for near-by lots.

Prices advanced 1-32c to the basis of 5.96 for spots duty paid. Sales at this level were about 80,000 bags of Cubans from store for prompt shipment to local refiners.

Sales reflected withdrawals on old contracts continued of good volume, but new business was light. Prices were unchanged at 5.92@5.96 for fine granulated.

Futures closed steady; approximated sales 30,400 tons: December, 2.90; March, 2.97; May, 3.20; July, 3.29; September, 3.37.

LOS ANGELES HARBOR

YACHT BUILDING UPTURN PENDING

Los Angeles and Long Beach Yards Optimistic

Orders for Fifty-five New Craft in Sight

Would Keep Plants Running at Full Blast

Fifty-five prospective orders for new yachts are now in the hands of Los Angeles and Long Beach boat builders, and enough appear assured to keep the district's boat-building plants pushed to handle the business throughout the winter months.

The situation with the Southern California fleet, by far the largest on the Coast, is a healthy one, according to James Shuck, naval architect and sales manager for Fellows & Stewart, due principally to the number of large craft added to the fleet in 1928 and the increased number still being kept in active commission.

Contrasted with last year, when many boats never left their moorings, and the past tendency to tie up in September for the winter, this year finds at least 60 per cent of the craft scheduled to remain in commission until February or even March.

"More and more," declared Shuck, "boat owners realize that winter months in Southern California waters are equally as good for the sport as summer months.

"Then the coming motorboat show and international regatta to be held at San Diego in December, also will be a big boost for the sport in southern waters. National owners of racing craft who usually pass the winter season in Florida waters are now shipping their craft to California."

Already the pulse of several yards is quickening in anticipation of imminent heavy orders. Fellows & Stewarts' program includes completion last week of a fifty-foot express cruiser; nearing completion of a sixty-five-foot schooner costing $20,000, and of a fifty-foot cruiser costing $25,000.

Harbor Boat Building Company has just completed an eighty-foot Diesel cruiser, under designs of D. M. Callis, for Frank W. Davey, and is building, besides several smaller craft, an eighty-foot twin-screw cruiser for John F. Logel, designed by Edson B. Schock. She will have two 150-horsepower Union Diesel engines, mahogany fittings, teak decks, and will cost $60,000.

Garbutt & Walsh's yards and the Wilmington Boat Works are busy on sloops and powered craft and repairs, and the Whiting yard at Long Beach is constructing a sixty-foot deep-water cruiser under Schock's designs, with which Larry Kent, film star, will cruise to the South Seas next summer.

LINER TAKES OUT FOOTBALL ROOTERS

Yesterday saw the first of the week-end football crowds outbound by steamer, when the Lassco liner Harvard sailed for San Francisco. Today will witness the departure of the Yale and the H. F. Alexander, each loaded to capacity with rooters for the University of Southern California's game with University of California at Berkeley tomorrow. Both excursion ships will return late Sunday. Reservations also have been made on the Ruth Alexander for 250 followers of the Pasadena Junior College squad for San Diego the 26th inst. for the game with San Diego Junior College the 27th inst. The liner will return to its Wilmington dock the morning of the 28th inst.

The Panama Pacific electric liner California will arrive tomorrow with 670 passengers from New York and Havana and several thousand tons of freight. It is the largest passenger list ever set for this time of year.

The tanker George H. Jones, "mystery ship," the mystery being where she will go next, went out yesterday for New York with 80,000 barrels of gasoline, under trip charter to Standard Transportation Company. Her last visit here was during the British coal strike two years ago, and she has been all over the world since. Incidentally most of the Standard Transportation tankers now are passing up this port for Cartagena and Corpus Christi, which are nearer markets.

That the Pacific Coast plaintiffs presented a strong case against the practice of split deliveries intercoastal westbound, is the belief of R. S. Sawyer, traffic manager for the Associated Jobbers and Manufacturers of Los Angeles, who attended the hearing at San Francisco Monday and Tuesday. The session was conducted by Examiner

AIR MAIL SCHEDULE

Now in effect: Universal postage rate of 5 cents per ounce and 10 cents for each additional ounce anywhere in the United States or Canada applies on all matter sent by air mail.

Transcontinental air mail service to and from Southern California is operated in both directions daily, leaving Air Mail Airport (Los Angeles) at 7:35 a.m. Pacific Time and arriving at Hadley Field (New Brunswick, N. J.) at 5 p.m. Eastern Standard Time the second day. Arrival at the New York City post-office one hour later.

Westbound departure from Hadley Field is at 12:15 p.m. Eastern Standard Time, with arrival at Los Angeles at 5:23 p.m. Pacific Time the second day.

The Los Angeles daily closing for air mail is 6:30 a.m. at Arcade Station and at 5:45 a.m. at Terminal Annex, later at the air mail letter boxes, painted red, white and blue, and located in various parts of the city.

Items for the air mail are restricted to not more than fifty (50) pounds in weight and to not more than eighty-four (84) inches in length and girth combined.

PACIFIC COAST ROUTE

Collections are made at all air mail boxes not later than 9 p.m. and at the Arcade Station at post-office not later than 10:30 p.m.

The route operates on the following schedule: Northbound, leave Los Angeles 12:01 a.m., arrive at Bakersfield 11:45 a.m., Fresno 3:20 a.m.; San Francisco, 5:30 a.m.; Seattle, 8 p.m. Southbound, leave Seattle 8 p.m., Portland, 7 a.m., San Francisco, 1:15 p.m., Fresno, 3:15 p.m., Bakersfield, 4:48 p.m. Arrive Los Angeles 6:15 p.m.

E. S. Brown of the United States Shipping Board, and was adjourned to reopen in New York November 7.

Hardware dry goods paper and other commercial interests the length of the Coast, voiced their protest, as did retailers, including Montgomrey-Ward and Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Sawyer, whose prime move was to establish actual fact of transportation on the split basis, was associated in the attack by Seth Mann, representing the San Francisco chamber, and S. P. Wettrick of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce. Steel interests had their representatives present, but took no part in the hearing. It is believed they will, however, at the New York session.

West Coast interests are watching for the outcome of intercoastal conference parleys in the hope that the lines themselves will solve the split-delivery issue and obviate any need for a decision by the Shipping Board.

Alfred Saar, seaman on the coastal liner San Juan, fell thirty-five feet down the forward hatch en route here from San Francisco yesterday and escaped with a fractured ankle. He landed on rope slings. Capt. F. C. Dellegar disembarked sixty-six travelers and dropped a full cargo, and took the same amount north last night.

Four thousand bales of Southwest cotton will go out tonight in the holds of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha freighter Asuka Maru, bound from New York to Yokohama and Kobe. The vessel will lift 3638 tons of cargo here, according to Y. Kimura, local manager.

MRS. TAYLOR WILL MARRY HERE TODAY

Society Interested in Junior League Member's Wedding to Virginian

Of much interest to society of the Southland is the announcement made yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Waller Taylor of South Harvard Boulevard, of the approaching marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Elisabeth Taylor, to Bradford Walker of Richmond, Va. The ceremony will be solemnised quietly at 5 p.m. today at the family home with only near relatives and a few intimate friends present.

After the wedding trip Mr. Walker and his bride will make their home in Richmond, Va. They will leave for the East tomorrow.

Mrs. Taylor met Mr. Walker while she was in the East last winter on her way home from abroad. She was visiting her aunt, Mrs. Henry W. Miller, in Washington, D. C., and while there a house party was given in Richmond to which Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Taylor were bidden. The friendship formed there later culminated in the engagement.

Mr. Walker is president of the Life Insurance Company of Virginia, while Mrs. Taylor is one of the most popular members of the younger set here and is prominent in the activities of the Los Angeles Junior League.

Judge Says Bill Must be Paid by Hawthorne

Whether the city of Hawthorne ever enjoys the excitement of an election on the proposal to recall Trustee Robert Ramage, the fiddler must be paid, to the extent of $750, Superior Judge Gates so ruled yesterday.

Several months ago a recall petition was circulated and filed. A majority of the Board of Trustees stood with Trustee Ramage, and declined to call an election. Mandamus proceedings were started, and the trustees thereupon, by a vote of three to two, determined that lawyers must be hired to defend them and an order was made on the treasurer to pay them $500 and $350, respectively.

Yesterday Arthur Germain, a taxpayer, appeared before Judge Gates to demand an injunction to stop the payment, on the ground that the Trustees proposed to use city funds to pay the cost of defending their own political careers. Judge Gates decided it is the law that Trustees can do exactly that, and denied the injunction.

WATER HEATER APPROVED

Recommendation by Supt. Hjelte that a water heater be installed in the Hawley field house at a cost of $300 was approved by the Playground and Recreation Commission yesterday.

COUNCIL IN ROW OVER AIR DEPOT

Park Department Accused During Sizzling Debate

Attempt to Block Plans for Development Charged

Colden Alone in Defense of Commission Members

The most sizzling debate in the City Council since it moved to the marble and gold surroundings at the new City Hall took place yesterday when it was charged that the park department is attempting to block the development of air-terminal facilities in Los Angeles by seeking to prevent the use of city-owned land adjoining Griffith Park for air-depot purposes. At times there were a half-dozen Councilmen on their feet, all talking at once. Councilman Colden alone defended the park department.

Director of Municipal Airports Henderson and members of the Council's Airport Committee, headed by Councilman Hall, say that Griffith Park depot is essential as an air terminal. The city bought the 365 acres of land from the Griffith estate in 1921 for $141,000. The land adjoins Griffith Park on the east.

Councilman Randall declared that the park department had not planted "a single grass seed or tree or spent a penny" on the property or made any attempt to have it dedicated for park purposes, until the use of the land for air-depot purposes, as an adjunct to the 640-acre municipal airport at Mines Field, was discussed by the Council.

USED BY MILITIAMEN

The city desires 175 acres of the land for air-depot purposes, this area having been used as a base by the aircraft division of the National Guard.

Director Henderson says that it can be made an ideal close-in passenger, mail and express depot for planes that have their main base, headquarters, servicing and hangars at Mines Field, and will be an attractive facility to offer air transport companies.

The row started when Councilman Colden presented an ordinance dedicating the 355 acres for park purposes.

"Who ordered that ordinance prepared?" demanded Councilman Hall, "the Council did not order it."

"I did," replied Councilman Colden. "We should have a hearing on the matter."

"The park department has been standing idly by for years doing nothing with the property, and now when we need it for air-depot purposes this ordinance to rob the city of a most needed air depot comes slipping in," said Councilman Hall.

"I am not trying to slip anything over," shouted Councilman Colden. "I protest against these remarks against the park department and Van Griffith."

VAN GRIFFITH TARGET

"As long as you are defending Van Griffith," said Hall to Colden, "you might explain why Griffith is on the city's pay roll at $200 a month as an investigator in the City Prosecutor's office. Is he a city employee or is he president of the Park Commission?"

"Mr. Griffith's father gave the city a great park," answered Councilman Colden.

"Well, Van Griffith isn't going to prevent the city using city land for an air depot if I have my way," shouted Councilman Hall.

Councilman Rantiall offered a motion to have an ordinance prepared at once setting aside the entire 355 acres for airport purposes. It was decided that this ordinance should await a report from the Finance Committee as to just how many acres are needed for air-depot purposes. The City Engineer now is preparing a topographical map of the land, and the area needed for the air-depot purposes will be definitely fixed by the Council and then the ordinance will be prepared.

PARK PLAN SIDETRACKED

Councilman Colden's ordinance setting aside the land for park purposes was sent to the Council's Finance Committee, the members of which are Chairman Alber and Councilmen Randall and Hall, all strong advocates of the plan to use the land for an air depot. Director of Airports Henderson said that if this land is set aside for an air depot he will be able to provide facilities there that will be the equal of any in the United States.

Director of Airports Henderson has established an office at Room 80-B, City Hall. He asked the Council yesterday to create positions for his department. These are one airport superintendent, one clerk, two airport attendants, one watchman and one stenographer. The grand stand and other property now on Mines Field is owned by the National Air Races Association. The city may purchase such property as it will need at the airport.

Survivors Pay Tribute to Hero Dead

Gallant Soldier Remembers Past

NICARAGUA VIEW TOLD BY LEADER

Visitor to Los Angeles Says Country Welcomes United States Help

Uncle Sam is regarded more in the light of a helpful big brother than a meddler by the better element of Nicaragua, according to Gilberto Lacayo B., personal representative in the United States of Gen. Moncada, nominee of the Liberal party for the Presidency of that country, who is visiting his brother, Osbaldo Lacayo B., of 4885 West Twenty-first street.

GILBERTO LACAYO B.

Word from Gen. Moncada is to the effect that he was victorious at the recent primary election by a majority of 30,000 votes. His election is virtually assured, declares his representative.

"The Liberal party of Nicaragua has and will always condemn the subversive attitude of Sandino," Senor Lacayo B., declared. "Sandino pursued no ideals nor principles, but for placing all kinds of obstacles to American supervision of elections, thereby helping the Conservatives. Fortunately Sandino is a total failure and rumors are current that he has taken refuge in Honduras following his fruitless and bloody warefare.

"Gen. McCoy as supervisor and president of the national electoral council has gained the confidence and sympathy of all the valuable element of the country. When Gen. Moncada is elected fairly and squarely, as we are sure he will be, a peaceful era of progress will ensue for Nicaragua, with the co-operation of the United States which is sincerely appreciated."

Senor Lacayo B. will remain in Los Angeles for several weeks, he said.

SKETCHES APPROVED

Preliminary approval of the Art Commission has been obtained on sketches of the North Hollywood plunge and bathhouse to be erected by the department, according to report made by Supt. Hjelte to the Playground and Recreation Commission yesterday. Final plans of the Exposition Park community building have been improved by the Art Commission and work has been started, he reported.

Hizzoner's War Record Brings Pension of $30

The Bureau of Pensions at Washington yesterday announced that George E. Cryer, of Los Angeles, sometime top-sergeant in Company C, Seventh California Volunteer Infantry, Spanish-American War, henceforth will receive $30 a month.

The former sergeant, now the Mayor of Los Angeles, could not be reached last night for the details of the belated pension, which members of his family said, "he's been trying to get for a long time."

The only other war-time gratuity he ever received, the records say, was a gold watch given him by members of his outfit on being mustered out. That is thought to be the only instance where subordinates of a mustered-out top-sergeant handed him anything but a pin-pulled hand grenade.

Others announced as recipients of pensions yesterday are Harry E. Miller, $20; Margaret Compton, $45; Sarah J. Adams, $40; Augusta Miller, $40; Reuben H. Moore, $20; Fred H. Alden, $20; Walter D. Clark, $25; Samuel H. Rosenberg, $40; Esther McLean, $30; Andrew Milmore, $30; Edward L. Freeman, $30, and Ralph H. Hill, $24, and Edward Hogan, $30, both of Sawtelle; also Alice D. Stratton, $30, of San Fernando.

Public Schools Grow 13,396 in Enrollments

Students in the public schools numbered 266,055 at the close of the first school month. This is an increase of 13,396 over the enrollment of last year for the same period. The greater portion of this increase is in the elementary schools which have 4096 more pupils this year than last.

Citizenship classes, Americanization and trade extension also show a marked increase in attendance. Evening high schools have a total of more than 38,000 adults. All of these figures are for daily attendance and are not based upon enrollment.

These figures will be increased through November and early December. Many new students are enrolled in the schools every day as families return from country homes or from eastern trips.

OBJECTIONS TO BE HEARD

Consideration of the protests against the proposed improvement of streets in the Park Drive and Edwin-street improvement district was yesterday postponed until November 8.

RAILWAY MEN LAUD THIS CITY

Agents Enthusiastic in Praise of Los Angeles Beauty Spots

Praise for the beauty of Los Angeles and the hospitality of its people was enthusiastically voiced yesterday by the 125 members of the National Association of Railway City Passenger agents who left last night for San Francisco to attend the annual three-day convention of the association at the Whitcomb Hotel, beginning this morning.

"Those of us who are visiting Los Angeles for the second time are astounded at the remarkable growth of the city and the beauty of the residential sections," said A. H. Butterworth, national president of the association. "To those who are here for the first time the city is a revelation. We have been treated better in Los Angeles than in any city we have visited on our educational tour of the country," said C. A. Thurber, city passenger agent at Buffalo of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company.

The association members, who were guests at Hotel Christie, spent yesterday in visits to the Hollywood studios. At noon at the Pig 'n Whistle in Hollywood a luncheon was given in honor of Fred C. Werner, Jr., son of F. C. Werner of Kansas City, national vice-president of the association. Young Werner, who was 14 years of age yesterday, has attended every annual convention with his father since his birth. He was presented with a wrist watch for his fidelity.

More than 100 of the passenger agents took to the air yesterday as guests of the Maddux Air Lines at Rogers Airport and viewed the city from the twelve-passenger Ford planes. Three-fourth of the agents admitted they had never been in the air before.

Music Talk Set for Tomorrow

Dr. Bruce Gordon Kingsley will give the first of the series of interpretations of the music for the Philharmonic Symphony concerts at Bullock's tomorrow at 10:30 o'clock. Dr. Kingsley has conducted his own symphony orchestra and also is an organist.

He was born in England and received his musical education in France and Germany. He is broadly educated in the history of music and the lives of the composers.

CITY WELCOMES FIRST DIVISION

Thousands Extend Greetings to Gallant Veterans

Reception to Gen. Summerall Voices Gratitude

Heroes Arrive Here from All Over World

[Illustration on Picture Page]

Never was Los Angeles more proud, in the words of President Eastman of the Chamber of Commerce, as a host to distinguished visitors than it is in being host to the survivors of the gallant First Division, American Expeditionary Force, who nearly 1000 strong are in the city for their tenth annual reunion. Thousands of citizens turned out to participate in the various events which yesterday opened the four-day program. Their show of gratitude to the division, which fought in some of the bloodiest battles of the great war, reached its peak around events in which participated Maj.-Gen. Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff of the United States Army and president of the division organization.

TEN YEARS AGO

"It is now ten years since these men fought," President Eastman said at a chamber luncheon in honor of Gen. Summerall and others of the organization, "and these ten years have been ones of great peace and prosperity in our country. It is easy to forget, but we have not forgotten, that these prosperous years are due to just such sacrifices as were made by the gallant First Division, and Los Angeles today is proud to be host to such a group of men."

"Those words," Gen. Summerall said, "are the sweetest I have heard in the ten years since the war. There is always in the heart of every veteran, whether he is conscious of it or not, the hunger for the realization that the people know something of the sacrifices that he and his fellows have made in war. I am deeply grateful to hear it for those officers and men to whose high character and qualities are wholly due whatever of success was accomplished.

BAND OF BROTHERS

"The First Division was a band of brothers, something greater than the world ever knew before. It represented no State, no Territory or locality, but came from everywhere and today its survivors may be found in almost every community. It was a division whose pride of service never was broken by hardship or battle. Never was there a combination of the elements and man to make more impossible the things that they were called on to do, and they took all of their objectives. They now are scattered like sparks from an anvil, but their spirit hold them together.

Mayor Cryer extended to the general and comrades the city's formal welcome and commended the visitor to his hearers as "a soldier and a gentleman of the old school." In response, Gen. Summerall paid many tributes to the city's display and welcome for the soldiers, saying, "You have overwhelmed us with welcome and we are grateful."

GENERAL ARRIVES

Gen. Summerall arrived at noon via the Southern Pacific from Santa Barbara where he has been visiting for a few days. He was met at the station by Col. Harcourt Hervey, commander of Los Angeles' own, the One Hundred Sixtieth Infantry, California National Guard; Mayor Cryer, Vice-President Mo-Court of the Chamber of Commerce, Lieut. Frank G. Ward, first of the division to receive the Distinguished Service Medal; C. C. McGonegal, who as a private lost both arms in fighting; Leonard C. Price, who rescued McGonegal; A. N. Sutro, Capt. C. D. Symes and others of the division organization.

The One Hundred and Sixtieth provided a guard of honor under Capt. Marvin C. Bradley which after review by the general escorted him to the Alexandria in company with the One Hundred Sixtieth band. It was there the Chamber of Commerce luncheon took place. Several hundred attended. Among the guests were:

Maj.-Gen. Howard Whitney, chief of staff division of Paris during the War; Maj.-Gen. Kenzie W. Walker, formerly chief of finance, United States Army; Lieut.-Col. Willis J. Peace, commandant at Fort MacArthur; Maj.-Gen. Frederick S. Strong, commander of the Fortieth Division during the war; Col. George P. Hamilton, first reserve executive officer, Ninth Corps Area; Maj.-Gen. Joseph E. Kuhn, commander of the Seventy-seventh Division during the war; Maj.-Gen. Lansing H. Beach, Maj. Millard F.

WILLIAM FOX seems to feel that talking pictures have a future—even if some of the talent is dubious.

The opening of his new movietone studio in Fox Hills represents a huge fortune spent in Los Angeles during the past few months.

It is equally foolish to say that talking pictures have arrived or that they will never arrive. Ten years from now there will be talkies—possibly to the virtual exclusion of silent pictures; but they will not be anything like the present sound pictures. The talkie is still in the ox-cart stage.

OUR WORRY'S OVER

It will assuredly be a great relief from worry; and we can all sleep soundly again—now that we know from the speech of Prince Nicholas that Rumania has decided to conclude an arbitration treaty with the United States. To make the occasion more impressive, His Highness wore a brilliant naval uniform loaded with decorations. Rumania's navy probably consists of the Prince's other uniform.

ROUGHNECK COPS

The most perilous part of a trans-Atlantic flight seems to be the New York State police. The buffeting the crew and passengers of the Graf got in the North Sea gales was only practice for the roughhousing received by the police guards at the landing places. However, it is difficult to get up much of a heart bleed for the simp who lighted a cigarette under the big gas bag and was knocked cold and kicking by a marine sergeant.

SHORT SHRIFT

Myles Yutaka Fukunaga, the Hawaiian version of Hickman, will be hanged just thirty-five days after he kidnaped and killed the little son of a Honolulu business man. There must be a beneficent shortage in the islands of publicity-seeking criminal lawyers.

MODEST WOUND

Col. W. G. Schreiber, who for forty years has managed street assessments in Los Angeles, is a modest man. In asking for a leave of absence he gives ill health as the reason; but he does not give a Filipino bullet as the cause of the ill health—which is the case.

TIME HANGS HEAVY

Judging from the time they have wasted on the row between Mae Murray and one Donovan who sold her a house, the Los Angeles county authorities must be hard put to find something to do.

RESPECT THE UNIFORM

The use of a police steel pigeon disguised in a naval uniform to aid in rounding up bootleggers is indefensible—also illegal. The uniform of the service is a badge of honor—not to be lightly used in any way. Just so, I imagine that the thief released by a Los Angeles judge some weeks ago "on condition that he enlist in the Navy"—is not in the Navy. Our fleet is not a reform school. In these days, men-o'-warsmen are hand picked.

BIDS AUTHORIZED

Bids for a new field house for Banning Park playground, Wilmington, were authorized yesterday by the Playground and Recreation Commission. The construction division has prepared specifications providing showers, locker rooms and offices in the structure.

WICKERSHAM SENTENCED

Term of from Two to Twenty Years Imposed as Result of Defrauding Aged Widow

Samuel Wickersham, convicted last week of three counts of grand theft in connection with operations in which he was charged with defrauding Mrs. Frank E. Newmann, aged widow, and Frances Fay, her daughter, of $70,000, yesterday was sentenced by Superior Judge Wilson to serve a term of from two to twenty years at San Quentin penitentiary.

During his trial it was brought out that Wickersham induced the two women to give him control of their stocks, bonds and cash to invest in a gold mine, which the prosecution asserted was fictitious. According to the evidance submitted in the case, Wickersham obtained $40,000 in stock, a trust deed valued at $27,500 and $2500 in cash upon the representation that he was promoting a valuable mine in Big Tujunga Canyon. The prosecution produced witnesses who testified that the mining property was virtually valueless.

After passing sentence on Wickersham, Judge Wilson granted him a stay of execution until November 15 in order that he might be kept here to stand trial with James McEnery and John Fisher, on November 13, on charges of defalcation brought by Mrs. Newmann and her daughter.

SPECULATOR IN BOY CHARACTER DISCLOSES INVESTMENT PLANS

Nineteen years ago Bartley J. Doyle made an investment that, he says today, is the best he or any other man ever made. He has made 141 similar investments since that time and intends to keep on. He didn't buy oil stock, consols, bonds or securities in these investments, and he says they are in no way a wild speculation. Doyle, who is president of the Keystone Publishing Company of Philadelphia, invested in "Orphans Common," and transformed his holdings into "Orphans Preferred" to the benefit of all parties concerned.

All of which is another way of saying that Doyle took an orphan boy out of the squalor and misery of the slums nineteen years ago, provided him with opportunities he would not otherwise have had and watched him grow to honest, stalwart, useful manhood.

Since that time he has done the same for 141 such boys, 110 of whom have passed the age of 21, and but three of whom have failed to live up to the expectations of this speculator in character. Doyle, now stopping at the Biltmore, yesterday outlined his system.

"I pick them wherever I find them in active life," he said, "never from a jail or reformatory school and never if they have either father or mother or any close relatives. In almost all cases they have been between the ages of 9 and 11. They must be red-blooded and two-fisted and not afraid of work.

"First I send the boy to the mountains after a careful medical examination to be fed up and do just as he pleases on the farm until he fattens up a bit and gets color in his cheeks. Then he is placed in school, sometimes private, sometimes public and later to high school. If he leaves liquor alone and shows a good record when he has reached 21 years of age I deposit $1000 in the bank and tell him to go to it and carve out his own success."

As a publisher Mr. Doyle is well-known throughout the East, but few have heard of his philanthrophy toward 141 boys.

COURT DENIES LEWIS PLEA

All Motions by Defense Counsel in Mail Frauds Case Turned Down by Judge Henning

After argument on a number of motions to strike portions of the testimony on twelve counts of using the mails to defraud, United States District Judge Henning last night denied all motions on the part of the defense counsel in the case of S. C. Lewis, Jacob Berman and C. O. Steppe. The motions to strike the testimony were made on the part of each defendant and referred to a particular witness in each case.

After court had denied all of the motions to strike the testimony from the record, Lewis, former president of the Lewis Oil Corporation and once head of Julian Petroleum Corporation, as his own attorney, made a lengthy argument for an instructed verdict of not guilty of the conspiracy as charged in the twelve counts. This motion was not ruled upon, as attorneys for Berman and Steppe announced that they intended to make similar motions. After a short evening session the court adjourned until 9:30 o'clock this morning, when argument will be resumed.

The government rested its case in the afternoon and the jury was excused until today. It is expected the jury will be recalled just before noon today.

The three defendants, who have been on trial for five weeks, are accused of using the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of nearly $1,000,000 in gold notes of the Lewis Oil Corporation. It is charged that they held out extravagant promises to investors.

City Gives Rousing Welcome to Veterans of First Division

HONORS CENTER ON ARMY CHIEF

Gen. Summerall Received by Many Notables

Luncheon Speakers Laud Deeds of Heroes

PLACES FLOWERS

Gen. Summerall left the luncheon room to place flowers on the Pershing Square monuments dedicated to those of the World War and to those of the Spanish American War. He did so in silence and without ceremony, accompanied by fellow officers and men of the division. From there he went to the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle, returning to the city for the evening meetings.

Yesterday's registrations showed division members from South America, Mexico, Canada, Philippine Islands and nearly every State in the Union. Delegations arrived on Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Santa Fe trains during the night, and more are expected today, so that before the end of the celebration the 1000 registration mark will have been reached.

When Gen. Summerall and party left the Arcade Station they passed under a proudly borne banner of a delegation from the Second Division, on which were the words, "Comrades in Battle, Comrades in Peace."

Maj.-Gen. Hines of San Francisco, Ninth Corps Area commander, sent regrets at being unable to come. Brig.-Gen. Frank Parker, assistant chief of staff, arrived by airplane from Washington to participate in the celebration. Maj.-Gen. William Sibert, first commander of the division, is prominently among the officers.

OTHERS ATTENDING

Among those prominent in yesterday's events besides those already named were Capt. C. D. Symes, Brigadier L. A. Coe of the division's Salvation Army unit, Col. George F. Hamilton, Corp. Ray Flynn of the Second Division, Roscoe 'O. Wade and Robert E. Grace.

The First Division was composed of regiments collected from all over the United States for Gen. Pershing's first command in the war. It consisted roughly of 10,000 men who later were augmented by another 10,000. It was estimated at headquarters yesterday that probably 6500 veterans comprises the number of survivors outside of hospitals at this time—ten years after the end of the war. In ten days of fighting at St. Mihiel the division lost 9000 men, Gen. Summerall said.

This morning the veterans are guests of the Breakfast Club. This afternoon they will visit the film colony. This evening the American Legion will give a dinner in honor of Gen. Summerall.

The Alexandria is headquarters for the reunion.

Gen. Summerall was the dinner guest last evening of the Women's Overseas Service League at the Women's Athletic Club, later making an appearance at the dinner of the First Division at the Alexandria Hotel, where he delivered a brief informal address. The dinner was followed by a reception at the mezzanine floor at which more than 2000 men and women were presented to the famous warrior.

It was pointed out that the First Division, which was the first to arrive in France and the last to leave, boasts more gold service stripes among its membership than any other division which participated in the war. Among those who attended the dinner at the Alexandria were several who bore indelible marks of the conflict. Capt. I. R. McLendon escaped death only by a miracle, when the right side of his jaw was torn away by a high explosive.

Col. Harcourt Hervey presided as toastmaster and informal talks were given by several members of the division, speeches having been declared taboo.

WARRIOR VISITS HIS MEN IN SAWTELLE NATIONAL HOME

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SAWTELLE, Oct. 18.—Accompanied by a party of former First Division officers, Gen. Summerall broke away from the Los Angeles reception program during the afternoon to come to Sawtelle and visit with the former First Division boys in the Pacific Branch National Soldiers' Home there.

The battle front commander of the division discarded all formality when he entered the grounds of the home. The veterans who are able to get about were called together in the theater of the home but the general did not make a formal address. After listening to a short concert by the Soldiers' Home Band, he walked among the veterans, greeting each one personally and exchanging a few friendly words with every one.

In the main hospital and the tuberculosis branch at the home there are fifteen veterans of the First Division. Gen. Summerall would not leave until he had gone through the whole hospital and found every one of these fifteen men. He stopped at the bed of each and talked with him.

The pleasure which the wounded veterans derived from his visit to them was apparent in the eagerness with which they held him in conversation until his aide was forced to remind him that engagements in the city made it necessary to return.

COWBOY PROTESTS RODEO BILL

Champion Brands Measure 'Ridiculous'

Pendleton Winner and His Wife

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Crosby, with permanent trophy, won by Bob for third time this year at Pendleton round-up.

PASSING through Los Angeles yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Crosby stopped in at the headquarters of the Rodeo Educational Association to enter their protest against the antirodeo bill, Referendum No. 21 on the November ballot.

"Kill that measure and kill it quick," said Crosby.

Crosby proudly displayed his magnificent trophy, awarded him at Pendleton, as high-point winner for three consecutive years, making him the world's champion cowboy.

"I have been in the cattle business all my life and I have played the rodeo all over the West for many years, and I have yet to see an animal deliberately mistreated or abused by any one who has any right to be called a cowman," said Crosby. "There have been cases of cruelty in the past, and we are the first ones to stop any such action and turn those responsible over to the authorities. Your laws are already adequate and well enforced in this State, and no sensible man in the business objects to them; but this No. 21 is ridiculous and should be defeated. It is not an anti-cruelty proposition, but simply a stall on the part of a power-hungry group to get a toe-hold and start a lot more costly and unnecessary reform measures. Let's mount our horses on November 6 and ride to the polls all over the State to vote 'No' on No. 21."

AUTO RACER'S BODY HERE

Funeral of Fred Comer, Killed at New Hampshire Speedway, to be Conducted Today

Funeral services for Fred Comer, Los Angeles racing driver who was killed the 12th inst., at the Rockingham Speedway, Salem, N. H., when his car blew a tire and plunged into an inner field, will be conducted this morning at the Ivy H. Overholtzer Chapel, 1719 South Flower street. Superior Judge Collier will read a Christian Science service and cremation will follow at the Los Angeles Crematory.

When the body of the driver arrived at the Southern Pacific depot yesterday morning on the Golden State Limited a delegation of his former speedway confreres were there to pay tribute. As the casket was taken from the train, in accordance with a custom among racing drivers, it was draped with the black and white checkered flag which indicates that the race is finished.

RACERS AT STATION

Among those at the station were Harry Hartz, Frank Elliott, Benny Hill, Art Klein, Jerry Wonderlich, Harian Pengler, Eddie Hesserman and Tony Guiotta. All of them will attend the funeral services this morning.

At the 200-mile auto sweepstakes on the Rockingham speedway Comer was in his twenty-fourth lap going at an estimated speed of 130 miles an hour, when his car suddenly was seen to hurtle into the air against a steep bank and then to plunge into the inner field. He died before he reached a hospital.

WIFE BRINGS BODY

Mrs. Edythe Comer, the driver's wife, had accompanied her husband on the fall-season racing tour and she brought the body from the East. With her was Miss Ned Griffitt, an aunt of Comer's, who joined the train at Topeka, and their 3-year-old son, Fred, Jr.

Comer, who was 36 years of age, had lived in Los Angeles since boyhood and was widely known here. He had been a racing driver many years and drove in most of the big races throughout the country.

Besides wife and son, he leaves a brother, Samuel M. Comer, a set dresser at the P.B.O. studios; Mrs. Matilda B. Comer, his stepmother; Rae E. Hitt, a stepbrother; L. C. Comer, an uncle, and Miss Griffitt.

'HOOVER SCHOOL PLOT' A FRAUD

periors had authorized the request, when, in fact, they had refused it.

SCATHING COMMENT

John B. Beman, president of the board, expressing a belief that in a teaching corps of 8000 it would be impossible to wholly eliminate unwise political activity, said he is convinced that the Democratic campaign heads appearing before the board were seeking to "make the most" of the publicity aspects of the situation.

"They sent out their investigators," he said, "and such individuals are not always too careful about the methods they employ. They got what they went for. The gentlemen who appeared here were unjustified in making their charges after having left the names of the accused at home. That was neither bright nor just. Furthermore, before they came here, they made these charges over the radio. Had they been at all fair-minded they would have investigated the matter. They did not see fit to do that, but sought to capitalize the political possibilities.

"They came here," he concluded, "only to hear themselves talk, and what they want us to do is to give further publicity to their cause."

In view of the president's remarks, R. L. Burns withdrew a motion asking the complainants to indicate what further action might be desired and submitted a substitute merely directing that Mr. Dorsey's report be mailed to Dockweiler, Bryan and Young. This motion was unanimously adopted.

Mrs. Dorsey explained that part of the complaint emanating from Smith headquarters probably is inspired by the fact that the State law requires the teaching in the schools of the evil effects of drinking alcohol. Such instruction, she said, has been given since the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment, and the fact that Gov. Smith is supposed to favor the use of alcohol, while Hoover occupies an opposite attitude may have given rise to a misapprehension of the purposes involved.

"LOOKING FOR PUBLICITY"

When it was suggested that action should be taken on the request of Mr. Dockweiler that the teachers accused of improper political activity be discharged, the matter was disposed of by informal agreement, voiced by one of the members, that the Democratic National Committeeman was "not looking for facts, but for political advantage," and, hence, that further consideration of the episode is unnecessary.

The school authorities, however, are determined to learn the identity of the individuals misusing the schools for political purposes and to take such legal action in the matter as may be found possible.

San Franciscans Rally Loyally to Assist Olympics

In a vigorous campaign for "Yes" votes for Proposition No. 2 at the coming election to ratify the legislative appropriation of $1,000,000 State aid for the bringing of the Olympic Games to California in 1932, San Francisco proponents, according to dispatches from there, are advancing the triple argument of loyalty, economy and State-wide economic benefits.

They point out that the State aid proposed for the Olympic Games is but one-fifth that extended for their own conduct of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. This is made possible, they recognize, through the availability of permanent facilities afforded by Los Angeles, representing millions of dollars permanent investment, most notable of which is the Coliseum.

MRS. EMSWILER DIES

Long-Time Resident of Los Angeles Succumbs to Long Illness

Mrs. Lizzie Layton Emswiler, widow the late Charles C. Emswiler, founder and builder of the Ems Hotel at the top of what is now Angels Flight, died early yesterday at her home, 750 South Harvard Boulevard, after an illness that had lasted nine months. Mrs. Emswiler had been a resident of Los Angeles since 1905. She was born in Kentucky and was 79 years of age. Many years of her married life were spent in Peru, Ind. She was widowed in 1922. She leaves an only sister, Mrs. Anna L. Walker, with whom she made her home, and three nieces, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Sharpe and Mrs. H. D. Hammond of this city and, Mrs. Charles Cahier of New York.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday from the chapel of the Breese Brothers' establishment at 855 South Figueroa street. Episcopal Church services will be read. Interment will be at Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Benefit Will Aid Children

Miss Flora Weiner is one of those foremost in arrangements for the Harvest Tea and reception arranged by the Los Angeles Chapter of the Junior Hadassah at the Arcady Hotel, 2629 Wilshire Boulevard, on Sunday.

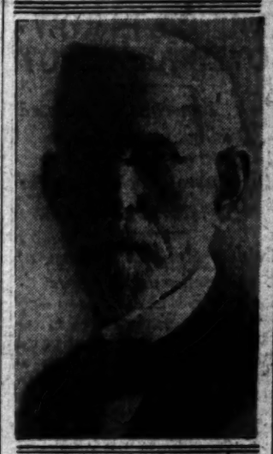
FLORA WEINER

The affair is for the benefit of the orphan colony of Meier Chfeye in Palestine, composed of children left homeless and friendless during the late war. Proceeds will all go to the colony. The program will include an address by Rabbi Herman Lissauer of Temple Emanuel; greetings by Mrs. Adolph Sieroty, president of the Hadassah; an address by Mrs. Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith, president of the Los Angeles Council of Jewish Women; and a musical program by the Classic Ensemble, composed of Samuel Albert, Lysbeth LeFevre, and Violet Cossack.

WOMAN EMPTIES GUN AT BURGLAR IN HOME

Argument with a burglar is something in which Mrs. R. S. Hayes of 710 East Ninetieth street apparently does not believe in as a police report stated after a burglar attempted to break into her home yesterday morning she did not say a word. Instead she got her husband's revolver. "I believe I hit him," Mrs. Hayes told police. "At any rate I fired at him several times and the fell back out of the bedroom window and then I didn't see him any more."

FINAL PAGE TURNED FOR VETERAN DIVINE



Dr. Joseph John Mills

RITES FOR MINISTER SET TODAY

Body of Retired Friends Clergyman Will be Taken to Indiana for Burial

Last rites for Dr. Joseph John Mills, minister and educator who died at his home at 525 South Catalina avenue, Pasadena, Wednesday, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today at the Mills residence. After the services the body will be sent to Indianapolis for burial in Crown Hill Cemetery there.

Dr. Mills died after an illness lasting two weeks. He was 81 years of age. His only immediate surviving relative is Miss Gertrude C. Mills, his daughter.

The deceased was born near Indianapolis and spent the early part of his life there, beginning his educational activities in the Indianapolis schools, where he served as assistant superintendent of schools. From 1884 until 1904 he was president of Earlham College at Richmond, Ind.

Throughout his life Dr. Mills was a student of theology. He was a devout member of the Friends church and for a number of years was an executive of the Five Years' Meeting. He served as pastor of the Friends church at Toronto, Can., and resumed his religious work in Whittier when he came to California eighteen years ago. He retired from active life fifteen years ago, however, moving to his Pasadena home, where he spent the remainder of his life.

Funeral Rites Arranged for Edwin Cowles

Funeral services for Edwin R. Cowles, Civil War veteran, who died on Wednesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. F. B. Westcott, 2132 West Thirty-first street, will be held at Pierce Brothers funeral parlors on Saturday at 10 a.m. with the Stanton Post of Los Angeles in charge. Burial will follow in Rosedale Cemetery.

EDWIN R. COWLES.

Four years ago Mr. Cowles suffered a stroke of paralysis and had been an invalid since that time. He was 90 years of age.

Mr. Cowles was born in Geneva, O., where his father had been one of the first settlers. Until he came to live with his daughter years ago, Mr. Cowles resided entirely in Geneva, taking an active part in civic affairs and carrying on a prosperous business as a merchant.

He was a member of the One Hundred and Fifth Ohio Volunteer Infantry during the Civil War and was in Sherman's march to the sea. When he came to California he transferred his membership from the Bowers Post of Geneva to the Stanton Post of Los Angeles.

He leaves only his two daughters, Mrs. Westcott and Miss Winifred Cowles.

Funeral Today for Film Writer

Funeral services for Charles D. Lancaster, stage and screen writer, and former polo player who died Wednesday morning at the Pottenger's Sanatorium, Monrovia, will be conducted at 4 p.m. today in the Hollywood Cemetery chapel.

Brother members of the Maskers' Club will act as pallbearers: Edgar Norton, Lou Payne, F. D. Halliday, Eugene Pallette, W. C. Camp, Ben Burt, C. A. Willat and Ned Sparks.

The body will probably be taken back to the birthplace of the deceased at Shelbyville, Ind., for burial. Chronic bronchitis, which forced his retirement from active business in 1924, was the attributed cause of his death.

Fire Unchecked at Getty Well

Failure resulted from an attempt to shut off the blazing Getty oil well at Santa Fe Springs yesterday when a pipe through which engineers were forcing materials into the well clogged, workers at the scene declared.

Tonight another effort will be made from the underground chamber, built around the well's casing sixty feet below the surface, to stem the flow of gas and oil in the remaining open casing, engineers stated.

CLUB WOMEN GATHER AT OLD MISSION

Historic Settings Give Charm to Important Meeting

San Gabriel Mission Affords Background to Federation

Jail Sentence Serves Father in Way of Alibi

If a father is in jail he is not responsible for the support of his minor children, Municipal Judge Bullock ruled yesterday in freeing Daniel Christy, charged with failing to provide for six minor children.

On the witness stand Christy said that on July 17, last, he started to serve a forty-day sentence on a liquor charge. Upon his release he immediately was rearrested and had been in jail since September 22, awaiting trial on the failure-to-provide charge.

The court dismissed the failure-to-provide charge when Deputy City Prosecutor Iva V. Wells explained that Federal authorities were in the courtroom to deport Christy to Mexico, where his wife and children have preceded him.

Slav President Congratulated

President R. B. Von KleinSmid is one of the representatives of forty-three American universities and colleges who simultaneously sent telegrams of congratulation to Prof. Thomas G. Masaryk, first President of the Republic of Czecho-Slovakia, who has attained his 80th year, on the tenth anniversary of the signing, in Washington, D. C., of the Czecho-Slovak declaration of independence, October 18, 1918.

Dr. Von KleinSmid's wire stated: "On this memorable occasion the University of Southern California greets President Masaryk, distinguished successor of Huss, Comenuus, Chelchicky, incarnating their and our ideals of democracy and international peace."

MRS. SLAYDEN NOMINATED

Los Angeles District Clubs Unanimously Indorse Her as Candidate for State President

BY MYRA NYE

Mrs. William Waller Slayden, president of the Los Angeles District, California Federation of Women's Clubs, was indorsed unanimously for the State presidency at the President's Council in the Mission Playhouse at San Gabriel yesterday. This action marks the beginning of an interesting campaign whose issues will be settled at the State convention in Santa Cruz next May.

Almost overcome with emotion when an ovation was given her in connection with the vote, Mrs. Slayden said:

"If my candidacy for the president of the State will in any way hinder our struggle for a just revision of the by-laws and reapportionment of representation, I do not want to be president. The by-laws must be revised. That is the first consideration."

CONTEST EXPECTED

The reaction among the 1200 women representing clubs in five counties to this remark of their president indicated that Mrs. Slayden as a presidential candidate will make more sure the desired revision which has been the issue at each annual convention for three years. It is anticipated that a candidate from the San Francisco district, one from San Joaquin and one from San Diego may contest for this chief honor among California club women.

The council yesterday was a record one as to attendance, significance of projects presented and merit of the program. The playhouse was filled to capacity at both sessions and nearly 1000 were served a Spanish luncheon under the oldest grapevine in the world. Mrs. Slayden presided at a table made in San Gabriel before the Revolutionary War. She sat in a chair in which the padre who presided at the councils of the mission sat nearly two centuries ago.

CLUB PROGRAM

Mrs. J. C. Maclay of San Fernando, district chairman of history and landmarks, and Mrs. Florence Dodson-Schoeneman, State chairman, were in charge of the program for that section of club work which was featured. John Stephen McGroarty was the speaker and he together with Mrs. McGroarty presented a charming entertainment with numbers by the Mission Players. Mr. McGroarty delivered the chief address of the day.

Significant, too, of the history of the Southland was the reprinting of the history of five of the daily papers of Los Angeles by their respective club editors.

Among other speakers were Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin, on "Education of Our Youth in Perilous Times;" Mrs. Oliver C. Bryant, speaking for the confesence on the cause and cure of war; Mrs. John M. Cage, press chairman; Miss Martha Anna Clark, chairman of education; Mrs. Daniel Campbell, speaking for district headquarters; Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish, Mrs. Harry Stroh and Mrs. George H. Whitsworth.

The San Gabriel Club, with only 100 members, was host. The ushers were clad in old Californian and Spanish costumes.

LIBRARIES PLANNED

Board Proposes Early Erection of Two More Branches

Two new branch library buildings will be constructed in the near future, according to the report of Orra E. Monnette, president of the board of library commissioners. Plans for the new Felipe de Neve Library, to be located in Lafayette Park, have been approved by the board. If further approved by the Park Commissioners and the Art Commission construction will be begun at once.

The second building will provide for the Sidney Lanier branch, now in rented quarters and will be placed in the North Hollywood Park at Tujunga, near Magnolia, according to a decision at a joint meeting of park and library commissioners.

PROGRAM OF SWEETS OFFERED TO STUDENTS

The menu to be presented to The Times' cooking school today is especially designed to cater to those busy housewives whose culinary problems are for the greater part concerned with the more practical essentials of daily living, but who wish occasionally to luxuriate in sweets. Mrs. Mabelle (Chef) Wyman will demonstrate this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway, a Boston cream pie, mocha fudge cake with mocha frosting, a coffee layer pie and, in order to round out a more balanced menu, the cookery expert will make a Spanish carrot pie, combining the ingredients of a complete meal.

NOTED ESPERANTISTS TO BE GIVEN HONORS

The Esperanto Club of Los Angeles will have as honor guests at a banquet to be given tonight at the Windsor Tea Room Dr. F. G. Cottrell of Washington, A. S. Vincent of San Francisco, Mrs. Hilda F. Mills and A. F. Post, both of Berkeley.

Dr. Cottrell has been for many years connected with the United States Scientific Research Bureau. Mr. Vincent is chief delegate of the Universal Esperanto Association for the western United States, and is president of the Esperanto Association of California.

YELLOW LINE'S PLANS OUTLINED

Program Under Increased Fare Announced

All Available Equipment to be Put in Operation

Higher Rate Goes Into Effect Saturday at Midnight

All available equipment of the Los Angeles Railway Company will be put into operation next week when the fare increase goes into effect. This was the assertion made yesterday by George J. Kuhrts, president of the transit corporation, who issued a statement on the policy of expansion to be followed.

The increase in fare will be effective Saturday at midnight after which time it will cost 7 cents to ride on the yellow cars; or, if tokens are purchased at the rate of four for 25 cents, the fare will be only 6¼ cents. Rebate certificates will be issued by the company at the time fares are paid which may be used for refund in the event the United States Supreme Court rules that the company has not the right to increase fares.

EXPANSION PLANS

Although the railway company will not use the additional revenue until the court has given a ruling, plans are going forward rapidly, the president said, for the extension of lines and purchase of new equipment. Under this program, the new cars to be purchased will allow operation of two-car trains during the peak hours.

"We recognise that adequate, modern transportation facilities will upbuild any community" read the statement prepared by President Kuhrts, "and that the reverse will greatly retard growth and prosperity. We are cognisant of our responsibility and anxious to do the very best to provide Los Angeles with a system which is the last word in modern development.

FASTER SERVICE

"We sympathize with the desire of our patrons to reach home or business in the shortest time compatible with safety, and speeding up of our entire service will be worked out with city authorities.

"The very latest in street cars, combining comfort, speed, safety and appearance, is part of our liberal new car program.

"Pending final decision of the court and during delay necessary to complete plans and get materials on the ground, we are placing in service all present available cars, making a total of 870 in operation during the peak hours. Districts of the city not now adequately served will receive careful consideration."

SOCIALISTS TO MEET

Harry Sherr, Socialist candidate for Congress in the Tenth District, will discuss the new 7-cent car-fare rate at a meeting to be held at the Labor Temple on Sunday night. At this meeting James H. Maurer, Socialist candidate for Vice-President, and Lena Morrow Lewis, candidate for United States Senator, will deliver addresses.

PRISONER LOST IN JAIL FOUND SANE

Hearing Scheduled for Today Continued to Allow Veterans' Bureau Quiz

After two years in the County Jail where he was "lost" while awaiting trial on a statutory charge, Herman Hoppe yesterday obtained definite action with the completion of a report pronouncing him sane filed by Dr. Paul Bowers, prosecution alienist.

Hoppe was placed under observation ten days ago when his sanity was questioned by officials during a habeas corpus hearing by which he sought release from the jail.

He is scheduled to appear before Superior Judge Fricke today for a hearing, but according to Hoppe's attorney, Arthur Rees, and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ben J. Scheinman, they have agreed to continue the hearing until the 23rd inst., to permit a separate investigation by the Veterans' Bureau.

Hoppe's trial on the statutory charge is scheduled to be held in Superior Court on the 26th inst.

Doran-for-Judge Club Organized by Accountant

A. D. Macleod, a certified public accountant, has organized a Doran-for-Judge Club. Donald P. Mayhew is president and treasurer, Cecil Graves is secretary, and Macleod is honorary president. The campaign committee as named includes Murray Kesler, Arthur Preston, Cecil Graves, Leo Harris, Paul J. Fritz, Lee Combs, Jr., Manuel Ruiz, Harold Kraft, Gene Fay, William E. Craven, Cuthbert Scott, Stanton Rippey, Donald P. Mayhew. The organization issued the following statement:

"In view of his eminent fitness to preside as judge in Superior Court, as manifested by his known and respected ability as a lawyer, his experience on the bench and fearlessness as a jurist, the members of the campaign committee for the Doran-for-Judge Club will give their wholehearted support and active efforts to the furthering of the candidacy of Judge Doran for re-election to office No. 3 of the Superior Court of Los Angeles county at the election November 6."

BOATHOUSE FESTIVAL FUND APPROPRIATED

An appropriation of $400 was authorized by the Playground and Recreation Commission yesterday for the dedication of the municipal boathouse at Cabrillo Beach on November 10, which will be part of San Pedro's celebration to commemorate opening the new City Hall branch and observance of Armistice Day, in a three-day celebration. The program for the boathouse dedication provides for a barbecue on the beach for the public at 6 p.m. a band concert from 6 to 8 p.m. dramatic entry of the arrival of the explorer, Cabrillo, in a galleon of his time, a program and parade of illuminated boats.

Today's Bible Text

The haters of the Lord should have submitted themselves unto Him: but their time should have endured forever. Psalm lxxxi:15.

THE NEW BROOMS

In their patriotic sketch entitled "Cleaning Up the Country" Smith and Robinson should have themselves photographed as the Gold Brick Twins.

ALL HONORABLE MEN

The French Ambassador says that Herbert Hoover is a fine statesman who has been of inestimable service to France and Belgium. He also says that Gov. Smith is a truly great American who is a devoted friend of France. Now it may be understood why the Ambassador ranks so high as a diplomat.

A WOMAN'S HAIR

A local judge holds that a married woman has the right to wear and arrange her hair according to her personal moods—or the dictates of her conscience. In other words, a dame may doll her bean as she darn pleases. It needed no court to settle this point, but perhaps it is just as well to have the record on it.

CHINESE COPS

The new administration at Peking proposes to have a model police force in the Chinese metropolis. The cops have got to be courteous and show their love of the people and their respect for property. Otherwise off will go their heads—and this expression means something in China. An official who loses his head in the discharge of his duty also loses all interest in his neckties.

HIGH-PRICED SEATS

The box office having sold out long ago a seat on the New York Stock Exchange—Gotham's biggest show—has just been passed over for a consideration of $480,000. This is far above the last high quotation for pews. The exchange sports the costliest chairs in the country. They ought to be upholstered with thousand-dollar bills at that figure—and maybe they are.

BULLS AND BEARS

Over 90,000,000 shares of various stocks were disposed of on the floor of the New York Exchange during the month of September. This was an average of nearly 3,800,000 shares for each of the twenty-four days of trading. This is by far the greatest month the street has ever known. Up to this year the days on which 3,000,000 shares were moved could be counted on the fingers of one hand, but a 4,000,000 day is now considered quite the regular thing. Upwards of a hundred different stocks have recently reached new high levels. It is hoped that everybody has made money in this litch for speculation, but it is feared that a few missed connections. Anyhow, it has been a hard season on the bears. No wonder the University of California is offering $5000 for a grizzly.

ITALY REJECTS THE PACT

In sporting parlance, the Anglo-French naval pact is playing in hard luck. America refused adherence to it on the ground of unfairness. Now comes Italy and rejects it outright on similar grounds. What the Italian government chiefly objects to is the proposal that there be no limit to the construction of small cruisers, torpedo craft and submarines.

In thus backing up America's position and in suggesting a total tonnage tinent. In this she again leans toward type of ships best suited to its needs. Italy shows good common sense. She scores again when she offers to reduce her navy to the lowest possible limit acceptable to any other power on the Continent. In this she again leans toward the American viewpoint of a limit on total tonnage, with a certain elasticity as to nonessentials.

Not fancying the idea of equality with Italy in tonnage, France has felt free to say so. But by the Washington treaty of 1921 France accepted a battleship ratio equal to that of Italy. Now the French explain that this was done because under the pact France could build an unlimited number of warships of other types.

These points of dispute among the powers as to naval parity make it plain that those who hope for a completely harmonious naval conference may have to cherish the hope for a long time. But America can be depended upon to do her part toward bringing about its realization.

MELLON REBUKES SMITH

Political aspects of the Presidential campaign are swept aside in the temperate but exceedingly comprehensive rebuke administered by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon to Gov. Smith as a result of the Democratic nominee's rather ill-considered attempt to discuss Federal finances in his address at Sedalia, Mo.

The Treasury Secretary's succinct and precise analysis of the inaccuracies of Smith's remarks emphasizes the wide gulf that lies between a man devoting himself sincerely and ably to the public service and one whose entire attitude on the subject is manifestly dictated by political expediency.

Smith's willingness to descend to political clap-trap and misleading phrases in a discussion of the government's financial policy may well be regarded both by Republicans and Democrats as a danger signal. The election of a President possessing so little understanding of this vital problem would be a dubious experiment under any circumstances, and when an aspirant for the Presidency shows himself irresponsible as well as ignorant, the possible consequences of his success appear doubly menacing.

Regardless of party affiliation or political preference, the informed citizenship of the United States knows that Secretary Mellon has performed a service to the American people and to the world at large comparable to the highest accomplishments of the greatest economists known to history.

He speaks with the voice of authority—and his utterance is based on exact knowledge. Hence, when the Secretary of the Treasury is sufficiently aroused by a political speech to challenge its accuracy, his remarks deserve the attention of thoughtful men and women.

Smith's entire address at Sedalia, according to Mellon, "exhibits the most superficial knowledge of what has actually taken place, and in citing figures he has been guilty of what even the most charitably-minded would have to describe as inaccuracies."

Drawing attention to Smith's attempt to discredit the Treasury Department and its executives, whom he accused of carrying on a campaign of misrepresentation, Mellon observed: "Before a responsible man makes such a charge he should have a thorough and intimate knowledge of all the facts, and be able to support it with clear and convincing proof." And the Secretary proceeded in pungent fashion to furnish the New York Governor with a survey of Federal finance which is not easily misunderstood or misinterpreted.

"Let me begin by correcting Gov. Smith's conception of what this administration understands by economy in government," says one trenchant passage. "Economy is not just saving, but wise spending; the elimination of waste; the promotion of efficiency and business-like methods; the building up of a sense of responsibility to the taxpayer on the part of all public servants; the careful management of the government's finances, as exemplified, for instance, by a policy of steady debt reduction with consequent relief from the heavy burden of interest charges. . . . Under such a definition expenditures might actually increase from year to year and yet the nation receive an economical and business-like administration of its public affairs."

Smith erred by more than $170,000,000 in his estimate of the increase in Federal expenditures from 1924 to 1927, according to the Secretary of the Treasury, who, in commenting on the fact that "this is the second time that Gov. Smith has been guilty of an error of this kind," added: "This is a good example of the use of figures not to present an accurate and truthful picture, but quite the opposite."

After demolishing other generalized charges by the Democratic nominee Mellon concluded his comment with an observation to the fact that, while it is no reflection upon Gov. Smith's ability that he has not been able to adequately inform himself on Federal affairs during the few months of the campaign, it is a reasonable expectation that he "refrain from charging others with misrepresentation and bad faith until by study and familiarity with his subject he has placed himself in a position to deal with it in terms of fact."

There have been few contributions to political debate possessing greater restraint and deserving more attentive consideration that Mellon's admonition to Smith to stick to facts. And doubtless the Governor of New York will find in this instance as he has discovered in others that a candidate for President of the United States does not inspire confidence or gain support by employing the methods of the political demagogue.

NO ROOM FOR BIGOTS

No better gauge can be found by which to measure the progress of a community than the amount of time, energy and money it expends in the causes of religion and education. Southern California stands up well under such a test. Its church and cultural life grows steadily and more than keeps pace with its material advances.

Promise is bright for obtaining even finer results in the future because whenever a new educational project is bruited men and women of all faiths willingly co-operate for the success of the undertaking, irrespective of what particular church sponsors its foundation. The spirit of religious friendship evidenced in the campaign for funds to build the Loyola University is a case in point. It means more for the future of Southern California than the actual money so liberally subscribed.

It means more because it demonstrated that in the common cause of education of our youth Catholic and Protestant, Jew and Gentile can sink differences of belief and unite in any work of benefit to the community as a whole. When the friends of education and of religion join hands, as they have done in Southern California on this and other occasions, the whole citizenship takes on a nobler complexion, destructive intolerance and bigotry are justly rebuked and friendship and understanding are fostered between men and women of all faiths in the work of ministering to the general good.

That church co-operation is replacing church differences and that education and religion are finding a common ground to stand on is a feature in Southern California life deserving special notice by all interested in the Southwest. There are still sporadic instances of individuals who employ their positions in the ministry to attempt self-exploitation by fostering religious jealousies and sowing the seeds of interdenominational suspicions and hatreds, unmindful of the injury such conduct inflicts on the community at large. Happily in Southern California such instances are rare. The success of such united co-operation as shown in the Loyola University campaign offsets the efforts of this negligible minority and demonstrates that here at least we have small room for bigots.

FIRST IN THE FIELD AGAIN

Ten years have passed since the news of the great victory won by the "Fighting First" Division, A.E.F., at Cantigny broke through the veil of military censorship that curtained all troop movements under the vague generality, "somewhere in France."

Now the brave men who won that initial triumph and afterwards added new laurels to their wreath at Soissons, at St. Mihiel and in the Forest of Argonne, are holding a joyous reunion whose details are broadcast freely through the unrestricted air as they capture the homes and hearts of a welcoming host—everywhere in Los Angeles.

The contrast between then and now, between there and here, is everywhere visible to the visiting veterans and their enthusiastic entertainers.

Renewals of old friendships, restorings of broken links of remembrance, meetings again after long separations, looking once more into familiar eyes of bygone days and clasping again hands that have joined in mutual helpfulness—these are among the highest satisfactions this earth life affords mankind.

In the case of those who have gone through a common ordeal of fire and blood, have faced suffering and death in the same devotion, have made the same sacrifices to endure its ultimate triumph, the joy of reunion plumbs depths and reaches heights impossible to those of lesser and lighter experiences.

So it is with the "Fighting First" Division, the first to go over and the last to come back, who fought in every branch of the service and participated in five major operations that their country's honor might be sustained in the eyes of the world and the task allotted them carried through to the bitter end.

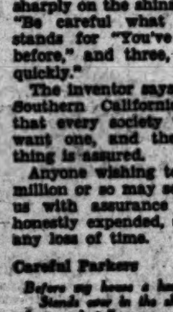
So it is with the civilians of Southern California, anxious to show these soldiers of the republic that their services are not forgotten. Till the retreat is sounded on Monday morning the city of Los Angeles has capitulated to and is in possession of the conquering veterans of the "Fighting First."

SOMETHING COMING

The new executive of Mexico is only 37 years old. It might almost be suggested that his future is still ahead of him.

LEE SIDE O' LA
By Lee Shippey

AN ALTADENA friend of ours is seeking financial backing for what he believes will prove one of the greatest inventions of the age—a patent shin-kicker for family use.



The idea is so simple that it is a wonder nobody ever thought of it before, especially as so many other people have attended dinners in Altadena. The mechanism runs from the head to the foot of the table. All the hostess has to do is press a concealed button under her feet and a sharp-pointed toe at the other end of the table will rap her husband sharply on the shins. One rap means "Be careful what you say." Two stands for "You've told that story before," and three, "Change subject quickly."

The inventor says that the men of Southern California are so clever that every society woman here will want one, and the success of the thing is assured.

Anyone wishing to back him for a million or so may send the money to us with assurance that it will be honestly expended, and that without any loss of time.

Careful Parkers

Before my house a hardness or
Stands way in the shade.
Impressed full many callers are
By the appearance made.
"Ah, yes," I say, "this lot I chose Because of that big tree."
It draws few cars. But, goodness knows,
They don't belong to me. P. L. T.

Why the Scotch Do It

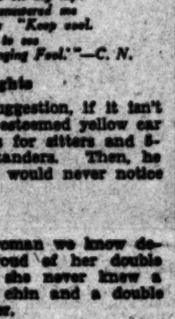
Maybe you've noticed that the Scotch are fond of telling stories on the Scotch. You may have snickered at the story of the Scotchman who warned the editor that if he didn't quit printing Scotch stories he'd quit borrowing his paper, but there's no truth in it. We know a Scotchman who is a successful contractor, and who always is telling stories of Scotch thrift, and yesterday he explained why.

"The idea that the Scotch are exceptionally thrifty wins them many a job," he said. "Every employer wants to employ careful people. People who are building like to have their plans worked out by that kind, too. Do you know any Scotchmen who are out of a job? Well, think it over."

Speaking of Scotchmen—

On rainy days we always eat at a table d'hote restaurant. We've noted that those days the crowds are smaller and the servings larger.

But a friend who runs one of them tells us rainy days do not make him glad. "When there's chill in the air the people who do come in eat like the mischief," he said. "You rarely see any bread and butter left, for instance, while on bright days there may be quite a bit of both left on nearly every table. I'm thinking of making mine a changeable restaurant—table d'hote on bright days and a la carte on rawer ones."



We walked out wondering if he'd been watching us.

Appearances Deceiving

Red wore his eyes and nose.
I winked and gave the grip.
And whispered: "Friend, disclose
What hast thou on thy hip?"
He gulped and answered me
In sobby tones: "Keep cool.
I have just been to see
Al Jolson's 'Singing Fool.'"—C. N.

Rush-Hour Thoughts

R. H. has a suggestion, if it isn't too late, for the esteemed yellow car line—7-cent fares for sitters and 5-cent fares for standers. Then, he says, most of us would never notice the change.

Protection

A Hollywood woman we know declares she is proud of her double chin. She says she never knew a feminine double chin and a double life to go together.

Keep Him Tearing

As we strolled into the office yesterday we were surprised to see the poetry editor being extremely pleasant to a contributor. When the contrib had gone we expressed our wonderment, saying we should think he'd be overrun with poets if he treats them like that.

"Oh, that was a real poet," he explained. "But I'm even more polite to the other kind. Real poets make me take off my hat, but the others fairly make me take off my hair."

Population Estimate

We don't know how many poets there are in Los Angeles, but yesterday we heard the estimate that one Angeleno in every five writes poetry. If that is true, our population must be fully 2,000,000.

Look out, boss. When the Chamber of Commerce reads that we wouldn't be a bit surprised if it tried to steal us away from you to become its official estimator.

HICKMAN, PREACHER

Hickman has turned preacher in the end. Whether he greatly impressed his congregation is another matter. If he had given his exhortation a trifle earlier, before he had exhausted every subterfuge and technicality for escaping from the gallows, his words might now fall upon more sympathetic ears.

There is a lurking suspicion that his plaint is made to get sympathy and possible reprieve in the last moments. If so, he has failed. His religious ravings are pitiful.

He feared neither God nor man while he was sewing back the eyelids of his poor little hacked-up victim, or racing about the country in his stolen green car. But when he was trapped he began to show rodent qualities and manifested considerable respect for man. Then, seeing his last efforts for release from the tightening noose failing, he began to fear God.

Possibly his repentance should not be discounted. He is not the first murderer to repent on the gallows. Some have doubtless been genuine.

Also all he said in his preachments may be sincere, but they sound strangely like the gabble of a parrot. Not his words; but his misused life will be a sermon to the youth of the world. His smartness stood him in poor stead in the end.

The lesson was not only lengthy, but tiresome. Nothing new was spoken in the discourse. When the lastly came, a sigh of relief arose from the congregation of the morbidly curious. It was grewsome rather than climactic.

The self-appraised master mind was all bunk. The way of the transgressor is yet rocky. Butchering a little girl is hardly good preparation for the pulpit. It is a point in equity, that he who seeks justice must come with clean hands. It is an equally good point in preaching, that he who would be heard must come with virtue. In the ancient code the hands of blood were forbidden to build the temple. A measure of shame would seem to preclude forwardness in pulpiteering.

GASTON AND ALPHONSE

An interesting feature of the political campaign is the exchange of courtesy notes between the chairmen of the national committees. In other days these might have been mentioned as challenges, but these messages are far too gracious and polite for such an interpretation. No matter what happens the higher-ups in this campaign are going to be good sports.

PAYS NO TAXES

Operating expenses of San Francisco's municipal railway increased nearly $150,000 last year and brought renewed embarrassment to the political financiers. The operating costs are 87 per cent of the revenue and nobody knows what will happen when extensions and replacements are in order.

LABOR UNIONS AND INJUNCTIONS

Almost any paper you pick up has a tirade against injunctions by some labor leader or other. Any judge that grants an injunction against any form of labor demonstration is immediately marked for oblivion by labor unions at the next election. Just why does labor think it occupies a favored position in law? I'll tell you—politics! Did you ever read a strictly labor paper? It's so one-sided it makes one sick. As long as labor takes the position that it can do no wrong, that might is right, just so long it invites war.

A man has a perfect right to quit any job, but as soon as he has quit, his interest in that particular job ceases right there. For him to stand out in front of the job he quit and use a club or gun on another man that wants the job, is nothing but war. If the employer would take a club or gun and make him work, what a howl would go up and just where the difference comes in is hard to see. They are both unlawful, and an injunction in either case would be proper. When one man hires another the fact that he gives him a job whereby he can make a living does not carry with it any right whatsoever beyond the stipulated wage and the universal understanding that each party will give the other one or two weeks' notice of intention to quit. If the man can get better wages elsewhere that's his privilege and if the employer can get a better man for the same wage or less that also should be his right.

If a group of men get together and formulate demands on the employer—courteously called collective bargaining—they wouldn't get to first base unless they threatened dire results (war) and as the history of all strikes shows that damage to property suffered by the employer greatly exceeds the wages demanded, as a matter of blackmail he grants their request. No strike was ever won on its merits, only by violence. It will not be six months until the same rigmarole is gone through and again the blackmail wins. The same labor union that has been successful in getting several raises of wages almost always fails to discern the hair line between safety and strike. There is always a limit, in which the employer has to work to pay interest at the bank, rent, overhead, etc. More stockholders get no dividends than those that do and if labor took these things into consideration there would be no strikes!

At length the demands exceed the ability of the employer to pay and the strike is on. In order to carry out their threats sabotage, destruction of property and personal injuries start and there is no way to stop it except by superior force which again is war, or the injunction.

There is a great clamor from union labor all over the United States for Congress to pass a law against the use of the injunction in labor disputes. I would just like to ask what labor proposes to substitute for the injunction.

I know what I would do if I had the authority and it would sure cure the whole mess. I'd compel labor to shoulder the responsibility of its acts and compel them to pay all damages caused by reason of their acts and I'd make their leaders accessories before the fact in all murders committed under the cloak of labor in strikes called by said leaders. The average leader of a strike movement knows full well before he calls the strike that there will be bloodshed and violence and a proper law holding him responsible would go a long way toward correcting the situation.

In the case of a railway strike a man who has freight held up and is caused damages thereby, in my opinion, would be perfectly justified in suing each individual member of the labor union for damages, making the railway a secondary party to the suit and a judgment against the individuals could be collected. One or two such suits would take all the fun out of railroad strikes after the members of the union had lost their homes, etc. I'm not against labor unions by a long shot; God knows they were needed at their inception; but they have traded places with the other fellow and are just as arrogant today as the employers were forty years ago. There is reason in all things and labor is 75 per cent unreasonable today.

The musicians' strike in Chicago, for instance. By what hokus-pokus in law or reason can you possibly reconcile your judgment to sympathize with this musicians' strike? They get all the wages they ask but insist on telling the theater manager just how many musicians he must employ. If he thinks he can get along with a ten-piece orchestra the union tells him he must have twenty-one pieces or they will strike. Just where does their right come in to tell this manager how to run his business? If there is not enough money coming in at the door to pay this size of an orchestra the manager must pay out of his own pocket. How long can it last? Darn little does the union care.

Now another little thing not generally known outside of the unions themselves. Less than 10 per cent of the members of almost all unions absolutely run them, body, boots and britches. Furthermore, this 10 per cent is made up of the radicals and more or less ignorant members who have not the slightest business judgment or ability. This 10 per cent will howl and boo down any member who tries to reason with them and if the booing can't turn the trick they get chairs hurled at them. In other words, 10 per cent of the radical membership intimidate the other 90 per cent and this is the element that is doing all it can politically to abolish the injunction—the last stand between radicalism and law and order—in labor disputes.

If labor will play fair and sane there will never be an injunction!—[The Crab, October, 1928.

A Few Reasons

TUJUNGA, Oct. 14.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I wish to go on record as one of the great multitude of women whose votes will be cast in the coming Presidential election for Herbert Hoover. I am for Hoover because he stands for the things for which I stand—the sanctity of the home, the abolishment of poverty, the annihilation of the liquor traffic and a spirit of brotherhood toward other peoples of the earth.

I am for Hoover because he has been weighed in the balances and not found wanting. A man whose politics are not bounded by the "sidewalks" of any city, but are world-wide in their operations; a man who in times of great national and international stress has been called to places of highest trust, and has met the call with courage, assurance and efficiency. A man of broad vision, but with a firm grip always, on the things at hand.

MAE GUTHRIE TONGIER.

Lafayette Park

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Are you aware that a branch Public Library and four tennis courts are to be put in tiny but very beautiful Lafayette Park? Engineers already out there. Tennis courts are at the side now and never full. The people living near by have their own courts at their clubs. The library to be on Sixth will not be near cross section, only one street car, and, therefore, not easy of access to the general public. In a way isolated.

This lovely spot was given to the city for a park and is now the only quiet spot in Westlake, and as such deeply appreciated by many and the little tots.

Will you not at once use your paper to make public this great injustice? A. GRAY.

To Split the Difference

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] May I suggest we extend to the State Legislature the plan of nominating the City Councilmen by districts and electing them at large and nominate the Senators and Assemblymen by districts but also elect them at large.

I would be glad to see comment from others on the matter.

CLAUD HOLLICK.

Over Thirty!!

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] During the past few weeks I have been confronted with a situation that I have always declared did not exist in this city, namely, that good looks and youth are the only requirements necessary to obtain a position in the business world.

Through no fault of my own, I lost a good executive office position about six weeks ago and since that time have gone from office to agency and back again, only to be met with the query: "How old are you?" No question is asked as to ability, experience or education. If you are over 30, there is no place for you. From others I have now heard of experiences similar to my own.

Is this fair to the business women of education, ability and experience, who must earn their own living? Is there any way of getting in contact with positions where something else besides age is the question? If so, it would remedy a situation which is affecting numerous wage earners of ability.

WORK HORSES GOING

From 1901 to 1915 the country possessed an average of 257 horses and mules per 1000 population. From 1915 to 1925 the number dropped to 195, and on January 1, 1928 there were but 170 horses and mules per 1000 population. From 1915 to 1925 the number of tractors on farms nearly doubled, and motor trucks also came into extensive farm use. The number of work animals possessed by the United States at the present time is about 70 per cent of the normal of 1901 to 1915, and their value is about 75 per cent of the normal.

One would think that the dwindling supply of work animals would serve to bolster the price, for horses and mules are said to be useful under certain circumstances to a far greater extent than the motorized power unit. The Department of Agriculture explains, however, that motorized power units have been adapted to such a wide variety of purposes that the demand for work animals has had little effect upon their price, despite the sharp decline in numbers.

Until very recently it was asserted that the horse could not be entirely supplanted by the motorized vehicle or power unit. In certain types of work industry had experimented with trucks and tractors and found that they were not as efficient as horses.—[Washington Post.

HORSE PISTOL MADE IN 1805

H. M. Raab, collector of ancient horse pistols manufactured in the United States, recently came into possession of a weapon which was manufactured in Virginia in 1805. The weapon is said to be the oldest of its type in existence, as the oldest previous date for the style was 1865.—[Chicago Exchange.

Poly and L.A. High Clash Today at Coliseum

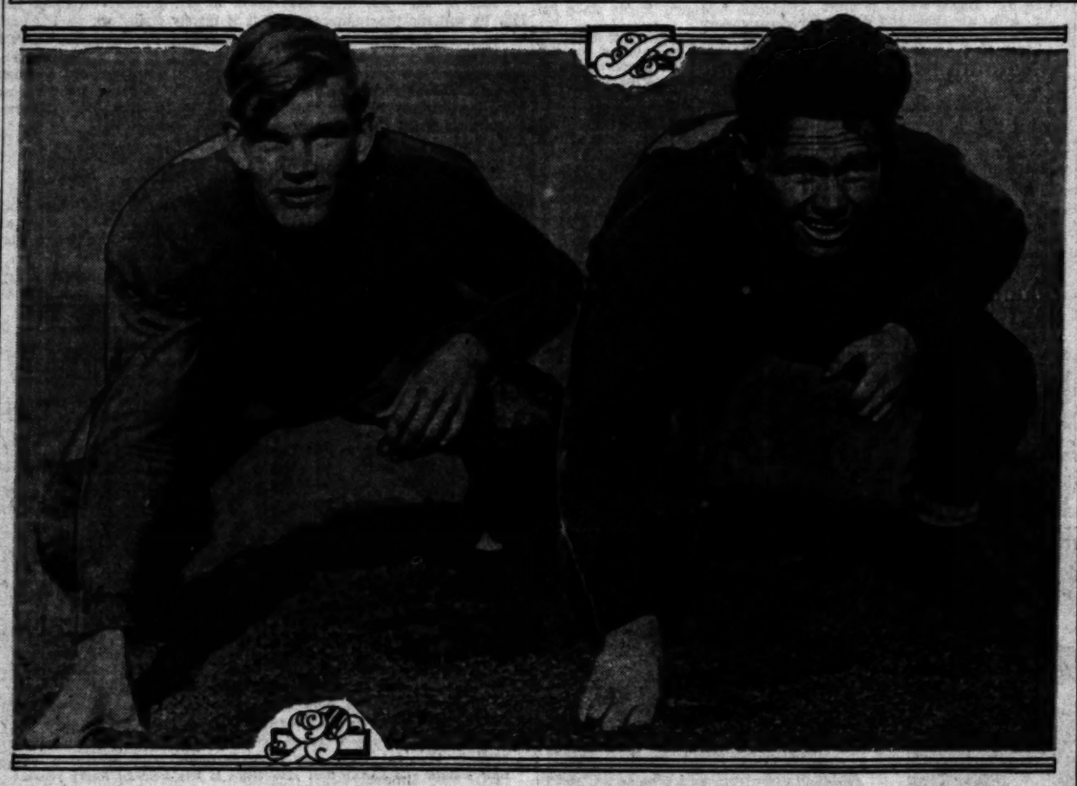
FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 19, 1928.

TROJANS IN NORTH FOR GRID TILT WITH BEARS

BIG ENOUGH TO PLAY ON ANYBODY'S TEAM

The Messrs. McCue and McComas, who play right tackle and left guard, respectively, on the Los Angeles High School eleven which meets Poly at the Coliseum this afternoon in the annual prep "big game" of the year. The game was postponed from last Friday because of the rain, but this has only intensified the natural rivalry, and the boys are 'rarin to go. Each of these tiny preps stands over six feet and weighs over 200 pounds.



Paulino Bout Postponed by Poor Weather

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—The ten-round match between Paulino Uzcudun, Spanish heavyweight, and Big Boy Peterson, of Minneapolis, at Ebbets Field, was postponed tonight because of rain. The match will be staged tomorrow night, weather permitting.

EX-SOLON PILOT TO GET JOB

Harris Said Slated for Detroit Managership as Moriarity Quits

BUCKY HARRIS

DETROIT (Mich.) Oct. 18.—Stanley Harris, for five years manager of the Washington Americans, will, in all probability succeed George Moriarity as manager of the Detroit Tigers. Moriarity resigned the managerial job at the request of the owners. He was working under a two-year contract that expired this month. As early as last July the Detroit club owners were fully decided not to renew Moriarity's contract and began casting about for a successor.

Arthur Fletcher, former manager of the Philadelphia Nationals and in recent years assistant to Manager Miller Huggins of the New York Americans, was seriously considered.

The name of Stanley Harris next came into the conferences. Harris has always wanted to come to Detroit where his first major league engagement was as an infielder.

In 1926 Harris wanted much to come here as successor to Ty Cobb but there was no chance to get his release from Griffith.

Griffith has made a number of propositions in the last two months. Early in August he offered to trade Harris to Detroit for Charlie Gehringer, second baseman. The club flatly refused this proposition. Then a few

SUNDAY PRO FOOTBALL GAMES UPHELD BY NEW YORK JUDGE

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Unchallenged professional football games in New York were given the sanction of the courts today when Supreme Court Justice Philip J. McCook refused to grant a temporary injunction to Attorney General G. D. Sylvester, restraining the New York Yankee baseball club, and Boston baseball club, managed by Judge Emil Fuchs, from playing professional football games in the baseball parks of the two clubs on Sunday afternoons.

Justice McCook's decision was rendered in the case of Thomas Hackett, Jr., a taxpayer, who brought suit to restrain the baseball clubs from playing professional football games on Sunday afternoons, charging them with a violation of the Sunday blue law in staging an American football league game last Sunday at the Yankee Stadium.

"They will be trying to take away our birthrights next," the magistrate said in refusing the order. Police received a complaint Sunday from the Lord's Day Alliance and a summons was served on the two managers and three players.

STANFORD, IDAHO CLASH

Warner to Start Powerful Backs Against Vandals in Game Today; Wilton Still on Sick List

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 18.—The "big" week-end for San Francisco football followers starts tomorrow, with the Stanford varsity meeting Idaho in Kezar Stadium, San Francisco, and continues Saturday at Berkeley, where U.S.C. and California meet.

Pop Warner and his physicians have nursed all the Cardinals into shape again, following their hurts and wounds of the last two weeks, and all will be in condition for the tough Vandal outfit, even unto Don Robesky, who suffered the shock of paternity on Tuesday.

"POP" WARNER

Warner has come into a realisation of the fact that Don "Mush" Muller is his best left end, and as a result the tall fellow, who did so well in the big game last year, will start tomorrow at Kezar. Hodge Davidson is being given a chance at right end, principally because Davidson has had to favor his knee somewhat in the week's practices. Davidson is husky and should be able to give the 196-pound Vandals a few shocks.

Practice yesterday was marked by strange actions. Pop split his teams up and had the men working in different combinations from what they are accustomed to. The purpose of this was ascribed as being to get the regulars used to playing by the sides of substitutes.

Frank "Dick" Hyland, the player-writer, was at yesterday's practice, watching his former team-mates go through their paces.

Little is known of Idaho's style of play hereabouts, and the coaches are keeping to themselves information as to what they expect. Bill Kershisnik, the 212-pound Vandal fullback, is supposed to be the peer of any ball toter in the Northwest.

FOREIGN ATHLETES IN FOUR SPORTS MAY QUIT OLYMPICS

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—The 1932 Olympic Games at Los Angeles will have to worry along without foreign competition in rowing, swimming, tennis and soccer football unless the international Olympic committee grants representation to the associations governing those sports, it was declared today by Gaston Vidal, chairman of the French Olympic committee.

M. Vidal has been in this country ten days and will return to France a week from tomorrow. The main purpose of his trip was to gather facts and figures concerning the cost of sending a French Olympic team to the Los Angeles games.

With inside developments in European sports diplomacy and intrigue this round-faced, twinkling-eyed Frenchman is on the most intimate terms. He told in picturesque English of the "what you call—struggle" now on between the international rowing, swimming, tennis and soccer associations on the one hand and the Olympic governing body on the other.

Clearly in sympathy with the associations in their demand for representations on the Olympic committee, M. Vidal referred to the latter organization as a "staff of leaders without any troops." He said the committee "just reaches out and names whom it pleases to membership without consulting the bodies governing the sports."

"My friend, Louis Canet of

SEALS SPLIT SERIES SWAG

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18. (AP)—When members of the pennant-winning San Francisco Seals started scattering toward many parts of the country today, each one had a check to remind him that he had helped capture this year's Coast League championship.

Nineteen received a full share of the $9000 prize money, amounting to $411.67. They are: Walter Ruether, Walter Mails, Elmer Jacobs, Oliver Mitchell, Dick Moody, "Buckshot" May, Holly Thurston, Hal Rhyne, Frank Crosetti, Ralph Pinelli, Gussie Suhr, Smead Jolley, Earl Averill, Roy Johnson, Joe Sprinz, Andy Vargas, Jack Reed, Manager Nick Williams and Trainer Denny Carroll.

Half-shares of $9000, amounting to $205.87 were voted to Jimmy Caveney, Deacon Jones and Jerry Donovan, while Solly Mishkin and Frank Welch, members of the team earlier in the season, were granted half shares of $6000, or $139.67 each. Andy Ferguson, secretary, was presented with a wrist watch by the players and Lou Hardy, groundskeeper, was given $200.

POMONA-U.C.L.A., OXY-WHITTIER GRID GAMES LIKELY TO HINGE ON PLAY OF RIVAL LINEMEN

BY BRAVEN DYER

Although Sunday morning papers are likely to carry tales of the exploits of several star halfbacks, two important local games scheduled for tomorrow will probably be decided by play of opposing linemen. We have reference to the Pomona - U.C.L.A. struggle at the Coliseum and the Whittier-Occidental fracas at the Pasadena Rose Bowl.

EUGENE NIXON

Last year it was the relentless fighting of the Pomona line that enabled the Sagehens to spring one of the big upsets of the season when they tied the Bruins, 7 to 7. Likewise, it was the sturdy defense of George Philbrook's forwards that smothered Occidental's line smashes and end runs, and eventually brought a 7-to-3 victory for the battling Quakers.

Howard Jones, who has the most powerful offense in football, spends 80 per cent of his practice time on his linemen. Games are won and lost down there in the middle of things where the boys battle it out with their shoulders and legs, where a second's loss in charging often means a 25-yard gain by the opposition.

HARTMAN VS. FLEMING

Take the Pomona-U.C.L.A. battle for example. Two of the best backs in the south, Poke Hartman of the Sagehens and Capt. Joe Fleming of the Bruins will be cavorting over the Coliseum greensward. Hartman,

LIONS POINT FOR SAINTS

Loyola in Stiff Scrimmage With Trojan Frosh as Tilt With Gray Fog Looms

Many ragged spots were revealed in the Loyola line in their scrimmage with the U.S.C. frosh. On defense the line was leaking like a sieve and the backfield failed to click on the offensive end.

To add to his discomfort, Coach Mike Pecarovich had one of his fastest backfield men hurt in such a way as will probably keep him out of the St. Ignatius tilt tomorrow. The injured one is Evo Pusich, who suffered a severely wrenched knee in the scrimmage.

AL HOEFFER

The one bright light that showed at all on the Lion mentor's horizon was the work of Donahue at tackle. Having been converted into a tackle this year from his old position of guard, Donahue is flashing particularly good form and looks very good at his new job. Several times he managed to break through the Trojan babes' line to smear passes and block kicks. His work on the offense also was outstanding and his speed enabled him to do some very fine interference work. He was easily the outstanding star of the frosh scrimmage.

During the two-hour scramble with Leo Calland's men, the flashy Pusich was tackled so hard that he was unable to continue playing and from the trainers' quarters comes the report that he may see action against the Gray Fog but it is very doubtful. This deals Coach Pecarovich a heavy blow as it disrupts his lighter backfield, which he was holding in reserve for use after his heavier combination had battered the opponents into submission.

The afore-mentioned scrimmage had a very disheartening effect on the morale of the Lion squad as it showed just how weak they look with a tough game literally staring them in the face.

The St. Ignatius squad arrives in town this morning and went immediately to their hotel, where they managed to let out the information that they are all set to repeat their victory

NORTHWESTERN-KENTUCKY TILT IS "BATTLE OF MARRIED MEN"

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (AP)—The Northwestern-Kentucky football game at Evanston Saturday has been termed the "battle of married men."

Three members of the Kentucky eleven, Lombard Squires, end; "Bull" Brown, tackle, and Tom Walters, guard, and Bill Calderwood, Northwestern halfback, are married and their wives are expected to watch the clash.

Calderwood helps fill the family larder by working as a policeman in Evanston when he is not in training for football.

INJURIES MAKE OUTCOME OF BIG GAME DOUBTFUL

Jones Takes Forty Players on Trip to Invade Den of Ancient Foes for Second Conference Game

The Thundering Herd of the University of Southern California, with three or four of the hoof-beats severely muted, was due to arrive in Berkeley today, where tomorrow the Trojans will hook up with California's Golden Bears. While 4000 students and fans cheered a thunderous farewell, the Herd boarded the Padre here last night, and prepared to get what sleep it could while anxiously awaiting the battle.

Just what sort of a starting line-up Coach Howard Jones would send against the Bears was as much a mystery as what line-up Coach "Nibs" Price would send against the Trojans. Both mentors resorted to secret practice early this week, and not so much as a whisper has leaked out of either camp to lend authenticity to the many rumors which are rampant.

JESSE HIBBS

The Trojan management is doing things a la Chicago in this particular instance, and no less than four of the varsity squad are being "taken for a ride." However, the quartet are Harry Edelson, Charley Boren, Lowry McCaslin, and John Porter, who have more or less earned the trip. The four will sit on the players' bench in Memorial Stadium, but that is as far as they'll ever get. Three of them are walking with canes, and Porter's left leg is in a cast. And that lets them out!

EXPECT SHIFTS

When Jones calls secret practice, something usually happens of a radical and distinctive nature. So don't be surprised if you find Don Williams playing center or Jess

California Mentor Not a Bit Gloomy on Eve of Trojan Struggle

BY ED R. HUGHES

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Nibs Price, head football coach at California, is battling with the flu while he is trying to get the Bears in shape to battle S.C. at Memorial Stadium Saturday afternoon.

NIBS PRICE

Price stays in bed every afternoon until it is time to go out to practice. But the little coach is as game as they come and he has been on the job every day, even when he was pretty sick. The Bears tomorrow will have their last practice before the S.C. game and after practice they will go to the Castlewood Country Club to rest. Price wants to get

Jackie Carr Tackles Farmer Joe Cooper at Hollywood Tonight

WELTERWEIGHTS IN RING CLASH

Glendale Youngster Battles Veteran in Main Go

Jackie Mandell Will Tangle With Ray McIntyre

Harry Beum-Buck Walters Also on Legion Bill

BY KAY OWE

Jackie Carr of Glendale makes his third main event start tonight. In the other tries he won a fight and lost one. Carr is favored to beat Farmer Joe Cooper tonight but this is one of those bouts where the short-ender stands a fine chance of copping the decision. The best fight of his life was when Jackie Carr beat Mushy Callahan, world's junior welterweight champion, and then again Jackie didn't win any medals the night Johnny Lamar gave him a shellacking.

The fight with Mushy Callahan showed that Carr has the stuff and if he uses his head as well as his arms and feet he can beat fellows like Farmer Joe Cooper. Some of the boys believe that should Cooper take the play away from Carr and use his right hand effectively he can win. Carr is a southpaw fighter and it takes a boy who is experienced to fight a southpaw successfully. Mushy Callahan didn't know how to counter with his right hand and he lost a fight. Johnny Lamar could counter with his right when Carr let his left fly and Lamar didn't have much trouble winning. Farmer Joe Cooper has fought in Madison Square Garden, New York, and has been a top-notcher for a long time. His experience should be of some value when he meets Carr tonight.

The main event is just one bout on an all-star card. The semi-wind-up is a match that is very apt to steal the show. Jackie Mandell and Ray McIntyre are among the best bantamweights fighting in the preliminaries at the big clubs. Mandell hasn't lost a fight this year and he has a six-round draw at Hollywood with McIntyre. These boys are very fast and exceptionally good punchers for little fellows. The bout may wind up a draw but if there should be an edge Mandell should have it.

George Blake will send Harry Beum to the post tonight in his first Hollywood start. Beum recently turned professional and when he fights Russell Walters he meets a very tough foe. Blake wouldn't have taken this match if he didn't think that Beum could beat Walters. This pair of heavyweights are kayo artists and either has a chance of landing a kayo during the fight. Many believe Beum should cop.

The four-rounders are Frankie Aragon meeting Vincent Martinez in the second spot and Roy Rodrigues opening the show with Jimmy Petress.

Quigley on Way to Japan

ST. MARY'S (Kan.) Oct. 18. (AP)—The booming voice of Ernest C. Quigley will be missing from the nation's gridirons this fall.

The National League baseball umpire, whose services also are in demand in many intersectional football games and on the basketball courts, is en route to Japan, where he will referee a dozen baseball games, five of which are to be played incident to the coronation ceremonies for the new Emperor.

CITY LEAGUERS OPEN CAMPAIGN

dynamic triple-threat man, Red Houck, a speed merchant de luxe, Reed and either Baum or Lindgren will complete the ball-lugging quartet. Speed and a passing attack will be the forte of the Roman offense. Ridderhof may make one change in his previously announced starting line, Gets, who was originally planned to start at quarter, being shifted to the left-end berth in place of Crawford.

The Poly backfield's ace is Capt. Jimmy Young, who also holds forth at the signal-warbling job. Young, like Owens, is a triple-threat individual and a shifty, hard-hitting, ball-packer, Franny Klifell, who will be able to match Houck for speed, and Dalton will be in at the halfback positions, while McBride is expected to start at full.

Both Poly and L. A. High report that their squads are in perfect shape for the clash, which will start at 3 o'clock, the week's postponement caused by last Friday's rain having given all the cripples time to mend.

Manual Arts, with a husky as well as speedy eleven, is favored to topple Hollywood, but the Foothillers certainly won't prove any doormats, and you can bank on that. Capt. Laurie Vejar, all-city half last year, is Hollywood's chief scoring threat, while Capt. Hugh Towle and Chuck Gabriels are Manual's best ground gainers.

Lincoln, considered a strong contender for the title, figures to win over Jefferson because of its heavier squad and a flashy aerial attack. In Lee Swede and Redmond, Bates has two accurate passers, while Theo Brown, lanky, dusky end, has proven himself as a good receiver in practice games this fall. Ed Moss, at full for the Hallpitters, is another capable North Broadway back.

Jefferson's chances improved with the return of Capt. Jim Morrish to the line and Herb Cirino to the backfield. The Democrats have several dangerous open-field runners, notably Creecy and Cirino, but whether they'll be able to get in the clear is something else again. Ossie Gallardo will take care of the Democrat passing attack capably.

FIELDS TO START WORK

Jackie Will Train at Main Street A.C. for Bout With Baker at Wrigley Field

Jackie Fields will open training at the Main-street gymnasium today for his ten-round bout with Sergt. Sammy Baker at Wrigley Field on October 30. The Jewish welterweight has spent the past week at the springs.

William Rooney, his manager, yesterday posted a certified check for $1000 with the boxing commission as Jackie's weight forfeit for the big bout. Baker will be required to post a like amount on his arrival next week.

ARE WELTERS

Fields and Baker are meeting at 147 pounds, the welterweight limit. Jackie weighed 145½ when he defeated Jack Thompson in San Francisco two weeks ago. Thompson scaled 144.

The first installment of sparring partners Fields will use are to be heavy welters or middleweights. Jackie wants to start off with punches and boxers who will make him strong.

Next week Rooney said he would mix up the help and use both fast and slow fellows against Jackie for his training. Both Fields and Baker boxes Joe Simonich tonight in San Francisco and will come to Los Angeles Sunday morning. He should be in good shape as he fought Young Corbett twice recently in New York and stopped Pete August in Texas a few nights ago.

IN GOOD SHAPE

Neither Fields nor Baker will need as much tuning up as fighters some time have to get. Jackie has been boxing on an average of nearly twice a month for his last ten fights.

Charles Traung, Chairman of the California ring body, recognized Thompson as the welter champion after he stopped Joe Dundee in Chicago, and now Fields since his recent victory.

The Olympic announced definitely yesterday that the tickets for the Wrigley ball park show would go on sale at 9 o'clock next Monday morning.

RABBIT PUNCHES

PAUL LOWREY

UP TO THE GLADIATORS

THERE is nothing left to the California-U.S.C. football game but conjecture and the commencement of hostilities at Berkeley tomorrow afternoon. The rival coaches—the Messrs. Howard Jones and Nibs Price—became so secretive early in the week over the goings-on of their boys that they barred the gates to all, revoked secret passes and issued no bulletins. This leaves the press boys out on a limb with nothing but their own ideas to fall back on, so between now and game time both Mr. Jones's eleven and Mr. Price's eleven will probably see several startling changes in the opening line-ups.

However, there is little reason to suspect that Mr. Price will offer much difference in the way of switches, for the simple reason that it is rather late in the day to try experiments with a veteran combination that is sound of limb and body. In the case of Mr. Jones it seems that some of his boys have been so pink-pilled by a top-heavy medical staff that some of them can't play, and it therefore is necessary to use replacements.

And as there has been some doubt in Mr. Jones's own mind just how he will use the reinforcements it is merely guesswork on the part of the press boys how he will start them against the Bears. In the old days before they had any medical staff at U.S.C. it was not an uncommon sight to see crippled athletes suddenly rise to life on the occasion of an important game and play their heads off. However, for the time being it seems that Edelson in the backfield, McCaslin at end and Boren at running guard are definitely out of the picture.

TROJANS ARE FAVORITES

THEY can't walk without canes, and that means they can't run. Football players in this condition are about as useful to a coach as another gray hair, so it appears likely, unless the miraculous occurs, that some of the reserves will get the chance of their young lives.

However, I find myself unable to shed a tear for the Trojan cause. The Bears have just about the same team they had last year, and so have the Trojans. The exceptions are few in each case.

The Trojans won, 13 to 6, last year, and the score failed to indicate the real margin of superiority. The Bears have shown greater offensive power this year, but not in the proportion that the Trojans have improved. For no reason at all the Bears were favorites last year. This year the Trojans are the favorites—and rightly so. Favorites don't always win, but that's about the only salvation I can see for the Bears tomorrow.

And in this respect I have the moral support of Phil Wilson, an old Stanford man who gets a lot of his dope from Dink Templeton. "Can't see California at all," he said in front of the L.A.A.C. yesterday. "The Trojans should win by two or three touchdowns."

WOODS ON THE JOB

STATE ATHLETIC COMMISSIONER JAMES WOODS, back from a five-week business trip in the East, had time to see one world's series baseball game and one fight.

The ball game wasn't much, he said, because the Yanks got right in front and there wasn't anything to the fracas from then on.

The scrap in which Andre Routis wrested the featherweight title from Tony Canzoneri was a dandy, he declared.

The commissioner says Routis is one of those persevering young souls who never stops boring in. After being floored early in the fight and on the verge of quick defeat the Frenchman came back to take the play away from Canzoneri and wrest for his native land one of the first ring titles it has held in many years.

BEANS REARDON SPOUTS

FURTHER comment on the world series is furnished by Beans Reardon, native umpire de luxe, who worked the Chicago city series and explains St. Louis being 2-1 favorites over the New York Yanks before the series opened.

"Say," he said, "the Cardinals had to be favorites before the series started. You couldn't see the two teams play without picking 'em.

"I was sure Clarence Mitchell and Willie Sherdel would beat the Yanks, and I still believe it, had McKechnie handled his pitchers right."

Reardon returned from the East a few days ago.

PRICE THINKS BEARS TO WIN

them away from the campus so they can rest without being bothered by the students and the dear old alumni.

Usually a football coach on the eve of an important game is chary about predicting a victory for his team. Some of them get mighty gloomy and can see nothing but disaster. But Nibs is different about this game. He says he has a hunch that the Bears will furnish a big surprise by winning. He is sure of one thing, he says, and that is the Bears will win if they have it in them to do it, for he says their mental attitude is first class.

S.C. had Drury and Don Williams both in the line-up at the same time against California last year, yet won the game by a score of only 13 to 0. Price is sure the Bears are better now than they were then, and Drury is no longer with the Trojans.

Like all the players and coaches who have seen Williams play, Price praises him highly, but he thinks if the Bears can stop Williams much of the fire of the Trojan attack will be drawn.

The Bears have looked steady on defense, and, barring some bad breaks, they will not be easy to score on. The kicking and passing of Lom have been good all year and he looks much improved as a ball carrier. Eisan is as good as any safety man in the West, and he is a threat any time he gets hold of the ball.

Capt. Phillips, Avery, Norton and Brown, are big, fast, powerful ends and they should be able to cover Lom's kicks and prevent any long run-backs.

Fitz is an improved tackle. He has been suffering from the flu, but he will probably play. Bancroft, at the other tackle, is new at the job, but is learning fast. Reigals will likely start at center. Miller, another center, has been sick, but he will be ready, if needed.

The backfield starters will probably be Eisan at quarter, Lom and Barr at halfbacks and Schmidt at fullback. There are plenty of reserve backfield men at California, so there will be no excuse for letting the play slow down.

BETTENCOURT COACHES ST. MARY'S FRESHMEN

MORAGA (Cal.) Oct. 18. (AP)—Larry Bettencourt, captain and all-American center of last year's St. Mary's College team, today was appointed one of the freshman football coaches at his alma mater. He will work with Louis "Dutch" Conlan in directing the first-year men.

of last year. They brought with them a squad of thirty-three men, who are all tried and seasoned veterans after their overwhelming victories over Nevada State and Fresno State. These two teams, reckoned as being very strong in their respective sectors, went down to defeat before the fast, powerful Gray Fog team.

The northerners bring with them a reputation of being a very powerful team with a variation of backfield material that makes of them a constant threat either on straight football or via the aerial game. Kleckner has shown particularly well in the recent games, his bulk and speed proving very instrumental in the Fog's recent victories.

SAY HARRIS TO MANAGE TIGERS

weeks later Griffith offered Harris and Oswald Bluege for Gehringer. This proposition was also turned down.

In the meantime Harris and Griffith conferred about the player's future and Harris was told that he could have his release from his managerial contract. If Harris's release from the playing contract can be secured he will sign as manager of the Tigers.

Donie Bush, former star of the Tiger short field, and for the last two years, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League, is also being considered as a candidate, but it is reported that President Dreyfuss insists on retaining him as the Pirate manager and does not consider him as a candidate for the Tiger job.

COMPTON MIDGETS DEFEAT INGLEWOOD

Compton lightweights defeated Inglewood, 12 to 0, on the Compton Field yesterday, thanks to the alert playing of Neel and Schelelbaum, the two ends. Neel intercepted a pass and ran 50 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter, and in the fourth period his fellow-wingman blocked a punt, and fell on it for a touchdown. The line-ups:

HEAVY DATE!

GOING to strut your stuff for the one and only? Then make it a deckle-edge evening. Show some genius when you order. Get Imported Isuan, from the Philippines!

A connoisseur's ginger ale, Isuan. Made of fresh limes and fresh ginger, blended in exhilarating water from the famous volcanic Isuan Spring. Such smoothness is found only in Isuan, bottled in the thirsty tropics where limes develop full-ripe tang, where ginger is captured young and tender. A zestful drink that helps you start tomorrow without regretting tonight.

Just say "Imported Isuan" to the maitre d'hotel and note the worshipful look in your heavy date's eyes. For home use, there's the Isuan 12, a handy carton that grocers and druggists promptly deliver.

In Manila they say "E-SWAN"

Important Football Games Throughout East Tomorrow

RIVAL QUARTERBACKS

TROJANS ARRIVE IN NORTH

Hibbs at fullback. Of course, those things won't happen, but something just as radical may be the case. On last reports, Tony Steponovitch was slated to take over the running-guard duties left vacant by Boren and Porter. Antonio, a made-over end, is heavy, fast and experienced at running interference. That's exactly what Jones needs, for, with Edelson, Boren and McCaslin on the sidelines, three members of that four-man-interfrence group are sadly missing.

Capt. Jess Hibbs is back in the Walls of Troy again, and the tumult and the shouting refuse to die down. Hibbs hasn't looked like an all-American tackle yet this year, but loyal Trojan followers are counting on their energetic captain to get under way against the Bears.

Consider the backfield, if the kaleidoscope will stand still long enough. One combination that is sure to see service includes "Dynamic Don" Williams at quarter and Russ Saunders and Lloyd Thomas at halfbacks. Almost anybody can play fullback. It may be Bert Ritchey, now recovered from the injured knee that slowed him up in the St. Mary's contest, or it may be Tommy Wilcox of the ill-fated Wilcox brothers, who are invariably running into tough luck, or it may be Herschel Bonham, who scored a touchdown against St. Mary's on a spin play.

Then, again, Jones may elect to start Thomas at quarterback, and save Williams until the critical moment. In this case, Saunders still will occupy one-half berth, with Marger Apsit at the other, and any one of the numerous fullbacks to fill in. Jones can use a backfield of Williams, Thomas, Apsit and Saunders, if he so desires, using the latter as a fullback, where he was tried early in the season.

Jones's squad includes twenty-three linesmen and seventeen backs. It is split up as follows: Ends, McCaslin, Tappaan, Durkee, Kreiger, R. Wilcox; tackles, Hibbs, Anthony, Bond, Hoff, Seitz, Shaw and Ward; guards, Boren, Baldridge, Deranian, Gowder, Galloway, Porter, Steponovitch and Winfield; centers, Barragar, McCabe, Templeton; quarterbacks, Williams, Duffield, Kemp; halfbacks, Saunders, Thomas, Apsit, Laisne, Mortenson, Norton, Edelson; fullbacks, Ritchey, Bonham, Ford, Hill, Snider and T. Wilcox.

The team will stay at the Mt. Diablo Country Club, and will work out sometime today. Coach Howard Jones, and most of the coaching staff will attend the Stanford-Idaho game today, but the team will be kept away from the scene of action.

Loyal Trojan rooters, to the number of more than 5000 are to follow the team north today. Five special trains from the Southern Pacific station, two boatloads from San Pedro, four passenger airplanes and innumerable private ones, and every workable automobile on the campus will haul the host north.

RIIS VIKINGS UPSET TORRANCE GRIDDERS

Piling up an early margin that was too much for Torrance to overcome with a desperate fourth-quarter rally, Coach Bill Heath's Riis High Vikings defeated the Torch Bearers, 20 to 13, in a Marine League game played yesterday on the victors' turf.

The Vikings scored in each of the first three quarters, Gradnedo, Brown and Williams carting the pigskin over for touchdowns. Brown converted twice for Riis, one being allowed when Torrance was offside. Both Torrance touchdowns came in the final period and were made by Al Pennington, the last score on a pass from Clark for the final play of the game. Harder converted one of the Torch Bearer touchdowns.

Gradnedo and Pennington were the outstanding stars on offense. Line-ups:

LINEMEN MAY DECIDE GAMES

with his snaky hips and change of pace, is a whirling dervish, once through the line of scrimmage. The best time to stop him is before he gets under way. The same goes for Fleming, only that Joe runs more straight-ahead than his rival. Last year Fleming, on a long, thrilling run, scored the lone Bruin touchdown of the day. Of course, each team has other backs, but half the battle will be won for the Bruins if they can stop Hartman and the Sagehens will be well on the way to victory if they are capable of holding Fleming in check.

As for Whittier, the Poets boast three of the fleetest backs in the country in dusky Nathaniel George, Dink Walker and Payne. George and Payne are sprinters of note, while Walker, although not a track man, fairly radiates rapidity on the gridiron.

The best time for Occidental to stop George is before he gets to the line of scrimmage. Once Philbrook gets this colored flash out into the open there will be nobody to catch him. It will be surprising indeed if the Whittier mentor has not developed some plays specially designed to get George into the wide-open spaces.

Occidental has a powerful running attack featuring almost as much interference as is afforded the ball carriers performing under the Trojan banner. Coach Eddie Kienholz has four very competent backs in the Schweizer brothers, Roselle and Capt. Eberhardt. The Whittier line is a cinch to take a terrific pounding, regardless of whether the Poets are able to stop the Tiger attack or not.

Analyzing Whittier's chances tomorrow it appears that there are three points very much in favor of the Poets. They are the punting of Capt. Willard Weaver, the open-field running of George and the knowledge that the team beat Oxy last year and can probably do it again. Weaver is the longest kicker in the south, barring none, and if the Poets have to resort to a punting game the Quaker captain should have quite an edge on Roselle or Schweizer.

Occidental's strong points may be summed up as a veteran team, bringing with it cohesion and great drive, plus smart defensive work; superiority in reserve material; and a dogged determination to get revenge for that 1927 defeat.

Pomona's assets, in addition to Hartman, are: (1) Eugene Nixon, one of the smartest coaches in the country; (2) psychological advantage of being the underdogs; (3) knowledge that they tied the Bruis last year, coupled with the intention of bettering that record this time.

On the other side of the ledger the Bruins have (1) Joe Fleming; (2) superior reserve strength; Nixon has a first team and a few subs; Spauling has several teams and plenty of subs; (3) graduation into the Pacific Coast Conference, which should bring a certain amount of confidence, not cockiness, and enable the Bruins to weather tough going and win out over a smaller institution.

Trojan followers who can't go north for the big game at Berkeley can get all the details of the northern struggle while attending either the Coliseum or Rose Bowl game, for arrangements have been made to give fans brief bulletins on the progress of the California-Southern California encounter.

HOCKEY DEAL GOES THROUGH

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—A sensational hockey trade announced today brought John Ross Roach, goal tender of the Toronto Leafs, to the New York rangers in exchange for Lorne Chabot, the New York goalie, and a bonus said to approximate $10,000.

PREPS TANGLE TODAY

Eight Southland Football Loops Scheduled to Play This Afternoon

All over the Southland today prep football hopefuls will take the field in mortal combat. Eight leagues have games scheduled for this afternoon. In Los Angeles proper the Minor City League starts play while in the outskirts the Marine League has three games on tap. The other circuits are, the Bay League, Coast League, San Gabriel Citrus Belt, Tri-County, and the Orange county loops.

The feature game in the Minor City League will find the Roosevelt Rough Riders entertaining the Fairfax Colonials. The outcome is about a toss-up. The two other contests on tap are; Belmont at Garfield and Harding at Fremont.

Belmont is in for a tough afternoon not only because of the ability of the Garfield squad, but also because two of their best players, Barton and Sabey both first-string ends, will be out of the contest. Sabey is out for the entire season via the flunk out route, while Barton developed a bad case of blood poisoning in a cut over his right eye and also broke a finger in a scrimmage Wednesday night.

A new public addressing system for Roosevelt High School's football games will be used today for the first time, during the Fairfax-Roosevelt game.

Similar to the announcing system used at the Los Angeles Coliseum but not so extensive, the play-by-play account through the loud-speakers will mark a decided departure from the usual football games of the minor city schools.

Horns located on the grand stand will amplify the voice 50,200 times allowing it to be heard over 400 yards away recent tests showed. Reporters of the games will be stationed on the side lines where they will telephone their accounts to the announcer who will repeat them to the spectators. A special feature of the new system allows for the broadcasting of phonograph and radio music during intermissions.

FIRE LADDIES DID NOT PLAY AT OMAHA

There was no football game between the Los Angeles Fire Department team and the Omaha department on the 14th inst., as planned, according to information furnished the Fire Commission yesterday. Weather conditions prohibited the match. The local team has reached New York to play the fire department there Sunday. The game will be broadcast over KFWB, it was announced.

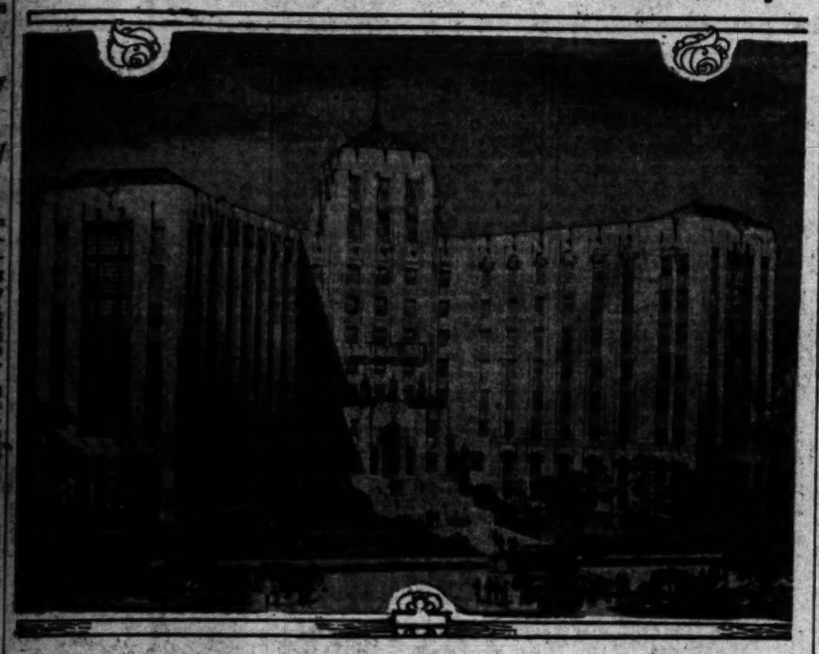
NEW LOS ANGELES HOSPITAL CERTAIN

Kaspare Cohn Authorities Take Definite Action on Project



Architect's Drawing of Institution

BY ACTION taken yesterday at a meeting of the board of trustees of the Kaspare Cohn Hospital, Los Angeles Jewry is assured the completion within the year 1929 of a hospital which will equal any now in the United States.

Acting upon the recommendation of the building committee, the board approved the preliminary plans for a 300-bed hospital, a school of nursing, internes' and resident physicians' quarters and an outpatient hospital, to be erected on a site acquired for the purpose on Fountain avenue between Berendo and Catalina streets.

The buildings will represent an expenditure of $1,500,000 and the acceptance of the plans, drawn by Claude Beelman, is considered one of the most important steps ever taken in philanthropic work by the local Jewish community.

Dr. Woellner is associate professor of education of the University of California at Los Angeles. John F. Dahl, Minneapolis attorney, will talk on "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." Mrs. Estelle Dyke of the Los Angeles Audubon Society, will speak on birds, and Erny Orsatti, centerfielder for the St. Louis Cardinals will tell about the world's series. Margaret Strother and Kathryn Brown, dancers, and Morris Leaf will entertain. Harold Lieberman and orchestra also will play. Mayor MacBain of Glendale presides.

NEW ANGLE IN BOY HOAX CASE NEARS

Council Committee Calls Public Meeting for Next Wednesday Afternoon

The City Council's Public Welfare Committee will hold a public hearing in the Council chamber at the City Hall next Wednesday afternoon on the proposal of Councilman Randall that the Council ask Mayor Cryer to direct the Police Commission to reopen the hearing of charges against Police Captain Jones of the Juvenile Bureau. The Police Commission on Tuesday held a hearing on charges that Capt. Jones had "railroaded" Mrs. Christine Collins, mother of the missing boy, Walter Collins, to the psychopathic ward, without cause following her refusal to identify an impostor as her missing boy. The commission exonerated Capt. Jones.

Councilman Randall announced yesterday that friends of Mrs. Collins had retained Attorney S. S. Hahn to represent her and that Attorney Hahn will be in attendance at the Council committee hearing with Mrs. Collins's witnesses who were not permitted to testify at the commission hearing. Before the hearing members of the committee will read the transcript of the testimony given at the Police Commission hearing.

A mass meeting to protest the action of the Police Commission and the Police Department heads in connection with the Collins case will be conducted at the Trinity Methodist Church, Twelfth and Flower streets, at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Rev. Gustav A. Briegleb, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, announced yesterday. Mr. Briegleb, Rev. Bob Shuler, pastor of Trinity Church, and Attorney Hahn are scheduled to speak. Mr. Briegleb said members of the Police Commissions, the City Council and Mayor Cryer will be asked to attend.

SUPPORT OF FARM-HELP MOVE URGED

Counsel for Co-operative Group Makes Talk Before Local Bar Association

Support of the farm movement by the bench and bar and defeat of amendment No. 1, which will appear on the coming November ballot were urged strongly last night by George E. Farrand, counsel for a number of co-operative farming organizations, in an address of the farm-relief problems at the monthly meeting of the Los Angeles Bar Association.

"Despite its many failures, the farm movement has been successful," the speaker said. "The farm question is a national problem, for unless the farmers are prosperous there can be no national prosperity and contentment.

"Both the bench and the bar should realize this situation, willingly give their support to thee farm movement and assist in its progress particularly by doing away with technicalities that will prove obstacles in the path of co-operative marketing attempts."

Proposed amendment No. 1, which provides for a State Legislature reapportionment by counties instead of by population statistics, would be unworkable if carried, he said. It would cause the farm movement to suffer by setting up a minority rule of its members in the State government against the opposition of the greater number of voters who are engaged in other activities, Farrand asserted. The better informed farmers do not want it passed for this reason, he concluded.

SWIM POOL RECEIPTS GROW DURING YEAR

Receipts from the seven swimming pools conducted by the Playground and Recreation Department for the fiscal year to date total $27,485.18, almost $7000 more than for the same period last year, when the total was $22,549.71, according to report by Supt. Hjelte. Receipts for a similar period in 1926 were $17,643.35.

BANKERS AID LIVE-STOCK WEEK PLAN

Increased Soil Fertility and Crop Values Regarded as Added Benefits

Leading bankers from Southern California cities are co-operating to make the third annual Christmas live-stock week, December 3 to 8, at the Los Angeles Union Stock Yards, an outstanding success, it was shown at a meeting of the bankers' committee of the organization Wednesday noon.

Need for building up a "live stock sentiment" among agriculturists in Southern California was expressed by the bankers, who see in a few head of live stock on every farm, a means of increasing the fertility of the soil and the value of Southern California crops.

The bankers are encouraging their farmer friends to attend the Christmas live stock week in order that they get first-hand knowledge of the class of live stock most desired by the meat packers. Members of the bankers' committee also indorsed the junior division of the live-stock show.

It was brought out by C. A. Cardon of the First National Bank of Whittier that Southern California citrus growers are spending from $40 to $100 per acre for fertilizer, all of which could be produced by the rancher at no cost through feeding a few head of live stock.

J. A. McNaughton, chairman of the executive committee of the show association, likened the development of the Los Angeles show to that of the International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago.

SURGEONS TRY TO SAVE BOY'S ARM

High School Football Player Seriously Hurt in Bus Accident

Surgeons at the San Pedro General Hospital last night were fighting to save the left arm of Kenneth Ross, 16-year-old Santa Monica High School football player, injured when an automobile, said to have been traveling at a reckless speed, sideswiped the bus on which Ross and his team-mates were returning home following a game with the San Pedro High School team at San Pedro.

Two other members of the team, Frank Mirata of 5001 Twenty-fourth street, Santa Monica, and Dayton Pearson, 648 Pier avenue, Ocean Park, were cut severely by flying glass, but were able to leave the hospital after getting their wounds dressed.

Ross, whose home address is 717 Raymond street, Santa Monica, was riding with his arm out of the window, when a car coming from the opposite direction suddenly swerved toward the bus, the rear end crushing the boy's arm against the side of the bus, almost tearing it off at the shoulder. The driver of the car did not stop, and in the excitement no one was able to get the number of his machine, described as an "old model, dirty-blue, Cadillac sedan."

The accident occurred at 5:30 p.m., just north of San Pedro on San Pedro Road, near Channel street. Ross and the two boys injured by flying glass were removed to the San Pedro General Hospital. Last night, Dr. A. J. Langan, the surgeon who attended Ross, declared there is a possible chance of saving the boy's arm.

Auto Seriously Hurts Woman

Mrs. Dorothy Rollett, 76 years of age, of 3361 East Fifth street, was injured probably fatally last night when she was struck down by an automobile at the intersection of Indiana and Fifth street, according to police reports. The woman was struck by a machine driven by W. R. Stewart of 3492 East Fourth street, investigating officers say.

She was treated at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for a pelvic fracture, possible broken ribs and a deep scalp laceration and removed to the Angelus Hospital. She is in a critical condition, surgeons say.

Park Men Will Make Survey of Beach Grounds

Maj. Frederick Russell Burnham and Henry W. O'Melveny, Southern California members of the State Park Commission, on Monday will inspect beaches of Orange and San Diego counties which have been proposed as sites for State parks, it was announced yesterday by Frederick Law Olmsted, park and city planning expert who is making a survey of 300 sites offered the commission.

The commissioners will be accompanied by Mr. Olmsted, Gilbert Stutt, superintendent of Pasadena city parks, and C. J. S. Williamson, executive secretary of the Southern California committee for the $6,000,000 State park bond issue which is to be voted on November 6. Later the commissioners plan to inspect the Ventura, Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo county stretches of beach land which are suitable to be set aside as recreational areas.

"All sections of Southern California and of the State are being given equal consideration in the survey," said Mr. Olmsted, "and also will be given equal and fair consideration in the selection of sites for State parks if the proposed bond issue is approved."

PICTURE MAGAZINE CHANGES QUARTERS

The Motion Picture News, oldest of the film magazines, has taken quarters at the Roosevelt Hotel on the mezzanine floor. In establishing headquarters here the News joins other scribes' organizations, including the Hi-Hatters, the Wampas and the Hafco.

Anniversary Celebrated by Musical Club

The Matinee Musical Club celebrated its twentieth birthday anniversary and also the birthday of its founder, Mrs. James Henry Ballagh, at the annual fall luncheon of the club, which was held yesterday in the fiesta room of the Ambassador with the re-elected president of the club, Mrs. Paul G. Heydenreich, presiding.

The honor guests, who numbered prominent musicians of the Southland, past presidents, charter and honorary members of the organization, and others widely known in musical circles, included Mmes. Carrie Jacobs Bond, Leiland Atherton Irish, Ellen Beach Yaw, Gertrude Ross, Marshall Stookey Anderson, Samuel A. Selover, S. T. Clover, Louis H. Jacques, Sturkow-Ryder, Fannie Dillon, Dr. Frank Nagel, L. E. Behymer, Hague Kinsey, Walter Nubling, J. T. Fitzgerald, Harley Hamilton, Allen Walker, Isabelle Morse Jones, Marie Carlo, Edna L. Shaw, Helen Gurley and Vivian Willetta.

Musical numbers were contributed by Fannie Dillon, who was heard in a group of original piano compositions; Lois Chambers, soprano, and Mme. Sturkow-Ryder, pianist.

EXPOSITION PARK MAINTAINS LEAD

Attendance at the Exposition Park playground continues to lead all of the thirty-seven playgrounds in the city, according to figures presented by Supt. Hjelte to the Playground and Recreation Commission yesterday. The total for the park was 1114 for the week ending October 14, while the total for all playgrounds was 13,548.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsilitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bed-time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.

Olive and Palm Oils

The basis of a true complexion soap to use with make-up

Daily cleansing Nature's absolute rule if the charm of natural loveliness is to be yours.

HERE is the beauty method millions practice every night before bed to gain the charm of natural loveliness.

It starts with complete and proper removal of the make-up—the grime and grease exuded from the pores—at least once daily.

Massage your face with the abundant lather of olive and palm oils as found in Palmolive Soap. It is a soap made for beauty, nothing else. And no other soap combines, in scientific blend, these beautifying oils.

Spend several minutes at your basin doing this. Use your two hands—that's Nature's way. The creamy, soothing lather thoroughly penetrates each tiny pore—gently releases their accumulation of soil and powder and rouge.

Then rinse your face carefully, first with warm water, then cold. And pat the skin with a soft towel until it's dry. A dab of cold cream to ward off dryness is the last touch. That is all, but it's Nature's way to that schoolgirl complexion.

Just be sure you get Palmolive—that's important. 10c a cake, anywhere. Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co., Chicago, Illinois.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Formal announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Sutton of 1408 South Wilton Place of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Geraldine Godfrey Sutton, to James F. Gardenhire, son of Col. and Mrs. William C. Gardenhire of Riverside, the wedding to be an event early in 1929.

Miss Sutton was a student at Marlborough School, although she has not been graduated, and this summer she visited for six months with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. West, at their Riverside home while her parents traveled abroad.

She will be in Riverside for some weeks, but the wedding will take place here.

Young Gardenhire is an alumnus of the University of Illinois, and after the wedding trip he will take his bride to Riverside to make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutton, with the latter's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McD. Courtney (May Ridgeway,) of Hongkong, China, have been traveling abroad for six months, and during their visits were guests in London of Mr. Courtney's relatives and also visited Mr. Sutton's relatives in the Isle of Jersey.

The Suttons returned home Wednesday, but Mr. and Mrs. Courtney stayed in New York City. Mrs. Courtney will return to Los Angeles in a month, while Mr. Courtney will return here for the Christmas holidays and early in the new year he and Mrs. Courtney will sail from San Francisco for their Hongkong home.

Housewarming Tea

Among the interesting events of the week will be the housewarming tea and informal reception with which Mr. and Mrs. Jake Proebstel (Alice Gentle,) are entertaining tomorrow afternoon and evening at their new studio home, 6302 Afton Place, Hollywood.

An interesting feature of the new home is that it formerly was a Methodist meeting-house which George Cole, son of the late Senator Cornelius Cole, had moved to Afton Place, adding bedrooms and baths, converting it into a picturesque but commodious home. He surrounded it with an exquisite garden of growing flowers and shrubs. The studio living-room is at least forty feet high, making it ideal for a music room. The decorations tomorrow afternoon will be carried out in autumn flowers in the henna, brown and vermillion shades, with ferns, and lighted by tall candles.

Assisting the hosts in the afternoon and presiding at the tea urns will be Mrs. R. D. Shepherd, Mrs. Walter Robey Simons, Mrs. Frank Roger Seaver, Mrs. Gordon B. Kaufman, Mrs. Ben. R. Brown, and Mrs. Macdowell Sharpsten. An orchestra hidden behind a screen of foliage will play during the afternoon. The hours are from 4 to 6 in the afternoon and 9 till 11 in the evening.

Luncheon-Bridge

Mrs. Frederick Albert Rose of Beverly Hills entertained yesterday in compliment to Mrs. Seth Hart, who has been passing the summer in Europe, and Mrs. Sydney G. Rounsfell of San Diego, who has been her house guest for two weeks. Fifty guests were bidden to the luncheon and bridge at the Brentwood Country Club, where a U-shaped table with elaborate floral decorations in pastel shades carried out a delicate motif. Besides the hostess and guests of honor those included were Mmes. George A. Eastman, William H. Hay, Morton Castor, Leland Atherton Irish, Frederick Holladay, Charles LeRoy Morfoot, Ralph Hagan, William R. Crowley, Adolph Ramish, Theodore Strassforth, Irene Brush, Phillip Zobelline, Edward H. Anthony, J. A. Robbins, Howard Strassforth, Florence Godfrey, John Curtis, Paul Sellew, Effie L. Jergins, Guy Douthwaith, Irving H. Dowd, Roger Miller, Willard Hindman, John J. Wilson, William Connelly, Henry C. Eugene Bottler, Jr., Edward Gromley, George H. Rector, John P. Schellein, James C. Chapman, Walter Fagen, Fred Barman, Eubert R. Holland, James F. Pike, Wilber Labry, J. O. Stokes, Charles W. Hutchinson, George Reimers, Harry Harrington, Edgar Webster, George Kress, Willard Lewis, U. T. Clotfelter, Edward Quimby, M. J. Kohler, Margy Maloney, John C. Prinsen, James McGill and Henry C. Shippee.

Denies Engagement

Morley Drury, captain of the last year's Trojan football team at University of Southern California, denies his engagement to Miss Virginia Thorpe as announced in yesterday morning's Times, and although the word came from the university, Mr. Drury denies even an acquaintance with Miss Thorpe. He has but just returned from a trip East and his engagement was reported to have been made at a formal banquet given in his honor.

For Distinguished Visitor

Mrs. Joe Crail, who is making her home at the Chapman Park, gave one of the most delightful parties of the week in the main dining-room of the hotel Wednesday. The luncheon was given in honor of Mrs. Theodore Hoover, of Palo Alto. Mrs. Hoover is State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution and is in Los Angeles visiting the southern chapters. She is the sister-in-law of Herbert Hoover, the Republican nominee for President. More than seventy guests were bidden to the luncheon. The separate tables were beautifully decorated with bright-colored blossoms carrying out the prevailing color scheme of blue and pink. During the luncheon a few charming talks were given. Mrs. Hoover is leaving the Chapman Park for the north Sunday.

Informal Affairs

Lieut. and Mrs. Lisle Henefin (Helen Starr) are entertaining informally this afternoon and evening at their new home, 419 North Oakhurst Drive, Beverly Hills, this being the first of a series of affairs Mrs. Henefin is planning for the season. Mr. and Mrs. Henefin returned recently from their wedding trip, and they will make their home in Beverly Hills until the former leaves on his new detail with the Pacific Fleet to the Orient.

For Bride-Elect

In honor of Miss Anne Summermeier who will become the bride of Elmer Caudill today, a charmingly appointed tea was given Monday afternoon by Mrs. Nona Withers, the hours being from 3 to 5 o'clock and thirty-five guests being bidden.

A pink and green color scheme was effectively carried out in the decorations of the tea table and other appointments and the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Grace Wilson, Mrs. George Perkins, Mrs. Grace Hubbell, Mrs. Florence Robertson, Mrs. Edith Lucas, Mrs. C. J. Homer and Mrs. Robert Huntzinger. Mrs. Margaret Ackerman sang several tunes accompanied at the piano by Miss Mary Hubbell who also played several numbers.

Several Affairs

In honor of Mrs. Truman Dawes (Violet Saenz-Overell) who with Mr. Dawes has just returned from their honeymoon, Mrs. Ernest A. Becker, Jr., and Mrs. Edmund Zacker entertained with a luncheon and bridge Tuesday afternoon at the Los Angeles Country Club, while Mrs. Alphonse Burnand is giving a luncheon and bridge at the Women's Athletic Club next Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Seeley Mudd, Jr., will share the honors of the afternoon with Mrs. Dawes. Mr. and Mrs. Mudd have but recently come from Boston to make their home in Beverly Hills while the Dawes have taken a house in Carthay Center.

Several other delightful affairs are being planned in honor of Mrs. Dawes by her many friends, among the hostesses of the near future being Mrs. Juan Baustin Martino and Mrs. James Clune.

To Tour the World

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Cohn and family, 270 South Windsor, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ingalese, 960 Menlo avenue, and Mrs. Augusta Burgwald, 241 South Orange Drive, are sailing from Los Angeles January 2, on the S.S. Belgenland for a six months cruise around the world.

They will sail from Los Angeles to Honolulu, Japan, China, the Philippines, Ceylon, Java, Siam, India, Egypt, Palestine, Turkey, Greece, the Mediterranean, and on arrival at Fibraltar they will tour by automobile through Spain, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Belgium, France, England and Scotland.

PROJECT GOES OVER

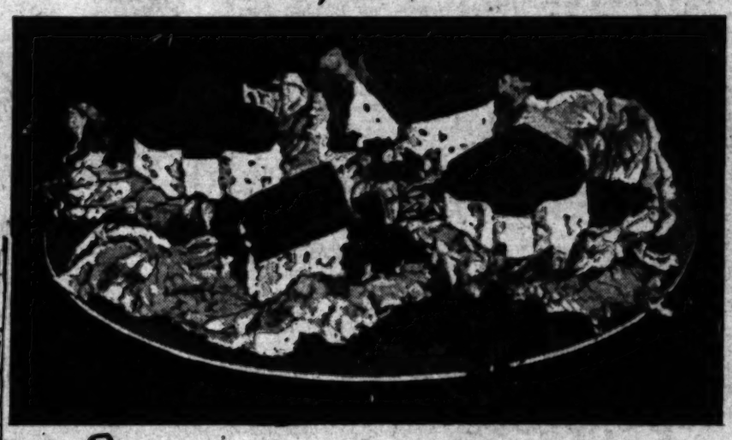
At the request of property owners who desire the improvement of Gardner street from Hollywood Boulevard to Fountain avenue, the City Council yesterday postponed for six months consideration of this project.

Prowler Caught by Householder

When a suspected burglar attempted to break into the home of Carlos Lima Jr., at 2038 East Third street early yesterday morning by climbing through a bedroom window, Lima took a hop, step and jump across the room and landed on the suspect's back, a police report stated.

Both fell in a heap outside of the house with Lima on top. The latter succeeded in maintaining his advantage until Policemen Nelson and Walund arrived in response to a neighbor's telephone call. The suspect, giving the name of Solomon Marks, 28 years of age, of 3050 East Fourth street, is held on suspicion of burglary.

Here is a novel refreshment suggestion—prepared with the creamy richness of Red Rock!



Bridge Salad

Drain juice from 1 small can crushed pineapple and add enough water to make one cup of liquid. Bring to boil and with this dissolve one package of jello. When cool, add pineapple and two cups of Red Rock Cottage Cheese, mold in square pan to depth of one inch. When set, have another package of jello dissolved with one and one-half cups of water and cooled. Color red or any other preferred color. Place this over the top of the first mixture to make a second layer about one-half inch thick. Cut with cake and sandwich cutters in shape of hearts, clubs, diamonds and spades. Serve as individual salads.

THIS simple, but different kind of salad with its basis of delicious Red Rock Cottage Cheese is an idea for bridge luncheons that will be a credit to any hostess. Delicate, creamy with flakes of pineapple through it, and bound together with lemon jello and topped with another layer of this light dessert, this Red Rock salad is one to win admiring compliments. Try it and see!

Best of all, this is one delicacy that can be enjoyed even by those who count calories for a purpose. You'll find this and other interesting Red Rock ideas in the new recipe folders. Ask your dealer for them or write us direct.

Red Rock is improved Cottage Cheese. It is light, smooth, fluffy, rich in pure sweet cream—every gallon pasteurized!

Prepared in Los Angeles by Castle Products, Inc., 773 Kohler Street.

ABDOMINAL BINDER FOR BABY

Question: L. V. P. asks: "Is it necessary to keep a band on the abdomen after the navel has healed and do you advise orange juice to be given a nursing baby or only when cow's milk is used?"

Answer: It is not usually necessary to keep a binder on a baby after the navel has healed unless the baby is having an attack of colic or severe crying that might result in a rupture. Orange juice should be added even to a nursing baby's diet, since the milk of many mothers is deficient. If the mother's diet is well balanced her milk will usually supply all that the baby requires, but even so the orange juice is a good measure of precaution. I suggest that you send for my article on the weaning and feeding of infants, inclosing a large self-addressed, stamped envelope.

REDUCING PILLS

Q.: Anna asks: "Are ... prescription tablets injurious? If not, would it be harmful to take four tablets a day? What is there in them to reduce one? If they are harmful, can you give a prescription not injurious to reduce one?"

A.: I do not recommend patented medicinal preparations in this column, but can assure you that so far as I know there are no reducing pills which are harmless. Perhaps the least harmful ones are those which are only laxative. The simple, safe plan is to reduce through diet and exercise.

THE ITCH

Q.: M. G. asks: "Will you please state how to cure itch—not eczema, but just plain, old-fashioned itch? I know of people who have been trying for almost a year to get rid of it."

A.: The true itch is caused by a microscopic insect which forms small burrows under the skin. If you had sent me your name and address on a large, stamped envelope I would have mailed you my special article on this subject outlining the best method of overcoming the trouble.

Butter Combinations

Q.: Elizabeth asks: "Should butter be used with your starch and protein combinations?"

A.: Butter is a neutral food and may be used in moderate amounts with any food.

Nervous Child

Q.: Anxious mother writes: "I have a little girl who will be 12 years old next January. She is very nervous and thin. For the last six months she has grown tall very rapidly and is pitifully thin now. What kind of diet would you prescribe for her?"

A.: Girls often make peculiar changes in their weight and shape during the adolescent period. Do not worry about a "special" diet for her, but see that she has a well balanced diet such as I recommend in my weekly menus. This is an important turning point in a girl's life and it would surely be a good plan for you to have her examined by a competent diagnostician. If he does not find her suffering from any particular disease, you can rest assured that she will start growing plumper within a few months if her meals are regular and well proportioned.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 4 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juices, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, stool and balls and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

SOME PHASES OF A COMMON BAD HABIT

Mothers often assume two attitudes toward bed wetting. One of them is that the child has "weak kidneys" and can't help it. The other is that if they can devise enough punishments, he'll eventually decide that it isn't a thing worth while to do. The constant repetition of these two ideas make them impossible to dismiss as anything but typical.

Persistent and incurable bed wetting may be due to some physical weakness, not ordinarily of the kidneys, but of the bladder. Certainly if the child is a bed wetter the doctor should make sure that there is nothing wrong that might cause it. Far more often it is due simply to habit. The habit of urinating when asleep.

This comes about naturally enough, for the small baby is not disturbed at night when he is changed and when he is older he is often carried to the toilet while he is still asleep. In fact, the mother so often assumes this responsibility that the child feels he has nothing to do about it.

WAKEN THE CHILD DURING THE NIGHT

After 3 years of age, bed wetting should stop. (Incidentally, it is no commoner among boys than girls, honors being about even.) The child from the time he normally sleeps through the night without waking, should be awakened if he wets the bed. Leave him alone if he doesn't. If the alarm is set for one hour after he goes to bed, then three hours later and then for about 2 or 3 o'clock, he will be taught to keep dry. These hours he may extend naturally, but he should be wakened sufficiently so that he knows what he is doing. If he can get out of bed himself, so much the better, and take over this responsibility early. We do not blame children for bed wetting when mothers allow them to do this for many months beyond the time when they could take care of themselves.

Also they should not be told, as they so often are, that they can't help it because they are asleep. That is not the sort of suggestion that will help them to overcome the habit. Why should they make any real effort when they have such a plausible excuse handed to them? Give them some reward for dry beds so that they make a real effort to attain them. This should not be a reward of money, but some added pleasure that they can enjoy because they are showing visible signs of growing up. Every mother can find something in the child's daily life that will be a reward for him if he learns to keep dry at night.

Be generous about slips, and praise success. The child needs all the encouragement he can get, for he is inclined to fall back easily into the attitude of: "Oh, what's the use! I can't help it."

This is only one view of this bad habit; there may be other motivating causes, but habit is so powerful, and this particular habit has been fostered for so long, that one dare not ignore it.

The LAST WORD

By ALMA WHITAKER

HORNING IN

I am becoming more and more sympathetic with celebrities—even, I mean, when they don't seem to behave quite graciously. Dash it all, the poor dears must be allowed to do something to protect themselves.

For instance, let us say a noted war general is about to visit our city. The moment the first news item appears, telephone calls begin.

"If you are going to interview Gen. So-and-So, would you be so kind as to take me with you? He is a second cousin of my friend, Jack Wilson, who served with him on the Aisne . . . "

Or, "Please tell me where he is going to stay. My father knew his father when they were boys together . . . "

Or, "I am sending you a letter addressed to the general . . . please deliver it for me. My little boy is named after him and I want the little fellow to meet his namesake . . . "

Or, "I bought a copy of the general's biography, will you have him autograph it for me?"

It's a mighty lucky celebrity who escapes this sort of thing. In one case, where a famous writer came to town, a woman wished to claim fond acquaintance because she had been a school friend of his ex-wife. Anyone who originally came from the same town as a celebrity considers that a sufficient reason for fond social recognition. The very slightest former acquaintance is regarded as sufficient to establish the most intimate social claims.

A world-famous scientist was besieged by a young insurance man here because his uncle had once been the scientist's lawyer. That young man almost had a fight with the newspaper photographer in his anxiety to get into the picture with the scientist—and he bullied me like a pickpocket when the cruel artist cut him out of the picture before it appeared in the newspaper. I, it seems, should have made it my business to see that such things did not happen.

Visiting stage celebrities are besieged by actors and actresses who "knew them when . . . "—probably played some small role in a play with them in the long ago. If the celebrity's memory is not affectionately intimate, I am confidentially assured he or she has become objectionably upstage toward "old friends."

Celebrities are expected to remember every person to whom they were introduced, at, say, a club or organization meeting . . . "Don't you remember, I met you when you were here in 1916 and spoke at our club?" is a persistent plea. And woe betide the author who once autographed a book politely for a stranger—and fails to recall him when next they meet.

A good-natured celebrity who tries to be gracious at all times and accede to the many most unreasonable requests that are hurled at him, must be a frazzled wreck at the end of a tour. There really is some excuse for a celebrity who acts a trifle snippy on some of these occasions.

And, oh, I sympathize with the celebrity who objects to being "pawed." Wherever he goes, there are always people who are pulling his coat sleeve, tapping him on the arm, digging him playfully . . . anything to capture his attention. Yet only once did I hear a celebrity openly resent this form of attention. It was a distinguished woman author . . . "For pity's sake prevent anyone pawing me about," she implored madame president at the reception after her speech . . . "It makes me feel positively murderous."

It isn't only celebrities that have an enlarged ego.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Maj.-Gen. Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff of the United States Army; Gen. John S. Hines, Gen. Frank Parker and other distinguished officers attending the tenth annual reunion of the First Division, will be guests of honor at the performance of the new "Paris-to-Bagdad" revue in the Pom Pom, Hollywood, tonight, it is announced.

Col. Harcourt Hervey, general chairman of the reunion committee, will be in charge of the party, which will also include Capt. Stanley Chapman, chairman of the reception committee; Lieut. C. N. Wakefield, president of the Southern California sector; Capt. S. D. Symes, Dr. L. W. Donat, Louis J. Canepa, Adolph Sutro, John Owen and others.

FIESTA ARRANGED

A Spanish fiesta will be given tomorrow with a program of entertainment commencing at 2 p.m. and continuing through until 10 p.m. in the Granada Shoppe and Studio Building, in Lafayette Park Place, between West Seventh street and Wilshire Boulevard, it is announced. The Old World architecture of the Granada Building with its balconies, patios and court make an ideal setting for such a celebration. Entertainers will delight the guests by singing from the balconies and a special orchestra has been engaged for the occasion. Refreshments will be served without charge in the Granada Cafe. A fashion show displaying the latest modes for fall and winter will be presented from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m.

TANGO TO BE TAUGHT

The present popularity of the tango is apparent in the Montmartre Cafe, where cinema celebrities and society debutantes place it in equal favor with the fox trot and waltz.

Realizing, however, that the tango is more intricate than the ordinary dances, Eddie Brandstatter has arranged with Claire and Ramon Cortez, the famous dancing team of Paris and London, who appear at the Montmartre on Wednesday nights, to instruct those desirous of learning.

ADDITIONS FOR VILLA

Mme. Helene, whose Rose Villa, situated where the live oaks grow in the middle of the road on Verdugo Boulevard, Flintridge, halfway between Montrose and the Flintridge Country Club, is famous for its old-world garden and its delicious teas, lunches and dinners, has planned some new and beautiful additions to her estate. Mme. Helene is building a unique studio entirely of Calabasas stone and will inaugurate a series of studio dinners there. In the meantime she has re-established the popularity of "bridge brunch," that combination of breakfast and luncheon bridge, which is the fashionable mode of entertainment now with society and cinemaland.

STARS NAMED FOR TEA

Alice Day, having consented to preside at a tea dansant tomorrow afternoon, will share honors with Sally Eilers this week-end as star hostesses in the Madrid Room of the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel.

This evening Miss Eilers will occupy the place of honor at the famous stars' round table, and will present a handsome silver cup in the dancing contest, while Miss Day will greet the film stars and the socially elite who make the Madrid Room a Saturday afternoon rendezvous. In Miss Eilers's party tonight will be Jobyna Ralston, Alice Mills, William Hawke, Richard Arlen and William Davey.

RESERVATIONS POUR IN

Reservations are pouring in thick and fast for the gigantic Halloween celebration to be staged the 31st inst. in the Cotton Club Cafe, Washington Boulevard, in Culver City, it was announced today by Proprietor Frank Sebastian.

With a seating capacity of more than 1000, Proprietor Sebastian will not only present his patrons with the largest cafe in the Southland, but also with three fine dance floors. Special added entertainment and carnival features, with dancing to 6 a.m. the next morning, will make this the biggest holiday celebration ever staged at the Cotton Club.

INDIA CAFE TO OPEN

Introducing for the first time in Los Angeles East India dinners, the Barrakhana House on Western avenue, near Tenth street, will celebrate its formal opening tomorrow evening by serving a special premiere dinner, it is announced.

Food prepared in the East Indian style is said to offer something entirely new and different in cuisine and flavor. Mrs. Grace Porter, who spent several years in East India, and Mrs. Marie Gresham are proprietors.

Actor Stricken by Auto Exhaust

George T. Hall, 37 years of age, a motion-picture actor living at 851 North Ridgewood street, was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital yesterday morning in a serious condition from carbon monoxide gas poisoning. He is expected to recover.

He was found by his mother slumped over the wheel of his automobile, which was inside the garage with the motor running and the garage door shut. Mrs. Hall called a neighbor, who summoned a physician. Upon failure of the physician to revive him Hall was taken to the hospital.

APPEALS TO BE HEARD

Appeals against the confirmation of assessments for the proposed widening of Olive street from Pico Boulevard to Twenty-third street will be heard by the City Council this morning.

Sikorsky Plane Enters Avalon Run Next Week

Western Air Express announced yesterday that the new Sikorsky amphibian sesquiplane which Art Goebel and Maj. C. C. Moseley piloted here from New York will go into regular service on the Catalina run next Wednesday.

There will be one round trip a day, departing from Vail Field at 12 noon, and alighting on the waters of Avalon Bay thirty minutes later. The return trip will be started at 4:30 p.m. The rate for the round trip has been fixed at $20, with $10 for one way.

The Sikorsky was taken from Vail Field to Avalon yesterday on its maiden flight between the two points.

Car Hangs Over Side of Bridge

A teetering motor car poised on the edge of the North Broadway bridge was all that stood between Morris Newman of 2924 North Broadway, and death yesterday afternoon. Newman's car tore through the bridge balustrade and hung half over the river bed.

According to Newman he was driving south across the bridge and had gone about half way when a car driven by Mrs. Frances O. Chavez of 107 South Utah street cut in front and forced him to swerve to the right. Newman's car tore out a section of the balustrade and was seesawing dangerously on the edge. Passers-by held it while he climbed out.

GROCERY EMPLOYEES TO FETE HALLOWEEN

Employees and friends of the Ralphs Grocery Company, Inc., are to participate in a Halloween costume dance and carnival on Tuesday evening at the California Auditorium, 1137 South Hope street. George T. Benham and Walter Hite are chairmen for the affair.

...DING YOUR CHILD

...bribe of partial immunity for herself, Helen at last gave up and turned traitor to her friends.

Both mother and teacher were quite guilty in these instances of outraging their children's ethics and undermining their morality. Tom's mother treated his promise to his friends as if it were of no consequence. Yet it is certain beyond doubt that unless the child learns that promises are binding, the man will never keep his word. He will be unworthy of trust in the serious affairs of life as he was in the matter of keeping a baseball date.

Helen's teacher cared more about finding out who stole a few cookies than she did about keeping inviolate Helen's loyalty to her group. She made the child betray the best impulses of her nature. The child whose crude loyalties are trampled on by well meaning but unimaginative grown-ups will be lacking in all the finer loyalties that life demands.

However short sighted and wrong-headed the ethics of childhood may be, we must respect them since they are the basis of the civilized ethics we expect of the man and woman.

Three Prison Terms Given Theft Suspect

Three terms of from seven years to life imprisonment in San Quentin prison were imposed upon James Lannagan yesterday by Superior Judge Fricke after he had denied the defendant's application for probation. The court made no recommendations as to whether the sentences should run concurrently or consecutively leaving this matter to the discretion of the prison board.

James Monroe, Lannagan's asserted partner in crime, was sentenced to Folsom prison by Superior Judge Edmonds September 21, last, on one charge of burglary and two charges of robbery.

The two men were accused of planning and executing many robberies in Los Angeles through the assistance of a girl.

PAVING ORDERED

The City Council yesterday ordered proceedings under the act of 1911 started for the paving of the new Roselake avenue to be opened between Temple street and Court street, the improvement to include 6-inch street pavement, curbs, sidewalks and gutters.

MAN PLUNGES TO HIS DEATH

Police Declare Case to be One of Suicide

Jumps from Fire Escape of Bank Building

Falls at Feet of Policeman on Duty

GLENDALE, Oct. 18.—Raymond S. Taylor, Los Angeles attorney and member of the advisory committee of the Bank of Italy at Eighth and Broadway, Los Angeles, leaped to his death here today from the eighth floor of the Security Bank Building, dying within half an hour after his removal to the Physicians' and Surgeons' Hospital.

Taylor crashed to earth just outside the window of the Broadway branch of the Bank of Italy here, behind which a former banking associate, W. H. Laughlin, assistant cashier of the bank, was seated at his desk. Laughlin looked at the mangled body of Taylor but was unable to identify it, and it was not until late today that he learned the real identity of the suicide victim.

Taylor formerly was a director of the Bank of America at Eighth and Broadway, Los Angeles, but when the Bank of Italy bought out the Bank of America Taylor was retained on the advisory board of the Bank of Italy.

Positive proof that Taylor contemplated suicide was found late today by Detective Lieutenant Charles P. Blake, when Taylor's parked car was discovered on East Broadway half a block from the place where Taylor leaped to his death. Inside the car was a brief case in which Blake found a note, in the form of a will, in which Taylar revealed his intention to end his life, and wound up with "No one is to blame but myself, I pray God and my wife to forgive me."

Taylor crashed to earth almost at the feet of Policeman Giddons who was speaking to police headquarters over the police telephone in the alley east of the Security Bank, and Giddons immediately ordered headquarters to send an ambulance to rush the injured man to the hospital.

The spot where Taylor landed was only a few feet from the mouth of the alley where it opened on East Broadway, and a near panic spread among the throngs of pedestrians who were drawn to the spot as he fell. Detective Lieutenant Charles P. Blake, who conducted the investigation found that all papers had been removed from the pockets of his clothes, but a clew to his identity was furnished by the label of a Los Angeles tailoring firm in his coat, and Detective A. E. Condy discovered the name Raymond S. Taylor engraved on the links of the watch chain taken from his vest.

On the reverse side of the links were the names of thirteen men, evidently those of some of his college associates, as his watch bore on its face the insignia of Delta Tau Delta, a Greek letter fraternity, of which there is a chapter at University of California in Los Angeles. Officials of the Los Angeles chapter, however, could not furnish any detailed information regarding Taylor, as he had not been identified with the organization in that city.

Dr. N. C. Paine, who dressed Taylor's injuries, stated that the left front portion of the skull was crushed in by the fall and that he had also received internal injuries.

Identification of the body was made by Dr. E. H. Schneider, a brother-in-law with offices in the Chapman Building, Los Angeles, who stated that Taylor had been feeling in poor health for the past few days but that he knew of no reason why he should attempte suicide.

Taylor leaves a wife, Mrs. Edna Taylor, who lives at their home at 4831 Dundee Drive, Los Angeles. The body is at Kiefer & Kyericks mortuary where it will remain until an inquest has been held.

INSTALL LIGHT SYSTEM

SAN GABRIEL, Oct. 18.—Ornamental lights will be installed on Las Tunas Drive from the Alhambra city limits to San Gabriel Boulevard, following action of the City Council in ordering the City Engineer to draw plans for the improvement. Only three property owners protested the work which will cost approximately $20,000. Payment will be made under a ten-year bond.

COUNCIL FROWNS ON AIRPORT

Refuse Permit to Company to Establish Landing Field and Factory

ARCADIA, Oct. 18.—Acting upon the protests of property owners, the City Council last night rejected the issuance of a permit to the Pasadena Airport and Transportation Company, who made application with the city to establish a landing field on an eighty-acre tract within the city limits of Arcadia and to erect a $1,000,000 airplane factory on a parcel of the property.

The proposed airplane industry was strongly opposed by the City Planning Commission, of which H. P. O'Callahan is chairman. According to the planners, the district in which the promoters selected is in the residential zone of the city and would necessitate rezoning of the entire district, providing the permit was granted.

At a meeting Tuesday night the commission took action in the form of a recommendation that rezoning necessary for the establishment of the field be not approved.

Under a volley of protests fired by property owners near the location of the proposed airport site and with the adverse recommendation of the commission, the Council took immediate action last night by rejecting the permit.

Protests were heard by the Council at a specially called mass meeting Tuesday night, when landowners stormed the City Hall and demanded that the Councilmen eject the petition of the company. Factions opposing the landing field pointed out that the Pasadena company had secured a one-year lease only on the property and that the agreement with the owner did not provide for an option to buy. Had the airport and factory been approved the Hall Engineering and Aircraft Construction Company planned to start immediate construction on the factory.

That the field was to have been used primarily as a landing field and for hangars for airplanes owned by fifteen Pasadena residents, was the information obtained from the Hall company by offivials.

It was learned that the project was to have been financed through Hackenthorn & Co., Pasadena.

PASADENA TO CONSIDER LEASE FOR AIR FIELD

PASADENA, Oct. 18.—An ordinance calling for bids to lease City Farm acreage for airport purposes will be submitted to the Board of City Directors next week, City Manager R. V. Orbison announced today.

Increased interest in the farm as an airport site followed Arcadia's opposition to development of an airport within that community's limits. It was learned today that a large concern which proposes to establish an airport has offered to purchase 160 acres owned by Pasadena south of Valley Boulevard, near El Monte. This property is being held at a price reported to be $3500 an acre.

City Attorney Ray C. McAllister is making a study to determine whether the proceeds from the proposed sale of this property legally may be used by Pasadena for the construction of a civic auditorium.

DEALERS INTERESTED IN COLLEGE COURSE

REDLANDS, Oct. 18.—The Realty Board of the city has decided to sponsor a class in real-estate technicalities offered by the University of Southern California. Colin McNeill, escrow officer of the Los Angeles First National Bank in Redlands, is the director. All real-estate men are being urged to take the course for there is every evidence that all will be called upon to pass an examination before long.

WOMEN ARRESTED ON FORGERY CHARGE

ALHAMBRA, Oct. 18.—Eunice Wilkes, 46 years of age, and her sister, Lena, 50, both of 2916½ Pasadena avenue, Los Angeles, are in the Alhambra jail on charges of passing worthless checks. They deny their guilt.

Three worthless checks, it is charged, were passed by the sisters at Valley Boulevard stores. They will have a hearing in Police Court Saturday.

STUDENT GOES TO MEXICO

Art Pupils to be Exchanged Between National University and Santa Barbara School

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 18.—The first definite step toward making Santa Barbara an international center for the study of art has been taken by the directors of the Santa Barbara School of Arts in establishing an exchange of scholarships with the college of arts in the National University of Mexico. Donal Hord of San Diego, student in sculpture in the Santa Barbara School of Arts has gone to Mexico City on the Santa Barbara scholarship.

A Mexico City student, probably in etching and woodblock, is expected to be sent here shortly. George MacLellan, manager of the school of the arts has just returned from Mexico City on a mission in connection with this plan. Using the interchange of schoolarships with Mexico's national university as a test of prefecting details of the plan the school of the arts expects at an early date to extend these exchanges of scholarships to other nations, probably to Japan and China next.

With the plan once in general operation it will be extended to the whole world quickly making the art student group here international in the broadest meaning of the word.

As the success of the international art school plan is proved its directors will make their campaign for endowment of the scholarships national first, and then international as the actual exchange of scholarships spreads into fields from which support will be sought. At the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Walter Erwin, chairman of the education committee, said that the Santa Barbara School of the Arts had a $5,000,000 plan to be accomplished in five years. This was explained today as a plan for founding perpetual scholarships in the international exchange plan and that $5,000,000 would be necessary to fund the scholarships.

The international art school plan interlinks itself with several gigantic plans for world friendship. The Carnegie Foundation has shown itself interested in education for friendship and international understanding and it is said, can be expected to be interested in financing the scholarship plan here. Clarence Phelps, president of the Santa Barbara State College, is working with a committee of Mexican and American educators along similar lines.

The Santa Barbara and Mexico City Rotary clubs are financing the first scholarship which is the actual beginning of an international art school for Santa Barbara.

SALVATION ARMY DROPS OUT

Cannot Operate on Budget Allowed by Officials of South Pasadena Community Chest

SOUTH PASADENA, Oct. 18.—Charging that the budget committee of the local Community Chest has cut the Salvation Army's share in the Chest to such an extent that the Army "cannot co-operate longer in the community drive," Salvation Army officials revealed today that they have withdrawn their support from the Chest.

The following statement was issued:

"The Salvation Army has been forced to withdraw from the South Pasadena Community Chest due to the fact that the budget committee has from time to time cut down the Army's budget until it is impossible for the Army to operate with such a small sum as $200.

"The Salvation Army has many friends in South Pasadena who are in touch with its activities and are willing to support us to the extent of all our needs.

"The Salvation Army fosters a girls' rescue home, orphanage, prison and nursing department, besides a training college for young men and women and general relief. South Pasadena enjoys the benefits of this welfare work."

OPEN DRIVE FOR COMMERCE CHAMBER

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 18.—Ten two-man teams of volunteer workers are in the field today in a determined drive for new members for the Garden Grove Chamber of Commerce. The drive opened yesterday, and it is the hope of the workers that fifty additions will be made to the membership.

The drive is to continue ten days, it was decided Tuesday evening at a dinner held as the opening gun in the campaign. Those composing the teams are H. A. Lake and C. S. Holt, J. G. Allen and C. S. Oertly, M. B. Allen and E. L. Arrowsmith, L. W. Schauer and E. J. Tobias, Vernon King and William Morrill, J. M. Woodsworth and F. M. Reafsnyder, J. A. Arkley and T. J. Devine, A. C. Robbins and P. N. Larson, H. E. Dugan and D. B. Baldwin and E. O. Fulsom and R. E. Geren.

COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE GOES OVER TOP

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 18.—Surpassing its quota by $1477, the San Diego county Community Chest 1929 appeal today went over its mark with a total of $261,230 at the final meeting of volunteer workers held at the American Legion hall in Balboa Park.

Starting the campaign the 8th inst. with a budget of $259,783 the volunteer workers, divided into several divisions, all under the leadership of many outstanding San Diego social, civic and philanthropic leaders have carried the message of the Community Chest through the city and county continuously ever since.

Col. Ed Fletcher, campaign chairman of the Chest appeal, declared in announcing the conclusion of the campaign, that it was the most successful in the history of the Community Chest in San Diego.

DANCER BACK TO OLD HOME IN REDLANDS

REDLANDS, Oct. 18.—Dancing under the fig and eucalptus trees in the lovely garden of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Jones, at 314 Buena Vista street, is the earliest recollection of Miss Doris Niles, internationally known dancer, who is to dance at the new high school auditorium on January 31.

Miss Niles says she can first remember dancing in that garden. Later in her childhood in Los Angeles she was always teaching little "companies" of her playmates in dances that told a story. She was later to follow that same plan in New York, when she invented dance after dance until now her repertory consists of 200 of them. Another earlier plan which she still follows is her personal conducting of each rehearsal.

CADDY MAKES HOLE IN ONE

CAHUENGA PARK, Oct. 18.—Henry Kawalec, one of the caddies at the Hollywood Country Club on Ventura Boulevard, made a visit to the Whitley Park golf course here, and in the course of a game with others, made a hole-in-one shot.

Branch School to Locate at San Clemente

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 18.—Negotiations are under way by which a branch ground and flying school of the T. C. Ryan Aeronautical Corporation of San Diego may be established in the near future at San Clemente, according to announcement today by T. C. Ryan, president of the corporation. If arrangements can be made whereby a flying field is provided, and certain other details agreed upon, the branch school in all probability will be established at San Clemente, Ryan said.

A field on a plateau north of San Clemente has been found to be suited for such a school, according to information received here. Ryan said that he has been in communication with Capt. H. H. Hammer of San Clemente, regarding the site. Hammer is a flyer who made history in trips from Spitzbergen to within 300 miles of the North Pole. The San Clemente City Council is to take the matter up at its next meeting, word here states.

GLENDORA TO MAKE WATER IMPROVEMENT

GLENDORA, Oct. 18.—Confronted with the necessity of immediate improvements in the city water system, members of the City Council will take action next week on a $20,000 bond issue, according to City Clerk Fred Long.

A survey of the condition of the present system was recently made by R. J. Moore, water superintendent, who reported to city officials. The facilities were branded as antiquated by Moore who stressed the necessity of immediate improvement.

The project would include the replacement of eight-inch riveted steel mains by twelve-inch cast iron pipes, besides the construction of a 2,000,000-gallon reservoir; drilling of two wells and the installation of two new pumps, Moore said.

PASADENA LEGION SEATS OFFICIALS

PASADENA, Oct. 18.—Installation of new officers and plans to support actively the proposed universal draft featured the regular meeting of the Legion post here, last night.

The new officers are: Commander, David J. O'Leary, Vice-Commander, Ruel L. Strand, Second Vice-Commander, Albert Engvall; Treasurer, Harry Sherwood; Adjutant, Robert M. McCurdy; Chaplain, Richard Liel, Historian, Paul H. Gray, Sergeant-at-Arms, A. I. Vener and Executive Committeemen, William W. Colton, Dr. Guy Gossard, Dr. Floyd L. Hanes, Henry D. Lyman, Arthur P. Ohrmund, retiring commander; Earl W. Stanley, Robert D. Walker and George H. White.

POLICE SHOOT TIRES OFF LIQUOR MACHINE

CALABASAS, Oct. 18.—In order to halt a youth whom they suspected was carrying liquor in a large sedan, two detectives on the Ventura Boulevard State highway were forced to shoot the tires off the car. When the machine stopped they arrested Joe Lewis, 29 years of age, and confiscated twenty-five five-gallon cans of alcohol. Lewis lives in Los Angeles. He said he had brought the liquor down from San Francisco. The rear seat had been taken out of the sedan to make room for the cans, which were covered with apples.

WHITTIER, Oct. 18. Fifteen of the organizations on the campus at Whittier College are uniting to present "the greatest show on earth" at Wardman gymnasium Friday evening, following the big rally for the Whittier-Occidental football game, which is to be held at the Rose Bowl, Pasadena, Saturday.

The big circus is sponsored by the Associated Women Students organization, whose executive committee is composed of the Misses Gertrude Kinnear, president; Frances Brabrook, vice-president; Eleanor Patterson, secretary, and Ella Kirkeby, treasurer.

Of the various numbers, or "stunts" to be put on, the fashion show by men of the freshman class promises to be of popular, if not profound, interest, the young men very cleverly plagiarizing the cute little idiosyncrasies of the girl students.

The Franklin Society, composed of men students, will present a "crazy house," and the Women's Athletic Association will put on a Punch and Judy show. The Metaphonian Society will have a "fish pond" and the Palmer Literary Society will present a light opera. Miss Marjorie Bure will be in charge of the "main show" and Miss Gertrude Kinnear and Miss Gwendolyn Smith and many others are working to make the "circus" one of the outstanding achievements of the school year.

Another feature of interest will be the tumbling acts by the same group of athletes that won much favorable comment at the Pacific Southwest Exposition at Long Beach.

The commercial interest of the entertainment is in raising funds for the women's societies of the school, and the money thus raised will be divided among the Women Associated Students, Women's Athletic Association, Y.W.C.A., Metaphonian Society and the Palmer Society.

FATAL CROSSING SMASH

Husband Killed, Wife Badly Hurt Near Ontario

ONTARIO, Oct. 18.—With her husband lying dead in a San Bernardino mortuary, Mrs. Lyman Naugle, 65, was at death's door in San Antono Community Hospital, Upland, today, following a crossing accident at Muscat, late yesterday afternoon in which the automobile driven by Mr. Naugle was demolished by a Pacific Electric train.

Mr. and Mrs. Naugle, recently married, had been making their home with Mr. Naugle's nephew, W. E. Gwin, 907 East I street, Ontario. Mr. Naugle was well known among Southern California newspaper circles, having conducted guessing contests for merchants and newspapers for a number of years under the name Paul Pry. His age was 70 years.

He was returning to Ontario from San Bernardino at the time of the tragedy. According to witnesses, he tried to stop his automobile when he saw the approaching train, then became confused and started across the railroad tracks. The engine of his car stalled on the car tracks and the train ran into the machine, throwing it fifty feet. Mr. Naugle was thrown clear and killed instantly but his wife was caught in the wreckage and was badly mangled. It is feared today she has a fractured skull and internal injuries. Examination by X-Ray cannot be made until tomorrow.

F. Rouchleau was motorman on the train and Roy Huneley, conductor. The body was taken to San Bernardino and Mrs. Naugle was speeded to San Antonio Community Hospital.

PROMINENT RANCHER DIES AT UPLAND

UPLAND, Oct. 18.—Milton Reynolds Stewart, well-known Southern California orchardist, who had lived for years in this community, died early today in a Monrovia sanatorium, culminating an illness of the past three years.

Mr. Stewart was 36 years old and he had been prominently identified with the agricultural development of the Southland. He is survived by his widow, his father and mother Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Stewart, Upland; two daughters, two sons, one sister, Mrs. I. T. Soper of Turlock, and one brother, Harold S. Stewart Ontario.

Funeral services will be Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock, at Draper's Ontario mortuary.

HOT FIGHT FOR PLACE

Friends of Candidate Urge Council to Appoint Wayne Compton City Attorney at San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 18.—Strong pressure is being brought to bear to put through the appointment of Wayne Compton as City Attorney at next Monday's Council session, according to overtures made to one of the Councilmen, it was learned today. Plans are likely to go awry, however, because of the absence of Councilman E. H. Dowell from the city, the Councilman said.

Conferences with Councilmen have been held by Compton's supporters, it is said, and it is likely that his name will be presented Monday following action on James E. O'Keefe's resignation. With Dowell absent from the city, three votes would be necessary to put Compton in the position.

Councilmen S. P. McMullin and Frank Seifert are said to be favorable to Compton's selection. Meier and Bushie, however, are holding back, it was said, until they can consult with Dowell. This two have stood back of O'Keefe in the fight to have O'Keefe ousted. In view of O'Keefe's resignation, the Councilmen declare they are willing to consider his successor, but they do not propose to go over Dowell's head to do it, they said.

O'Keefe's resignation as City Attorney was filed with the City Clerk at 11 o'clock today. It becomes effective immediately. The resignation was filed by Attorney Phil B. Green, representing O'Keefe, he said.

Power of selecting a City Attorney may be taken from the Council when the proposed charter amendments are submitted and ratified, it developed today, when Mayor Clark said the charter committee is investigating several proposed methods of dealing with the legal department.

One of these is to make the attorneyship an elective office and is to vest his appointment in a City Manager, the Mayor said. The special charter committee is looking into the record of the City Attorney in Los Angeles, where he is voted into office by the people.

The charter committee also is considering an all-city manager plan of government, wherein the City Manager would appoint all officials including the City Attorney, the Mayor said.

Veterans to Take Interest in Civic Affairs

VENTURA, Oct. 18.—A decision to take an active interest in civic affairs was unanimously reached by the partially organized Ventura American Legion post at its second meeting here last night.

A resolution offered by W. H. Glover authorizing the appointment of committees to carry on an aggressive program of community building was voted with enthusiasm.

Talks from a group of invited city leaders welcoming the offered cooperation and applauding the organization of the new post, followed.

Among those who spoke were D. J. Reese, president of the Ventura Chamber of Commerce, Judge Malvern Dimmick, president of the Lions' Club; Melrowe Martin, superintendent of city schools; Thomas Gould, president of the high-school board; Charles Cole, boys' work leader; Roy Pinkerton, editor of the Star; Rev. Fred Trotter, chaplain of the State department of the Legion, and Charles W. Petit, county engineer and Boy Scout worker.

One of the features of the meeting was the presence of Ventura's entire remaining G.A.R. membership. These veterans, Messrs. Durley, Isham, Stuart, Smith, Adamson and Adams, were introduced and given seats of honor at the front of the hall.

Another motion resulted in holding the charter roll open for additional names until the next meeting of the post.

The formal application for a charter, accompanied by a $200 check, was being forwarded today to the State department office.

NOT SO SURE AS TO EXACT AGE

ALHAMBRA, Oct. 19.—"I'm 109 years old, young fellow, and this is the first time an officer ever laid his hands on me. How dare you?"

This was the greeting Police Officer Charles Kuhn received when he stopped Marcus Aurelius Bland in the chilly hours of early morning. The old man's silver hair streamed from under a tattered hat and a beard covered his wrinkled face. He unloosed a barrage of mule-skinner words upon the policeman as he was being led to the police station for lodging.

Today, after a warm breakfast Marcus Aurelius was in a more congenial mood. "They called me Marcus Aurelius after a great Roman general," he confided, "I've educated myself and I know all about the great men of history. I used to help the professors back in Kentucky."

"But are you really 109 years old?" he was asked. "Well, I was born in 1797." "But that would make you 131 years old," he was told.

"Well, I don't really recall my birthday. I've traveled around a lot. But I was 22 when the Civil War broke out."

So Marcus Aurelius wasn't so old after all. Only 89.

FIGHTER FINDS TROUBLE ENOUGH

ALHAMBRA, Oct. 18.—Bob Coleman, a boxer hailing from Tulsa Okla., dropped into town a few weeks ago looking for a fight. He made the acquaintance of Detective-Lieutenant Boone of the police department in his quest for fistic engagements. Boone told him he would help him find a manager. Then Coleman dropped out of sight.

This morning Boone was called to the telephone. It was Coleman. "I'm back in town," he said. "All ready to take on some good boy. Have you got a fight lined up?"

"I sure have," sad Boone. "Come on right down here and talk over the terms."

"Who is the guy I'm going to fight?" asked Coleman when he reached the police station.

"The only fight I have lined up for you is one with the judge," replied Boone as he locked the boxer up.

Police of Phoenix, Ariz., a few days ago had wired the Alhambra department to arrest Coleman on a charge of burglary.

LA HABRA TO SELL MUNICIPAL BONDS

LA HABRA, Oct. 18.—The City Council today was completing details necessary for the sale of a $5500 bond issue voted two months ago to pay off obligations incurred by the city in street improvement work.

The Council's plans for street oiling work met an impediment this week when Street Superintendent E. N. Whittemore reported that the cost will approximate 3 cents per square foot instead of 2 cents as originally estimated. The difference in cost will make it necessary for much of the improvement to be done under bonds, it is believed by the Council.

DEMOCRATS HEAR SPEAKERS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 18. Several speakers are to discuss the political issues of the Presidential campaign before the members of the Democratic Smith-Robinson Club at the meeting in the City Auditorium tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock.

The officers of the recently formed organization are R. D. Brown, president; M. L. Lansing, vice-president and Eddie Counever, treasurer.

Oil Companies Give Money to Signal Hill

SIGNAL HILL, Oct. 18.—Is there a Santa Claus?

Ask the folks of Signal Hill, diminutive but progressive little city to the north of Long Beach. For, whatever their ideas of Old Saint Nick may have been, prior to today, they are certain now that the old gentleman is very much alive.

It all came about when a check for $15,000 fluttered to the table at the meeting of the City Council. An unsigned communication explained that the oil companies operating in the Signal Hill area, realizing the advantage to the community of additional fire-fighting equipment, had contributed the money for the use of the city in purchasing a new fire engine. The communication bore the names of the various oil companies and the amounts contributed by each, these amounts being in proportion to the holdings of the companies within the city limits. The largest contribution was $5000 and the smallest was $200.

The City Council today, following acceptance of the check with many thanks, authorized the purchase of a 1000-gallon pumper and ordered advertisements for bids for the new fire-fighting apparatus.

TELLS MERCHANTS ABOUT ADVERTISING

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 18.—"Advertising takes no vacation, but the business that does not advertise may be forced to."

This is according to R. E. Smith, advertising manager of the Southern California Edison Company, who spoke on the subject of advertising at the weekly luncheon of the Newport Beach Exchange Club yesterday.

Newspapers are the best medium of advertising in the majority of cases, he said, not only because of the numbers of possible customers they reach, but also because of the mood of those possible customers.

Advising business men in the smaller as well as the larger cities to use their advertising mediums in an efficient manner, Smith said that if they did not tell their stories to the public somebody else would.

The speaker advised business men to plan their advertising campaign, spending a certain portion of their yearly turnover for it. In men's furnishings, he said, the proper percentage is 4 per cent of the annual turnover.

BOARD FAVORS LAW R

Ventura Real Estate Men Ask Council t Ordinance Forbidding Oil

VENTURA, Oct. 18.—Repeal of the ordinance prohibiting for oil within the city limits is to be asked of the Realty Board as the first step toward making parts of territory north along Ventura avenue, night at a dinner meeting of the board.

The Realty Board also appointed a committee to study the county junior college proposition and to confer with the various school boards and editors of the county on their findings, indorsed the petition of the Ventura Chamber of Commerce to the Harbor Commission for the location of a port site at Ventura, asked their vice-committee of the board to volunteer any possible assistance to the directors of the Cottage Home in its difficulty, and indorsed the action of the State board in favoring the Excess Condemnation Act, which will appear on the ballot in November as referendum No. 10.

In the discussion on annexation along Ventura avenue, two objections on the part of the voters there

GIRLS LEARN DIFFICULT FEAT

Swim Group at Y.W.C.A. Gets Lesson

Something Everyone Should Know

ONE of the most difficult feats which often has to be performed in saving a person from drowning is that of breaking the desperate grip sometimes taken on the rescuer by the drowning person.

Special attention is being devoted to this feature of life saving in the instruction being given to the swimming group of the special sports club recently organized at the Y.W.C.A. The group met last night at the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium.

Boy's Damage Suit Submitted

After hearing testimony Superior Judge Smith yesterday took under submission the lawsuit of Warren G. Oliver, 9 years of age, against D. A. Wooster asking $10,114 damages for injuries asserted to have been received when the Wooster automobile ran him down while crossing the street on his scooter.

The action was brought in the name of the boy's father and guardian, W. J. Oliver.

The accident, it was asserted, occurred June 13, 1927, at the intersection of San Fernando and Verdugo roads. He contended he suffered a broken leg and numerous cuts and bruises.

Wooster asserted that he was crossing the intersection at a cautious rate of speed; that the boy was not watching the roadway and collided with the left side of his automobile.

RETIRED RAIL LINE OFFICIAL FOUND DEAD

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—R. I. Cheatham of Norfolk, Va., retired assistant traffic manager of the Seaboard Air Line, was found dead early today in his room at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel. Mr. Cheatham, who was 66 years of age, had died during the night of heart disease, the hotel physician said.
